IN HOPES OF PEACE.

President's Envoys Address Palma.

If New Elections Shall Be Required, Cuban President Will Resign Office.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HAVANA, Sept. 19.—In the course of the conversation of the American secretaries with President Palma at the palace today Secretary Taft and Mr. Bacon subscribed to the sentiments set forth in President Roosevelt's letter, and expressed the hope that their visit would contribute to the establishment of peace.

In reply to questions, President Palma reviewed the various aspects of the electoral problem in Cuba. Asked whether the government had taken steps to effect a compromise with the insurgents, the President of Cuba replied in the negative, saying that the government had limited itself to assisting the efforts of the veterans, without taking an active part in the negotiations.

PALMA WOULD RESIGN.

Secretary Taft then asked if by these negotiations. President Palma said, in reply, that the programme of the revolutionists included the absolute annullment of the last elections, and that if, by compromise, it should be agreed to hold partially new elections, he (Palma) would no longer continue as executive, because his prestige would suffer, and to do so would be a drawback to a constitutional form of government.

Referring to efforts being made to bring about peace, President Palma said he had left that matter to the political parties. On receipt of the President's letter, the government had limited itself to suspension of hostilities. President Palma added that, in his judgment, Congress should pass an electoral law which would amply guarantee both parties; also a municipal election law, under which elections would be held next January, the government to preserve strict partiality.

HAVANA, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of War Taft, as the last of the visitors today departed, remarked: "I shall have to stay longer than I expected," adding that he had believed he could end his mission in ten days.

This change of expectation is largely due to the sudden great increase in the number of rebels and the certainty they feel of being able to crush the government, if they are let alone.

HUNDREDS JOIN REBELS.

Hundreds have joined the rebels during the armistice. The newspapers have become more bold, and there is no denying that if the bands camped at the gates of Havana tonight decided to take the city, they could do it. The strength of the revolution has grown mightily within twenty-four hours, and to add to Taft's difficulties, the temper of its leaders actually in the field gives signs of growing hasty.

"VICTORY AL LBUT WON."

It is felt by the rebels that victory is all but won, and there is less inclination to listen to a compromise. Their leader in Havana, Senator Zayas, and the government leader, Vice-President Capote, had practically agreed to agree, after consulting with Taft. Neither would admit this, and fumed a great deal about the impossibility of yielding an inch, but last night's reassuring dispatches to Washington by Capt. Colwell of the Denver, that arrangements for peace were progressing satisfactorily, followed a long chat with the Liberal Senator.

MAY NEED "CLEAN SWEEP."

There is no doubt that if the matter were left to Senator Zayas, some arrangement to bring about an election of a new Congress within a reasonable time could be effected, and a peace pact sufficient to meet the present requirements of the Washington administration could be obtained.

That was the outlook last night, but the fear now is that Senator Zayas will be unable to call off the bands at war by anything but a clean sweep of the Moderate government, which Mr. Taft is not yet prepared to consent to.

Senator Zayas is as good a Liberal as any, but he is a politician, and can be dealt with. Not so, many who are actually fighting. Some are patriotic, and some, it is asserted, are scoundrels who must be bought.

The ominous question, "What is there in it for me?" came today from the field, from one of the foremost leaders.

TO BUY OFF CHIEFS.

A tobacco man told me the trust was seriously thinking of raising a fund of $500,000 to buy off certain chiefs, and that he had subscribed $22,000. It was a cheap way, he thought, of saving a crop worth $25,000,000 to $30,000,000.

QUEER PEOPLE.

Then some of the rebel chiefs, intoxicated by the successful progress of the revolution, are known to be anarchists, and one is looked to be out-and-out crazy. There are others, actuated by the highest ideals of [illegible] have disapproved of the proposed "fusion" between the Democracy and the Independence League, with Hearst as their joint candidate for Governor.

ERIE REPUDIATES HEARST.

Erie County, supposed to be the chief stronghold of the Hearst movement, repudiated him utterly. Rochester, Syracuse, Albany and Troy have followed the example of Buffalo, although Hearst will get three delegates from Syracuse, and may have three from Rochester.

"COWARDICE AND DISHONESTY."

"All the strength of the Hearst movement lies in the cowardice and substantial dishonesty of men who assume to be Democratic leaders, but who do not and cannot lead the Democrats of the State."

District Attorney Jerome made this statement today, and he riddled C. F. Murphy and the up-State leaders who are said to favor the nomination of Hearst by the Buffalo convention.

"Like a miserable, modern edition of Lazarus," was his characterization of Murphy, who, he said, after making Hearst politically, was declared by him to be worthy of stripes and chains in a prison.

JEROME RECITES HISTORY.

Jerome recalled Hearst's political history, saying he had twice had Congressional nomination "handed to him on a silver salver by the boss of Tammany Hall," and now threatens to ruin the Democratic party if it does not do as he wishes. He could not remember, he said, that Hearst had voiced any detestation of bosses when he accepted the Congressional nomination from Murphy.

CHIEF FLANNERY ACQUITTED.

HELENA (Mont.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Coroner's jury today acquitted Chief of Police Jack Flannery, the well-known baseball player, of criminal intent for the killing here, in a duel Sunday, of T. P. Perdue of Kansas City, holding that it was done in performance of his duty and in self-defense. Flannery still suffers much pain from his wounds in the leg.

TROUBLE IN EASTERN CUBA.

MOUNTED MEN ROB MINE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SANTIAGO (Cuba) Sept. 19.—The first overt act of revolutionists in Eastern Cuba was committed yesterday afternoon. Fifty mounted men, under Capt. Vicente Costa, entered the town of Fiermoso, where the Juragua iron mines are located. They demanded from the superintendent of mines the delivery of two cases of dynamite

Duty of Any Democrat to Accept the Nomination Against Willie.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What is regarded as the beginning of the end of W. R. Hearst's efforts to coerce the Democratic party into nominating him for Governor developed today.

Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, member of the Democratic National Committee, and one of the leaders in the Hearst movement, issued a letter declaring to his Assembly District convention that, in view of the nomination of Hearst by his own Independence League, he could not see his was further to support Hearst.

Mack also addressed a letter to Mayor Adam of Buffalo, requesting him for the use of his name as a candidate for Governor. Mayor Adam replied that the price paid for such surrender as the acceptance of the Hearst candidacy was beneath the dignity of the Democratic party, and said it was the duty of any Democrat to accept a nomination and stand or fall fighting in the good old Democratic way for the principle of the party.

POTATO CHIP KING IS DEAD.

John E. Marshall, Who Made a Fortune With Delicacy, Commits Suicide in Chelsea.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHELSEA (Mass.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John E. Marshall, known years ago as the "Potato Chip King," was found dead today in his office, No. 24½ Exchange street, where he had been conducting a small brokerage business. He killed himself with chloroform.

Marshall discovered twenty years ago these toothsome dainties known all over the country as potato chips and made a fortune selling them so fast he had hard work to invest his money.

Finally he retired from business when competition became irksome and began operating in the stock market and eventually went up against a "sure thing" chance and lost.

Then he started a bucketshop, but he was too honest for this game and when it went against him he committed suicide.

SENATOR CLARK WIRES CHECK.

MAKES HEART HAPPY OF NEWLY WEDDED NIECE.

Railroad Wreck Prevents Him from Reaching Town in Time for Ceremony, but a Ten-Thousand-Dollar Present Helps Fill the Void Occasioned by His Absence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Grace A. Baller, a niece of Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, and F. A. Nicholas, a rising young railroad man, were married here tonight, but the Senator was not present.

Instead came a $10,000 wedding present by telegraph, for the Senator had fully determined to attend the wedding of his niece, whom he had never known until a few weeks ago.

The bride was a poor clerk in a local dry goods store. She is the daughter of Senator Clark's dead sister. Clark formerly was an Iowa man, and when his sister died he believed he had lost practically his last close relative, and until he received an invitation to the wedding, he never knew she had left a grown-up daughter.

Then the Senator determined to attend the wedding at all hazards, and wired asking if the ceremony could not be delayed a few days. The wedding was postponed, but again the Senator could not come because of business engagements.

Today, however, when he wired that [illegible] sent to a third postponement, and they were married by Rev. H. O. Breeden.

WILKIE VISITS HIPPLE BANK.

MAKES SUDDEN DESCENT ON RECEIVER EARLE.

Business of the Secret Service Head Is Not Revealed—Bank President's Effects Realize a Fair Price—Reorganization Plan Is Recognized by the Courts in a Case.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chief Wilkie of the United States Secret Service made his appearance at the office of the Real Estate Trust Company today. When asked his business he replied: "I came to see a Confederate penny that Receiver Earle has."

Further inquiry failed to disclose what he is doing here. He refused to admit that Hipple had changed United States bonds or that he was looking for any other form of forgery.

A large crowd attended the sale of Hipple's personal effects today and the prices realized were fair.

The courts virtually recognized Receiver Earle's plan for reorganization when it gave the attorneys power to sign the proxies for assenting to the reorganization on behalf of an estate for which he was acting.

State Bank Commissioner Berkey so far has failed to produce correspondence between his department and the trust company which it is alleged informed the directors that the banking laws were being violated some years ago. Should this correspondence bear this out, there will be more arrests.

More than two-thirds the depositors have assented to the reorganization plan.

MAY REPAIR AT NAGASAKI.

HONOLULU, Sept. 19.—The sending of the steamer Manchuria to Nagasaki for repairs is regarded as probable, owing to reports of a strike in San Francisco. First Officer Pillsbury of the Manchuria, who was seriously injured during the operation of floating the vessel, is recovering.

DISASTROUS WRECK OF SCOTCH EXPRESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The crowded Scotch Express train on the Great Northern Railway leaving London last night was wrecked outside of Grantham at midnight. The train should have stopped at Grantham, but failed to do so.

Shortly after passing the station the train left the rails and then jumped a bridge. The engine and several coaches were dashed over the embankment, the engine turning turtle. Several coaches immediately took fire.

There are many passengers beneath the débris. Of ten extricated, five have died.

At last accounts, the coaches were still blazing, and the fire brigade has been called out.

The dead and injured as yet have not been identified.

At the spot where the express was derailed, there was a curve, and it is supposed the brakes failed to act. The train appears to have gone upon a siding, smashing the parapet of the bridge, which was completely shattered.

This morning it was officially stated that ten persons had been killed and sixteen injured.

A dispatch from Grantham stated that the fire was well under control.

A later report states that the engineer and firemen are dead under the engine; that the superintendent of mail cars is missing, and that seven injured persons have been taken to the hospital.

RANCHMEN AROUSED.

City Serves Notice in San Fernando Valley to Stop Pumping in Accordance With Injunction.

Reports came in from the San Fernando Valley late last night that the city is serving notice on the ranchmen to stop pumping their wells, and that the land owners are aroused to the fighting point. The city, as is well know, claims the right to this water, and holds an injunction to prevent its pumping, but has not enforced it heretofore. Some time ago it was announced that no action would be taken to do so until the city should be actually suffering for water.

The ranchmen claim that there is no suffering for water in Los Angeles, that the city is well supplied, and that this notice is something of a "bluff" to which they take serious exception. It was said last night that a well-known farmer in the vicinity of Burbank announced that he will get his shotgun out this morning and make a human pepperbox of any man who comes around his place with a notice to shut down his pump. There are others in the same frame of mind, and the valley people say there's trouble in the air for somebody.

WHITE'S SLAYER RAGES AT 'EM.

HE WANTS NO ALIENISTS IN HIS, DOES THAW.

Third Time His Counsel Has Taken Authorities on Insanity to the Tombs to See the Noted Character. Change of Purpose Is Cloaked in Mystery.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Visited today by three expert alienists whom Clifford W. Hartridge, his counsel, took to the Tombs for the purpose of making an examination of him, Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, raged and stormed at them, and would neither answer their questions nor permit them to make any physical examination of him.

This is the third time Hartridge has taken authorities on insanity to the Tombs to have them investigate Thaw's condition, so much Hartridge admitted. While he would not reveal his purpose or the result of previous attempts, the fact that a third attempt was made today is sufficient indication that Thaw proved as intractable on the two former occasions.

CLOAKED IN MYSTERY.

What change of purpose in the con- [illegible] was put in charge of the case of Thaw when the accused murderer insisted upon the withdrawal of W. M. K. Olcott, who had begun the erection of a defense built wholly upon the assumption that Thaw was of unsound mind when he killed Stanford White. Hartridge would not answer when asked if he had come to the conclusion that such must be the defense of his client.

HEARING MONDAY.

Hartridge would discuss only his efforts to obtain a speedy trial for his client. He said that a hearing would be given next Monday on his application for the transfer of Thaw's case from the Court of General Sessions to the Supreme Court. The calendar of the latter court is not crowded, as is the former, and Hartridge confidently expects the granting of his petition and the trial of his client within a few months, probably about the first of next year.

ALIENISTS TAKEN THERE.

Dr. Charles G. Wagner, superintendent of the New York State Hospital at Binghamton, and Dr. Christian C. Beling, superintendent, and Dr. B. D. Evans, chief physician of the New Jersey State Hospital at Morris Plains, were the alienists taken to the Tombs by Hartridge at noon today.

Mrs. Thaw and the prisoner's mother were with Thaw when the others arrived. They were amazed when told that the alienists were there to examine Thaw and asked if it was by direction of the District-Attorney. When told that Hartridge was in charge of the visit, they accepted the situation with evident relief, and left the prison.

STEAMSHIP HAS ROUGH TIME.

The Morro Castle Receives Broadside Off Cape Hatteras and Nearly Swamps.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Ward line steamship Morro Castle, which arrived today, experienced a hurricane off Cape Hatteras. Beginning at midnight Sunday, a northeast gale, constantly freshening, convinced Capt. Cleveland Downs of the danger of the following seas swamping the ship.

He hove to, and when the ship turned broadside to the hurricane it drove her almost on her beam ends. All the loose stuff on the vessel fell down to the leeward with an awful crash. The ports were smashed and the after end of the second cabin was carried away, so that the water flooded the saloon and rose close to the fires.

Quartermaster Edward Tallofson in heaving the lead was washed overboard unseen. The passengers, clad only in their night clothes, were panic-stricken. They gathered in the main saloon, many praying. The electric plant was flooded and the lights failed.

IN HASTE TO GET IN.

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston has just incorporated his weekly organ, the Republic, for $300,000, under the Maine laws, in ten-dollar shares, and Boston politicians, contractors and grafters are tumbling over each other to buy shares.

Hon. Josiah Quincy, the Democratic sphinx, bought one share, and others closely identified with State-street banking matters, recipients of municipal favors, also invested. The corporation commissioner threatens to fine the company for not reporting its incorporation.

TIED UP FERRIES.

Seven Lines Useless at Brooklyn.

Sixty-four Firemen Strike for Increase, Company's Directors Absent.

More Than Twenty Thousand Passengers Take Bridge, and Trucks Wait.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sixty-four firemen employed by the New York and Brooklyn Ferry Company went on strike at noon today and tied up seven ferry lines running from berths in Manhattan to Broadway and Green Point, Brooklyn.

More than twenty thousand passengers who sought the ferry slips during the rush of the earlier afternoon hours, found the doors and gates closed, and sought the Williamsburg bridge or the Long Island Railway ferries.

Hundreds of loaded trucks turned away from the ferry bridges and choked the streets leading to the ferries remaining in operation.

SUPERINTENDENT TIED UP.

According to the superintendent of the ferry company, Capt. William Stoney, there is no prospect of immediate resumption of service, if the men hold fast to their demand for higher wages. He says he has no power to treat with them, and that the directors of the company are absent from the city and will not return until October.

Yesterday afternoon Stoney endeavored to reach Joseph K. Dosohue, the president, without success, and will make another attempt today.

In the meantime, the ferryboats are tied up, most of them on the Long Island shore, under guard of the police.

CITY INTERESTED PARTY.

According to the superintendent, the ferry lines comprise the entire service of the company, and the problem of their disposal to the city has been under consideration for some time.

Capt. Stoney today said that a committee composed of Eugene Ackeriv, Joseph Arthur and Wilbur Lewis, firemen in the employ of the company, waited on him three weeks ago and demanded for the firemen on the boats a raise in wages from $57.52 to $70 a month. He told them the directors were away, and he could do nothing until they returned in the first week of October.

The men again made a demand today and told him they would go out if it were not acceded to.

DISOWNED SON SENTENCED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles A. Bronson, son of the late Deacon Eli Bronson, the millionaire president of the Benedict & Burnham Manufacturing Company of Waterbury, Ct., was sentenced here today to three years in prison for wholesale thefts of brass and copper from Springfield factories. He received his sentence with a laugh, remarking, "Well, my friends won't worry about me for awhile now."

Bronson, a graduate of Yale, was lavish with money, but operated for years in this and other cities along the lines of the notorious "Raffles." His first exploit was stealing from a clothes-line at the St. Margaret's School for Young Women. Later he picked a clubman's pockets and took jewels from women he met at dances and dinners.

His millionaire father gave thousands in payment for what he called "boyish pranks." Finally, his father disowned him, and he degenerated into an inveterate crook.

OLD SHIPS PASSING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At last the end, or practically the end, of the American deep-water sailing ship is at hand, for three of the last remaining "Cape Horners" are lying now in South Brooklyn, about to be converted into coal barges. Two others are on the way. With the obliteration of these five deep-water vessels there will not be a single sailing ship left to keep the breath of life in the old New York-San Francisco trade.

JAPS "SNAPPING" DEFENSES.

NEWPORT (R. I.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The rumor is current here that several Japanese officers have been taking photographs of the new defenses at Newport and Narragansett Bay districts, and that several officials about Newport have inspected the naval plants.

VOLIVA TO HAVE CONTEST.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Attorneys for Alfred Bills, who yesterday was defeated by Wilbur Voliva for the leadership of the Zion Church, receiving six votes to Voliva's 1911, today filed an affidavit in the United States District Court attacking the candidacy of the election. He declares irregularities, numerous errors and rough methods characterized the election.

SUPPOSED FORGERIES MAY PROVE ASSETS

Large Sum Expected to be Recovered for Depositors of Stensland's Bank by Finding Signatures Real—Stork Appears Prematurely.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thousands of dollars may be recovered for the depositors as a result of a quiet investigation which has been carried on by Receiver Fetzer, who has demonstrated that a large number of alleged forged notes are in reality genuine. The notes were given to Paul O. Stensland as "accommodation paper," with the understanding that they were to be used for the sole purpose of deceiving the bank examiner, but as the signatures are genuine, the attorneys for the receiver assert that the face value of the notes can be collected.

Theodore Stensland left for the East today to meet the father whom he is charged with having betrayed into the hands of the law. He will meet his attorney, Jacob J. Kern, in New York and plan a legal battle to prevent the authorities from bringing the banker to Chicago for trial. Theodore asserts that his father cannot hope for a fair trial in Chicago.

ANOTHER WOMAN INVOLVED.

Another name was added today to the seemingly endless chain of women compromised by the attentions of Paul O. Stensland, wrecker of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank. Stensland figures as a home-breaker in divorce proceedings instituted at Battle Creek, Mich., by Mrs. Johanna Strong against her husband who in a cross bill declares that the banker won her affections and sullied her character.

Mrs. Strong was housekeeper for Mrs. Inga Sandberg, foster-daughter of the bank wrecker, when first she saw Stensland. He was attracted by her personal charms and induced her to transfer her services to his Irving Park mansion. Mrs. Strong is the fifth woman whose name has been linked with that of Stensland since the bank failure.

The young woman is said to have openly boasted that she could wrap Stensland about her finger and that there was no need to be in financial stress as long as he lived. Mrs. Strong, who is living at Battle Creek, is the daughter of Mrs. J. Scheffler.

AT STENSLAND'S HOME.

"My daughter often told me," said Mrs. Scheffler today, "that there were amazing events in the Stensland home. She mentioned frequently the name of a woman married to a bank director. She told me that the woman was often in the house and that on occasions she remained half the night."

Another grim chapter in the Stensland tragedy is being enacted at Stavanger, Norway, where, Ulric Daniels, the former assistant cashier, is dying. Daniels's mind is gone, but in stray flashes of consciousness he protests innocence of complicity in looting the bank.

Daniels went to Norway to witness the coronation of King Haakon. He was in frail health and when news was received of the bank failure he collapsed.

Some excitement was created about the bank today when Mrs. Hulda Swanson, who with her husband was employed as cook on a lake vessel, called to deposit her summer's earnings. When she was told that the bank had failed and that the money she had on deposit was lost, the woman became hysterical and a short time later in the private office of Stensland became the mother of a ten-pound baby girl.

FASHION RISES AT NEGROES.

Fashionable suburbs along the North Shore were aroused to a high pitch today when the news that a negro garrison to bp stationed at Fort Sheridan was received. In Evanston and Lake Forest, where many Chicago millionaires make their homes, and even in Highland Park and Waukegan, where the population, if not so exclusive, is at least of a high class and particular in its tastes and associations. Citizens were outspoken in their dislike of the latest army order, which transfers four negro troops of the Ninth Cavalry from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., to Fort Sheridan.

STORK LEAVES FOUR MITES.

A most gracious and kindly stork yesterday visited the little tenement flat of Mrs. David Watson of the South Side, and left as an evidence of good will four tiny mites of humanity. The little quads, two boys and two girls, are as yet unable to appreciate the element of tragedy so closely connected with their arrival. David Watson, the father, was killed a few days ago in a railroad accident in St. Paul, where he had gone to seek a position and make a home for his young wife.

TEAMSTERS' LAWLESSNESS.

Lawlessness continues to mark the progress of the struggle between the rival teamsters' unions. George Allen, a new teamster employed by the J. B. Pennroyer Company, is alive by the narrowest of margins. That he was not killed when bullets, bricks and stones were rained at him, as he was driving beneath the viaduct at the south end of Milwaukee avenue, seems miraculous. A dozen shots were fired by the crowd on the viaduct. Two of the bullets hit Allen in the right arm.

SUBMARINE TELEPHONE.

One year from today the people of Chicago will be able to carry on conversation with the citizens of London or Paris, should the sanguine expectations of Dr. Robert d'Unger, inventor of a submarine telephone cable, be realized. Twenty-eight years electrical scientists of the world have been baffled in their attempt by the fact that the undulating waves of the human voice are only capable of impelling sufficient electrical force to carry them a few hundred miles. Dr. d'Unger believes he has solved the difficulty by means of a dual current.

TUBERCULOSIS IN CLEVELAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One-half of all the people in Cleveland who die between the ages of 25 and 35 are the victims of tuberculosis. At the present rate of death from the disease, 50,000 of Cleveland's half million people are doomed to die of tuberculosis. These are two of the results arrived at during the year by the visiting nurses of other cities and the Tuberculosis League.

MONKEYS' FOUR-HOUR DAY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KENOSHA (Wis.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The agent of the Kenosha Humane Society has received instructions that all monkeys which organ-grinders have with them on the street shall not work more than four hours each day. For several days, two organ-grinders have been in the city working these animals continuously, to please the street crowds.

PLAGUE OF FLEAS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Southern Wisconsin is afflicted with a plague of fleas. From various places come reports of the depredations of the pests. The Milwaukee Country Club and the Milwaukee Second District school building have been vacated until the invading insects can be exterminated.

CARS SMASH AUTO.

Touring Machine Tries to Cross Street in New York, but Is Caught on Tracks.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Caught between two street cars at Broadway and Thirty-first streets tonight, an automobile touring car owned by John H. Springer, lessee of the Grand Operahouse, and occupied by himself and family, was ground to pieces, while the occupants marvelously escaped without serious injuries.

Springer suffered most, being painfully bruised, while Mrs. Springer, a son, John H., Jr., and a daughter, Gladys, and the chauffeur suffered from the shock.

Springer was driving his auto across the tracks when it was struck by a north-bound car and thrown against the south-bound car which was passing. In a moment the machine doubled up and its occupants found themselves on top of the wreckage and pinned between the cars, which had been brought to an abrupt stop.

DIE AT EXCELSIOR SPRINGS.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS (Mo.) Sept. 19.—Two tragedies took place here today. James Curry of Topeka, Kan., connected with the Central Sash and Door Company of that city, shot and killed his wife and then killed himself. No cause is given. J. P. Farley of Leavenworth, also a visitor at the Springs, killed himself by taking carbolic acid.

and two blasting batteries. Upon refusal of the superintendent to deliver the cases, sergeants seized the explosives and batteries, one mule and other supplies, giving their receipts therefor. They promised not to molest further, if the company's railroad was not used to transport government troops.

AT MORGAN'S HOME.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HAVANA, Sept. 19.—Today's hearing began at the home of Minister Morgan in the village of Mariano, which, it so happens, is only three miles from the most advanced post of the insurgent forces, that of Col. Baldemero Acosta, which is encamped in the vicinity of Arroya Arenas. The proceedings were conducted very quietly. No crowd surrounded the beautiful and spacious Quinta Hidalgo, which has been the home of the American Minister to Cuba since the birth of the Cuban republic. The hearings were held privately, in a room adjoining the library, no one being present in the house except those directly interested and newspaper men.

Secretary Taft informed Vice-President Mendez Capote, Senator Alfredo Zayas and Gen. Menocal that today's conference would be purely preliminary, and all will be heard again. Vice-President Mendez Capote was given an appointment for 10 o'clock tomorrow and Mr. Zayas for 2 o'clock.

BRIEF TALK WITH TAFT.

After the hearing, Secretary Taft said to the Associated Press that he had begun his work, and that it was evident that the mission upon which he came would require more time than he had anticipated before his arrival. He admitted that ten days would be required to complete his errand, but he could not say whether or not it would be necessary to visit insurgents' camps or other cities than Havana. He was pleased that representatives of every faction had visited the agents of President Roosevelt, which he considered augured well for the success of the mission, which, he desired it to be understood, was purely mediatory.

Mr. Taft said he had not talked as yet with representatives of the commercial interests, but that he expected to meet men of affairs and property.

TALK TO CABLE.

A private telegraph wire is being strung from Minister Morgan's house to the cable office, in order that Messrs. Taft and Bacon may be able to report direct to President Roosevelt.

A detachment of 300 Rural Guards has been sent to Mariano, which hitherto has not been specially protected.

After the conference Vice-President Mendez Capote said the government was absolutely opposed to any plan which involves new elections.

TOOK NEITHER SIDE.

Mr. Taft was careful not to commit himself to either faction, but encouraged all to talk freely.

It is said that Gen. Asbert, one of the insurgent leaders, has sent a letter to President Roosevelt, giving his reasons for the revolution, and adding that if the President does not agree to another general election supervised by a United States commission, the revolutionists will continue the war. The letter is alleged to say that the revolutionists do not fear the United States army, and that the Liberals could raise an army of 20,000 men.

Detachments of marines and sailors from United States warships have been landed at Cienfuegos for the protection of the Soledad, for the Constancia and Hormoguero, American sugar estates.

PALACE AWAITS POOR PATIENTS.

VIRCHOW HOSPITAL IN BERLIN IS MASTERPIECE.

Five Million Dollars Expended in Making This the Finest Institution in the World and Equal Sum Will Be Used Later—Medical Men Declare Arrangements Ideal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Virchow Hospital, which will be opened to suffering humanity in a few days, is considered to be the finest municipal structure created since the Middle Ages.

Only vulgar minds will, in front of City Architect Hoffman's masterpiece, stop to inquire whether it is also, as reported, the world's biggest establishment of its kind.

It cost about $5,000,000, and this will be increased later to $10,000,000 through additions that are to be built. No palace occupied by a millionaire can rival in beauty this glorious home erected by the people of Berlin for poor patients.

Architects find no detail faulty and medical men assert that all arrangements are ideal and worthy of the scientific hero whose name the establishment bears. The outlook from the hill in the hospital's large park offers the finest view in Berlin.

MRS. ASTOR'S DELUSIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWPORT, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. William Astor, the leader of the "Four Hundred," who was brought here ill, a week ago last Saturday, from Boston, is in a serious condition. She is constantly watched over night and day by trained nurses.

Mrs. Astor fears kidnaping and poisoning plots and while under the delusions will not leave the house unless attended by her daughter, Mrs. Haig, her companion, Miss Simrock, and Hade, her personal servant.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Chile Relief Committee has received the following cablegram from the Foreign Relief Committee at Valparaiso:

This message confirms previous advices as to the seriousness of the situation created by the recent earthquake and fire at Valparaiso.

PECULIAR DISASTER OF THE CIMARRON.

Searchers Still Believe Bodies Are to Be Found in the River—Quicksands Swallow Remnants of the Wreck—Rescues Effected.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

DOVER (Okla.) Sept. 19.—At the scene of the Rock Island wreck at the Cimarron River this morning, no more definite facts concerning the casualties than those given last night were available. The known dead numbered two, Hank Littlefield, a circus man, and a negro car porter.

While a number of persons are still missing, it is believed that many will be heard from during the day. Two of the sixteen known injured may die.

Searchers with torches worked all night to recover any possible victims that might still be in the submerged cars.

Early today the search was renewed here, while for a distance of twenty miles down stream parties were on the lookout for victims. It was known that several of those escaped from the wreck had drifted down with the swift current, some of them having been seen as far as fifteen miles distant from Dover.

From one point bodies were reported floating by, but this was not verified.

During the night the river fell almost as rapidly as it had risen, and early today the work of removing the submerged cars from the stream was begun.

TREACHEROUS STREAM.

The Cimarron River is a treacherous stream. When high, as at this time, the current is swift and there is much quicksand. At irregular intervals along the river the water sinks beneath the sand. A common saying among frontiersmen in Oklahoma is "the Cimarron always buries its dead." For these reasons it is not believed that the exact number of dead will be known for several days yet.

The first reports of the finding of the supposed dead bodies is explained by L. H. Coy, a traveling salesman who escaped from the train.

"Most of the people," said Coy, "had been taken from the day coach when I reached the scene. From bruises and contact with the water, many appeared as though dead when taken out."

D. E. Cain, general manager of the Rock Island Railroad, who reached here last night by special train, is giving his personal attention to the search for bodies. Cain today said that he was confident that the loss of life was much less than was reported, but he is unable to give an estimate, as even at this late hour little definite information is known at Dover. Men have crossed the river in skiffs, this morning, and began a thorough search of the cars in sight. No report has been received here of the finding anywhere of bodies.

SEARCHING FOR TWENTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

KINGFISHER, Sept. 19.—Piles of wreckage in the Cimarron River at points one and two miles below the scene of the wreck were examined by men in boats today. An effort was made to find the twenty persons who are believed to be in the smoker and are still missing. With long prods, the debris, consisting of splintered boards, furniture from coaches and baggage, was disturbed, but not a body was found.

It was reported here today by telephone that bodies of five men were taken out of the river ten miles south of the scene of the wreck early today.

Bodies of passengers who were buried in the sinking smoker will probably never be rescued. For a short time following the wreck a small portion of the smoker was visible. It sank slowly in the quicksand.

Lunch baskets filled with water-soaked lunches, clothing, go-carts and a purse containing $150 were taken from the Kingfisher side of the river today.

B. P. Nicholason, who was riding in the smoker was the only person known to have escaped from the coach.

Nicholason said today that he knew at least ten persons were riding in the smoker when the train went into the river. Persons with whom he was talking are missing. Escape of persons known to be riding in the front end of the smoker, separated from the rear door by a partition, is thought to have been impossible.

Postal Clerk Gamel of Fort Worth, Tex., is known to be among the missing.

Conductor Thomas, in charge of the wrecked train, is positive that nine passengers at least occupied seats in the smoker. He is of the opinion that three persons made their escape from the smoker.

It is doubtful whether the engine, tender, baggage car and smoker can be lifted even after the water recedes. All are 100 feet or more from the bank.

Mrs. Robinson of Enid, Okla., one of the seriously injured, cannot recover.

RESCUED MILES AWAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CIMARRON BRIDGE (via Kingfisher, Okla.) Sept. 19.—Four persons who stood on the roof of the smoking car when it was struck by a portion of the wrecked bridge, were knocked into the water and rescued finally, several miles down the river, clinging to debris.

An additional death was added to the list of known victims today, when the three-year-old son of Mrs. Kate Sells of Payne, O., died of strangulation, caused by inhaling sand and water.

RIVER FALLING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GUTHRIE, Sept. 19.—A special to the State Capital says that Cimarron River at the bridge north of Dover, where the train plunged into the stream has fallen eight feet below the high-water mark. The top of the submerged smoker is still six or seven feet under the surface, and at the rate the river falls, it will be twenty-four hours before the rescuers can get to the car. One man, whose name cannot be learned, and who was fished out of the river at a point nine miles below the bridge, was nearly dead when brought of Kingfisher. He had been nine hours in the water.

SOME OF THE VICTIMS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KINGFISHER, Sept. 19.—Herman E. Sells, aged 3 years, son of Mrs. Kate Sells, of Payne, O., died today from acute pneumonia as a result of inhaling muddy water.

The following are missing and probably drowned:

MR. CAMEL, mail clerk, Caldwell, Kan.

H. LITTLEFIELD, Pittsburgh, Pa., bill poster Forepaugh-Sells circus.

W. L. DOUGLAS, negro porter.

Injured:

JOHN SULLIVAN, aged 29, Chicago; hand cut.

C. A. SMITH, aged 28, New York City, slight cuts.

F. S. BALL, aged 25, El Reno; knee and leg cut.

A. A. BALDWIN, aged 30, postal clerk, Fort Worth; cut on head and bruises.

L. H. O'BRIEN, aged 30, Oklahoma City; bruises and cuts.

MRS. KATE SELLS, aged 29, Payne, O.; shock and exposure, and internal injuries.

JACK ROBINSON, aged 67, colored, slight cuts.

H. H. BALMER, aged 30, teacher in Haskell Institute, Lawrence, Kan.; bruises all over and carried fourteen miles down stream.

S. D. OVERTON, postal clerk, bruises; carried two miles.

MRS. O. R. HUTCHER, Dallas, Tex.; back injured, nervous shock.

O. W. BROWN, aged 62, Commance, Okla.; hand cut.

MRS. J. L. ROBINSON, aged 32, Enid, Okla., cuts and strangulation; may die.

S. W. BRYAN, fireman, aged 28; shoulder dislocated.

One man, whose name cannot be learned, was taken out of the river, today, at a point nine miles below the Dover Bridge. He was nearly dead when brought to Kingfisher. He had been nine hours in the water, clinging to floating debris.

Claude Alyea, a farmer living ten miles east, found today what appeared to be a pathetic relic of the wreck.

A special to the State Capitol from Kingfisher says that one of the crew of the wrecked Rock Island passenger train is authority for the statement that a woman and child entered the toilet room of the smoking car just as that coach plunged into the river. They were undoubtedly lost.

PALMER'S GRAPHIC STORY.

William M. Palmer, who was rescued after floating fourteen miles down the Cimarron, tells the following graphic story:

"There were fifteen or sixteen of us in that smoking car. I was just in the act of leaving the smoker for the coach behind and had reached the door when we went down. I did not realize for a few seconds what had happened. I found myself scrambling over the seats in the smoker, where I had been thrown when the car tipped up on end, going into the water in that position. In some way, I don't think I ever will be able to tell how, I extricated myself from the wreckage, and the next thing I knew I was struggling in the water. It was icy cold.

"I felt myself going down and down, and then presently I came to the surface, hanging to a piece of the demolished coach. By this time I was well out in the river, and the strong current was bearing me swiftly down the stream. I saw people around me struggling, but of course could offer no assistance, it being as much as I could do to keep my head above water. In a few minutes I was floating down the river, and I thought that death was near, for with the under current so strong I was pulled under continually, each time becoming more weak. I clung to my piece of wreckage with a death grip, and struggled with all my might to keep myself from sinking.

SEVERE GALES.

SAILING EXPERIENCE.

[SPECIAL WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Delayed for seven weeks by storms which she lost sails, spars and rigging, the British ship Rajore, which arrived here today. The Rajore encountered the greatest stress of weather in the ice zone off Cape Horn.

The Rajore sailed from Antwerp on June 6 on her voyage, which lasted 104 days. She went well until she reached the Horn, going south, when the vessel encountered a succession of severe gales.

For days the men toiled with her sails. Sail after sail was blown into shreds or split while being furled. Seas of vast height would sweep clear over the vessel's deck, carrying away the lifeboat, which was beaten to splinters. Two other boats eighteen feet above the water line, were completely filled with water and holes had to be knocked in their bottoms to empty them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The Young Men's Christian Association has decided to erect a handsome new building seven or eight stories in height on the site of the old structure at Mason and Ellis streets. Work will begin on the new building as soon as the plans and specifications can be prepared. Secretary McCoy will leave next Saturday for the East to make a special study of the association buildings.

A large delegation of English naval officers, 300 American sailors and marines, Rear-Admiral Brownson and his staff, and other officers, accompanied the body of Rear-Admiral Chichester to the landing, where it was taken on the admiral's barge to the Formidable between two lines of boats.

Vice-Admiral May expressed great appreciation of the promptness shown by Rear-Admiral Brownson in landing such a large body of men at short notice.

HETTY GREEN TO QUIT TOWN.

Appraisers Insist on Raising the Value of Homestead and She Will Move.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELLOWS FALLS (Vt.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Hetty Green, after learning the decision of the board of appraisers not to retract their intention of raising the valuation of the Green homestead $2000, decided today that she will leave the village forever.

Villagers believe that Mrs. Green proposes to remove the body of her late husband from the family lot in the Episcopal Cemetery, and that she will take her heirlooms from the homestead, which have caused the trouble.

Mrs. Green said today when informed of the board's decision: "When I fight there is usually a funeral, and it's not mine, either. This shows me that the people of Bellows Falls do not want me here any longer."

CARS COLLIDE, CLERK KILLED

Trolley Coach Crashes Into Express on Open Switch.

One Man Dies Instantly and Three Others Are Hurt.

Automatic Device Apparently Fails to Work Right.

E. B. Heyman, assistant shipping clerk of the Pasadena Electric Express Company, was killed instantly and three other employés of the company were injured at 7:15 o'clock last night, when a Pacific Electric car ran through an open switch and crashed against an express car standing in front of the company's depot on South Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena.

F. M. Downer of No. 326 South Fair Oaks avenue, severe bruises and abrasion of the left shoulder.

W. R. Downer of No. 601 North Marengo, teamster, shins badly cut and elbow bruised.

L. C. Moulton of No. 443 North Pasadena avenue, a teamster, left leg bruised above the knee, also suffering from shock.

The Pacific Electric car was bound for Pasadena, and struck the open switch in front of the depot, and, turning the corner into the building, crashed into the front of the express car, which was being unloaded at the time.

Heyman was standing on the track in front of the express car, and was crushed between the two coaches. He was mangled horribly, and death was instantaneous. The injured men were at work inside of the car and that they did not suffer worse injuries was due to luck.

CAR WAS BEHIND TIME.

The passenger car was a little behind time and was run north on Fair Oaks avenue, as is customary under such conditions, instead of turning east on California and running up Raymond. There is a double track up Fair Oaks, and whenever a car is behind time it is run up that way in order to save time. The car was running at a good rate of speed.

The passenger car was under the charge of Motorman S. B. Shearer and Conductor H. G. Taylor. The motorman stuck to his post and narrowly escaped serious injury from flying glass. He was very much shaken up by the accident and seemed unable to give any clear account of it when questioned by a Times reporter.

"I don't know how it happened," he said. "I have no idea how the switch came to be open. The first thing I knew we had swung around the corner and crashed into the express car."

F. M. Downer of No. 326 South Fair Oaks avenue, stableman of the express company, was helping unload the car and received a severe shaking up and several minor injuries. He was unable to say how the switch happened to be open. He said that the whole thing happened so suddenly that he could not give any exact description of the affair.

UNDERGROUND SWITCH.

The switch which caused the accident is of the underground sort, operated by the use of a chain. A few minutes after the accident it was examined and seemed to be in working order. It is actuated by a spring and there is no way that it can be left open unless it sticks. The theory is that either the chain must have kinked or else a pebble might have gotten between the rails.

The peculiar part of the affair is the fact that it was fully twenty minutes after the express car entered the car barn that the accident occurred and at least one other passenger car had passed over the track after it. How the one car passed over safely and the other turned, the officials are at a loss to understand.

The turn into the express depot is so short that the car barely passed in and in being dragged out it tore out the side of the platform with it. Had there been two inches less room the car must have stuck, in which case the passengers must have suffered severely. As it was, the passenger car was not damaged, with the exception of a few broken windows, and, with the exception of the motorman, who was badly shaken up, none of the passengers was injured.

DECEASED LEAVES WIDOW.

Heyman, who was aged 35, had been in the employ of the company for the past year and was considered a reliable man. He was married, but had no children and lived with his wife at the corner of Summit avenue and Mountain street.

After the accident, Dr. Rowland, surgeon of the Pacific Electric Company was notified and hurried to the scene. He dressed the wounds of the injured men. The body of Heyman was taken to the morgue of Reynolds & Van Nuys Company, where an inquest will be held today.

Motorman Shearer has been in the employ of the company but a short time. He was accounted an able motorman.

James Robertson, motorman of the express car, was standing by at the time of the accident, but was not injured. He had come in off his run with the car about twenty minutes before the accident. He is unable to account for the fact that the switch was open.

NEW STRIKE DEVELOPS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—While the prospect of an early settlement of the Wabash Railway strike developed early yesterday, another road, the Chicago Great Western, became involved in a similar labor controversy, and its repair shops at Oelwin, Iowa, were crippled by a strike of boiler makers.

It was said at the Chicago headquarters of the Machinists' Union that the strike on the Great Western had no direct connection with the Wabash strike, except that it is part of a general move of the railroad mechanics to secure better pay. Only fifty boiler makers were taken out by the strike order, but between 1400 and 1500 men may become involved later.

POLITICAL.

INDORSEMENT OF PRESIDENT.

Washington Republicans Are for Third Term.

Enthusiasm Intense at the Suggestion of It.

Loud Applause for Denunciation of Bryan.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Republican State Convention today indorsed the President for a third term amid great enthusiasm, in which Senators, Representatives, Gov. Mead and the newspaper men joining. The wild cheering lasted ten minutes. The resolutions declared that, in view of the great works started by the President, the people believed he should finish the task so well begun, and requested the President to reconsider his refusal to be a candidate again.

PLATFORM AND BRYAN.

The platform adopted by the convention today does not refer to Bryan's advocacy of State-owned railways. The convention did not dignify the subject by an utterance, but in a speech, Congressman F. W. Cushman denounced Bryan's latest fledgeling as a socialistic scheme, pure and simple, and the convention loudly applauded the sentiment of the speaker.

CANDIDATES NOMINATED.

Candidates were nominated for Congress and the Supreme Bench, all of the present incumbents being renominated, as follows:

In his opening speech Senator Piles declared that the Washington Congressional delegation would insist upon a "stand-pat" policy toward tariff revision. The platform will contain such a declaration. Senator Piles also urged the passage of a direct primary bill.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

First District—James A. Tawney, Republican; Andrew French, Democrat.

Fifth—F. M. Nye, Republican; Frank Larrabee, Democrat.

Ninth—Halvar Steenerson, Republican; no opposition.

ODELL NOT DISCOURAGED.

ADMITS ODDS TREMENDOUS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Ex-Gov. Benjamin B. Odell does not appear to be discouraged by the result of the primary elections in New York. He said:

"I see no reason to feel discouraged, looking at it from our standpoint. It was a battle against tremendous odds, and the State organization has won a substantial victory. While a few of the leaders have lost their leadership, we have retained a majority of the delegates to the State convention. I figure that from Greater New York there will be about 168 Odell delegates, while Parsons, Higgins, et al., will have 158. With a few districts to hear from up State, we have nearly half the votes in the State convention, within twenty or thirty, I think—certainly enough so that now there is no question about the State convention's being opposed to the renomination of Higgins.

"The time has gone by for personalities. I want to make it clear that I am not saying anything against Higgins because of any personal feeling. I merely mean that there must be a far stronger candidate to carry the Republican party to victory."

CHRISTIAN IDEALS.

BRYAN FEELS THE NEED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLUMBIA (S. C.) Sept. 19.—William J. Bryan today spoke to 3000 people on the campus of the South Carolina University. Bryan expressed gratification that this meeting had been opened with prayer, and referred to the fact that the need of the moment was Christian ideals for citizenship.

He declared he had no objection to the President using his (Bryan's) platform, but he does object to electing a Republican when a Democrat could be chosen on the same platform and be consistent.

In the course of the address he claimed that had the Democrats won in 1900 the money saved from subsequent Philippine campaigns would have dug the Panama Canal.

MURPHY HOLDS TAMMANY FAST.

HE CAN CAUSE UNIT RULE TO BE APPLIED.

Boss's Victory Is Believed to Preclude Possibility of Jerome Securing the New York County Delegation to the State Convention—Won't Say He's for Hearst.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—According to the returns and the reported affiliation of the leaders elected at the Democratic primaries yesterday, Charles F. Murphy will be in control of 34 votes in the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall, representing twenty districts, and will control sixty of the 105 delegates to the Democratic State Convention. These votes will enable the Tammany leader, if he so desires, to apply the unit rule and cast the vote of Tammany Hall solidly for the candidate determined upon by a majority of the delegates.

Up to the present time Murphy has made no statement as to his intentions in this respect, but during the primary campaign it was generally understood that Murphy was friendly to Hearst.

Murphy's victory, however, is believed to preclude the possibility of Dist.-Atty. Jerome securing the New York county delegation to the State convention. In Brooklyn, State Senator Patrick H. McCarren retains control of the County Democratic convention and a control of the majority of the delegation.

In the Republican primaries, Herbert E. Parsons, president of the County Republican Committee, defeated the forces of former Gov. O'Day and L. E. Quigg. Parsons carried 22 of the 35 districts.

There was no opposition to Hearst in the Democratic primaries in Erie county yesterday, and the full county delegation, including Buffalo, will be instructed for him.

TAMMANY NOT COMMITTED.

Murphy, Tammany's leader, was asked if he thought the result of yesterday's primaries indicated the nomination of Hearst on the Democratic ticket for Governor.

"I cannot say," he said. "Tammany Hall is not committed to any candidate."

He said he thought the unit rule would prevail at the Buffalo convention.

In many sections in up-State counties, the results are still in doubt.

Former Mayor McGuire of Syracuse claims all the three Onondaga districts for Hearst, but State Committeeman Haven declares Jerome has carried one, and possibly two districts.

Mayor McClellan, in commenting upon the result of the primaries, said: "I am content with the results."

A letter was read at the Democratic Assembly convention in Buffalo this afternoon from National Committeeman Norman E. Mack, in which he stated that since the nominations by the Independence League, he cannot, with propriety or justice to his position, any longer favor the candidacy of Hearst for Governor by the Democratic State Convention next week.

POLITICAL BRIEFS.

Texans Tackling Bailey.

MINNEOLA (Tex.) Sept. 19.—E. D. Jackson, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Woods county, has issued a call for a mass meeting of the Democrats of this county at Quitman, Saturday, September 29, "to ascertain and express our wishes in regard to instructing our State Senator and our Representative in voting against J. W. Bailey for United States Senator from Texas." Jackson states that the call is prompted by recent developments made in the testimony of H. Clay Pierce at St. Louis.

Sullivan Not Hunting Bryan.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The report in a Chicago morning paper, in which it is made to appear that I am inviting William J. Bryan to read Senator Bailey of Texas out of the Democratic party because of his alleged corporation connection, is wholly without foundation, and lacks even color of authority from me," said Roger Sullivan today.

Independence League Nominations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the Independence League, the following nominations were made: Presiding Appellate Judge, First District, J. A. Cooper; associate judges, M. T. Dooling, John F. Haux; Railroad Commissioner, W. J. Biggy. Henry G. Davis, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Fifth District, was indorsed.

Hearst, With a "String."

BUFFALO, Sept. 19.—In the Second Assembly District Democratic Convention, this afternoon, Norman E. Mack and W. J. Connors were elected delegates to the State convention. A resolution was adopted instructing these delegates to vote for Hearst to head the ticket, "providing that, at the time of the convention, he is not a candidate of any other party or organization."

Renomination of Codd.

DETROIT (Mich.) Sept. 19.—The count of ballots cast at the Wayne county primaries, Monday and Tuesday, assures the renomination of Mayor George P. Codd. City Treasurer William B. Thompson will be the Democratic nominee.

Nominations in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Samuel P. Rotan was nominated for District Attorney by the Republicans today. First District, Gen. J. H. Bingham; Second, John E. Heyburn; Third, J. Hampton Moore; Fourth District, Rebun O. Moon; Fifth, J. H. Oden; Sixth, J. R. McCrath, all Republicans.

Gen. Weaver Nominated.

ALBIA (Iowa) Sept. 19.—Gen. James B. Weaver of Colfax, former Congressman from the Sixth Iowa District, was nominated today for Congress by the Populist Independence League, the organized labor party. He will oppose John F. Lacey.

MANY FIGHT FOREST FIRE.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—A forest fire is raging in the El Cajon Valley, near this city, and has already covered an area three by six miles. Despite fire-fighting squads, which have been constantly at work since Monday, when the blaze began, the fire is spreading rapidly, and working its way toward Alpine, three miles distant. In its path are a number of farms, which are in danger. The fire has already consumed the country residence of J. S. Harbison, noted as the pioneer apiarist of California, whose loss is several thousand dollars.

GEN. IDE SAYS HIS FAREWELL.

FILIPINO CITIZENS GIVE HIM A PARTING DINNER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MANILA, Sept. 19.—A dinner which was at once a farewell to Gov.-Gen. Ide and a welcome to his successor, Gen. Smith, was given tonight by a number of citizens of the Philippines.

Speeches eulogistic of the Ide administration were made by several Filipinos and representatives of American, British and Filipino interests greeted Gen. Smith.

On retiring Gov. Ide reviewed the work of his administration, calling attention to the substantial progress which had been made. He said that the foundation for commercial and industrial development had been laid but while much has been accomplished, there is much remaining to be done.

Gov.-Gen. Smith in responding to the welcome tendered him, asked for the coöperation of all classes of citizens in support of the government, as there must be cohesion in order to obtain results.

FREDENDALL ACCUSED.

Capt. Ira L. Fredendall of the quartermaster's department, was charged in the court of First Instance in this city, this afternoon, of misappropriation of public funds.

The filing of these charges is the culmination of extensive investigations by the insular authorities into an alleged series of frauds perpetrated by members of the quartermaster's department in the Philippines.

The inquiry resulted in the discovery of padded pay rolls in quartermaster's shops and grafting in the lease of lighters. Both officers and civilians are implicated and courts-martial will follow the court proceedings.

Maj.-Gen. Wood continued the inquiry originally begun by Maj.-Gen. Corbin. The result of the investigation has been a great saving in transportation funds and a decrease in graft, such as the manufacture of furniture in the shops for the private use of officers and civilians.

High officials in the army and government are said to have been the beneficiaries.

PARADE REVIEWED.

A large crowd viewed the parade of troops, Gov. Smith, in his address announced that his policy would be the policy of President McKinley and Secretary Taft, the education and preparation of the people for popular self-government. Discussing politics he said:

"I personally doubt that independence is the panacea for all the ills that people are heir to. Has Cuba found that an independent nationality has given good government, peace and content? Independence without force or means to maintain it is not worth having. Independence without good government is deceiving."

Retiring Gov.-Gen. Ide will leave Manila Sunday for Japan.

INQUIRY NOT FINISHED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Partial reports of the investigation into the operations of the quartermaster's department have reached the War Department from time to time, but the inquiry is not finished. Many officers of the army and some of the employés of the civil government figure in this investigation and all of them separately have been called on to explain why they ordered furniture and other articles from the quartermaster's department.

WOOD FIBER PAPER CLIMBS.

SIMULTANEOUS ADVANCE MADE BY MILLS.

Chicago Dealers Fear the Old Trust Tactics Will Be Pursued Again Though Violation of the Law May Be Avoided from Former Experience of the General Paper Company.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—An increase of $5 a ton in the price of wood fiber papers with a corresponding advance in other classes, has raised the fear among Chicago dealers that a new trust is forming. This fear is augmented by the fact that the notices abolishing former schedules were withdrawn by all the mills simultaneously and the prices listed thus far have been identical.

While it is believed a new combination of paper manufacturers has been or is being formed, it is not thought it will be so complete as that effected under the General Paper Company. This concern, which was known as the trust, went out of business last May as the result of an injunction suit brought at St. Paul by the Federal government. The company refused to show its books and when ordered to do so by the court agreed to accept judgment and go out of business.

The theory of the Chicago paper broker is that this error will not be made a second time and that no one firm will be allowed to handle the output of all the mills in the combine. It is pointed out that practically the same result can be obtained by an association if the members adhere to the agreement.

BOXBOARD PRICE RAISED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Manufacturers of boxboard, who are members of the Boxboard Manufacturers' Association have issued a notice to the trade that the prices of all grades of board has been advanced $2 a ton except in the case of wood pulp boards.

CARMANIA GOLDEN SHIP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Cunard steamer Carmania, which is due to arrive in this port today, may well be called a golden ship. In the strong boxes of the steamer are shipments of gold aggregating $10,000,000. This gold is imported by banks and bankers in view of the recent money stringency.

The transactions were facilitated by the Treasury Department, which advanced most of the cash used, so that the bankers would not lose interest on their money, while the gold was en route. The bankers turned over to the Treasury Department government and other bonds to cover the advances, pending the receipt of the gold.

CZAR ABSENT FROM BURIAL.

Emperor Fails to Attend Gen. Trepoff's Funeral.

Army Officers and Functionaries Follow Casket.

Gen. Nicolacieff Is Assassinated at Warsaw.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 19.—Gen. Trepoff, who died last Saturday, was buried today at Peterhoff. Contrary to expectation the Emperor was not present at the funeral. His Majesty is still cruising in Finnish waters on board the imperial yacht.

A great throng of army officers and high functionaries followed the casket on foot, according to the Russian custom, through lines of soldiery representing all the units of the St. Petersburg garrison from the villa where the general died to the cathedral and thence to the place of interment.

COMMENT UNFAVORABLE.

The fact that the Emperor did not abandon his pleasure cruise to return and attend the funeral of a devoted subject, although his return was scheduled for yesterday, has aroused much unfavorable comment. It is recalled that His Majesty absented himself from the funeral of Gen. Kondrachenko, who lost his life at Port Arthur.

The Emperor and the Empress were represented today only by magnificent wreaths. A high police officer explained that the absence of the Emperor was due to Premier Stolypin, who had been informed that an attempt might be made against His Majesty and telegraphed him not to return.

ONE MINISTER PRESENT.

With the exception of the Controller of the Empire, Schwaneback, no minister was present. The only members of the Imperial family who attended the funeral were Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, his brother, Grand Duke Peter, and Grand Duchess Elizabeth, widow of the late Grand Duke Sergius, and a sister of the Empress. The widow of Grand Duke Sergius came from Moscow especially to attend the funeral. She walked with the widow and daughters of Gen. Trepoff behind the casket.

In view of the possibility of urban disorders the war office has decided to add hand grenades to the equipment of the troops.

THIRD LIBERAL PARTY FORMED.

A third Liberal party known as Kovavesky's Democratic Reformers is in the field to receive the sanction of the government.

Vasset, characterized as the most dangerous of the terrorist leaders and the author of many crimes, was arrested on Tuesday at Mitau. Vaset has been handed over to the military authorities for trial by drumhead court-martial.

The State Bank tomorrow will raise the rate of discount by 1 per cent.

OUTBREAK TO BE SUPPRESSED.

In view of the rumors of an impending anti-Jewish outbreak at Bialystok on Saturday next, when another religious procession is scheduled to take place, Gov.-Gen. Bogalevsky has issued an order announcing that any attempt at organizing an outbreak will be stringently put down, and that measures have been taken to prevent such an occurrence by the use of armed forces.

The newspapers of St. Petersburg today published an alleged letter from Count Witte criticising the policy of Premier Stolypin and saying that while the latter favors the party of the right Count Witte was always with the left. The letter states that Count Witte wishes M. Stolypin success but that he is convinced the Premier's policy will fail.

A battery of the fortress guards garrisoning the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul has been disarmed and replaced by sharp shooters of the guard who refused to do sentinel work. It was the sharpshooters at the maneuvers at Krosnoye-Selo, August 10, who fired on Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholalevitch.

JEWS ARE WARNED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ODESSA, Sept. 19.—Many Jews continue to receive anonymous warnings not to attend the synagogues tomorrow for the festival of the Jewish New Year for fear of possible "Black Hundred" outrages.

The Governor of Odessa today reiterated his advice to the foreign consuls to maintain vigilant watchfulness at the consulates as the anarchists threaten to attack with the object of causing international complications.

In view of the impending disorders, the foreign consuls met today and decided to insist that the authorities supply guards for the consulates. The prefect reassured them but promised that guards would be sent.

The president of the union of the Russian people telegraphed to the Odessa committee of the organization that he had an interview with Premier Stolypin, who assured him the government would not permit further anti-Jewish excesses.

An extensive Agrarian riot broke out today at the village of Lysageroa. Estates have been burned and nearly all the local officials injured. Cossacks have arrested 220 of the rioters.

POISONED BY BAD MEAT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BRESLAU, Sept. 19.—A dispatch from Tompzow, Russian Poland, says that fifty persons there were poisoned at a confirmation festival by eating meat which had been cooked in a copper kettle containing verdigris. Nineteen persons have already died.

STATE ATTORNEY SHOT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TASHKEND (Asiatic Russia) Sept. 19.—M. Scharigin, State Attorney at the court here, today was shot and killed by a student named Bodrighk. The murderer was arrested.

NICHOLAEIFF KILLED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WARSAW, Sept. 19.—Gen. Nicholaeiff of the artillery, has been assassinated here. He was erroneously thought to be a member of the field court-martial. Gen. Nicholaeiff was walking on Wilka street this morning when he was surrounded by five revolutionists and shot dead. The murderers escaped.

The rumor that there was a secret revolutionary printing plant in existence in the workshops of a new bridge in course of construction here has led to extraordinary measures.

Six battalions of infantry, six squads of cavalry and two batteries of artillery took possession of both banks of the Vistula in the vicinity of the bridge and four gunboats stopped the river traffic and posted loaded guns at the piers while officers and soldiers made a minute search of the locality, arresting engineers, workmen, the boatmen, fishermen and inhabitants of neighboring houses.

Altogether 900 persons were searched or arrested.

UNION PACIFIC FACES INQUIRY.

INTERSTATE TO PROBE EXTENSIVE LAND FRAUDS.

Corporation Is Accused of Having Men Employed for the Purpose of Obtaining Sale of Property for the Sole Benefit of the Railroad, and Hiding Under Coal Company Cloak.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An investigation into sensational charges in connection with the Union Pacific Railway Company and its auxiliary, the Union Pacific Coal Company, with extensive land frauds accomplished through perjury, conspiracy, false representation and the use of disreputable characters as "dummies," is scheduled before the Interstate Commerce Commission, which meets in Omaha today.

The commission is empowered to proceed by virtue of the Tillman-Gillespie Congressional Act, which gives it authority to investigate relations existing between railroads and coal and oil companies.

Before the inquiry has ended, it is said, men high in the councils of the Union Pacific companies and numerous subordinates as well, will be enmeshed in evidence which the government officials are planning to present. Whatever evidence is adduced will be placed with the Department of Justice for such legal proceedings as may be deemed necessary.

In the investigation evidence will be introduced showing that men drafted from the flotsam and jetsam of Denver were used early in 1904 to make declaratory statements required by the government, that they wished to become possessed of the road's Wyoming coal lands, and then were paid sums ranging from $3 to $10 to be agents of the Union Pacific Coal Company and to give power of attorney to a representative of the Union Pacific Coal Company—said to be one of its well-known agents—and to sign relinquishment of their rights in the premises.

CASTRO FAILS TO IMPROVE.

Condition in Trinidad Still Is Critical and Alarming Reports Are Circulated.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—A special cable dispatch from Trinidad states that the critical condition of President Castro since his removal to Antimano has not improved. His mysterious sequestration continues. President Castro, the dispatch declares, has performed no administration act in two months.

It was on the day of Gen. Castro's return to Caracas from his suburban residence that he caught cold which was the beginning of his illness. He had been in retreat at Los Teques for several weeks, while Vice-President Gomez ruled in his stead.

There were many balls and other festivities in celebration of Gen. Castro's return and on returning from the rain he caught more cold which last of these, on July 21, in a pouring quickly developed malaria. The disease proved stubborn, and soon the most alarming reports began to circulate.

It was said that the President was at the point of death, and despite repeated official denials the report gained such general credence that Caracas dwelt in continuous alarm.

It is nowhere denied that, despite all the adverse criticism of Gen. Castro, his powerful hand preserves peace in Venezuela, and that his untimely taking off would plunge Venezuela into civil war.

CEDROLE IS LAUNCHED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

QUINCY (Mass.) Sept. 19.—The twin-screw turbine steamer Cedrole was launched at the yard of the Fore River Shipbuilding Company here today, and was christened by Miss Mary Harriman, daughter of E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific. The vessel was built by that company for the Atlantic service of the Southern Pacific Company, and is intended to run between New York and New Orleans.

She is a steel steamship of the hurricane-deck type and was especially designed as a first-class passenger and freight steamship. The vessel has five decks and is subdivided by transverse water-tight bulkheads into four cargo holds.

She is 440 feet long, 53 feet in breadth and 37 feet in depth. She has accommodations for about 500 passengers, including 258 steerage.

PARENTS HUNT LOST BOY.

Cecil A. Brittan, Five Years Old, Believed to Have Been Kidnaped from Toll Gate, Or.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Relatives of Cecil A. Brittan, 5 years of age, who was kidnaped July 15 near his parents' summer home at Toll Gate, Or., asked the Chicago police yesterday to aid in the search for the missing boy.

The boy's father, R. L. Brittan, a wealthy merchant of Walla Walla, Wash., has offered a reward of $1000 for the return of his son. It is believed the kidnaper is holding the boy in order to secure ransom money.

A boy answering the description of Cecil A. Brittan was arrested recently by the police, and the following day a man who said he was the boy's father took him to Salt Lake, Utah.

HOPES FOR SHIPPING BILL.

Boston Steamship Company Lays Its Lessened Profits to Unsatisfactory Laws.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the annual meeting of the Boston Steamship Company operating on the Pacific coast to Japan, the directors were reëlected. The report for the year ended July 30, 1906, shows an unsatisfactory state of affairs. The net profits were only $5645 against $221,000 for the previous year, and $125,592 for the year before that.

The balance sheet shows a total surplus of $38,206. The annual report says the year's unsatisfactory business is due partly to the failure of Congress to pass a shipping bill, and states that the company has strong hopes for its passage early in the next session, and considers favorable action necessary for the future financial success of this company.

SANITARIUM OWNER SUED.

Woman Occupant of Dr. Vail's Place at Enfield, Ct., Claims Forcible Detention.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Suit for $10,000 damages against Dr. Edwin S. Vail, proprietor of the Elmcroft Sanitarium, Enfield, Ct., is a sequel to the sensational escape in August of Mrs. Mary Josephine Simmons, now of Boston, the wife of Egbert Simmons, a Providence (R. I.) business man.

The suit is brought by Mrs. Simmons for illegal detention against her will. She was rescued at a pistol's point by two men, one of whom she said was her brother, while out walking with two guards. They were given a ride with Mrs. Simmons by the two men, who overtook them and then the guards were compelled to get out and walk back to the sanitarium, the rescuers taking Mrs. Simmons with them.

Mrs. Simmons was committed to the sanitarium about five months ago for alcoholism, though unjustly, she claims.

THE FALL SEASON

Makes Its Real Start Today The First "Different" Authorative Display of

The Autumn Styles in Hats and Suits

"Different" because devoid of frills and furbelows—just a big, broad exposition of styles stamped with the seal of Fashion's approval—yet filled with the practicalness that makes them most to be wanted now—the suits and hats women are demanding for immediate wearing, sensible—distinctive—individual.

"Different" because of the lowness of the price at which every suit and hat is marked. (We're most glad of all to mark prices down at the very start of the season—when they will be most welcome to you, when high prices are so generally in force.)

"Authoritative"—because of the scope of the event—big—broad—varied.

Intensely interesting to you—because you are thinking of your new fall suit and hat now—you want to get the most becoming styles possible. (If you choose from largest varieties you will be most sure of getting just the style that suits yo best.) You want to pay as little money as possible—Then come to the second floor today. You're welcome to look, though it will be a great buying day—there are no preliminaries to Broadway merchandising—an opening doesn't mean simply a showing here. We do not open a season until we are thoroughly ready.

Note the Suits and hats in the picture—they have been drawn directly from those you'll see on the second floor today. We want to give you as good a newspaper idea as we can—why it is important for you to come to the second floor today; why one customer we took behind the scenes said she hadn't seen such a splendid collection of sensible styles anywhere else; that nowhere were prices so surprisingly low.

Trimmed Hats $4.98

We're going to make this price unusually important—make it mean more than $4.98 ever meant here before. A splendid variety is ready today—pretty Peter Pan styles nobby effects in medium size shapes, larger dress hats in Vista Tilley, Gainsborough and other favorite shapes. Copies of models, our own ideas, cleverly worked out. Fingers have been flying the past few days—how resultfully, see today. Hats of velvet, of braid, of felt in every good shape and shade. All $4.98. Then others from $2.98 to $25.00. Such a variety and difference to shape and shade and trimming—we give no description here—note the picture. Come to the second floor today—come prepared to choose the new fall hat you want—to pay less than you expected to pay.

KOWLOON PENINSULA SWEPT BY TYPHOON.

Property Losses Estimated at Several Million Dollars—Great Loss of Life Among Chinese—One Hundred Thirty from One Launch Drowned.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HONGKONG Sept. 20.—It is estimated that 5000 Chinese have lost their lives in the recent typhoon.

Deaths are daily increasing in mortality. The steamer Fatshan has been refloated.

HONGKONG, Sept. 19.—The typhoon which swept this port during two hours. Most of the damage was wrought on the Kowloon side. The property losses are estimated at several million dollars. There was great loss of life. Several thousand sampans and junks coming from Hongkong alone. Many were swept away and houses ashore. The military barracks are in ruins.

LOSSES APPALLING.

The water is strewn with wreckage cast on the shore. Hundreds of bodies and their families mourned by the bravery of the police, but several thousand Chinese water dwellers must have perished, many within short distances of the shore.

The losses in lives and property among the Chinese were appalling. Today the police stations in Hongkong are surrounded by Chinese, identifying their dead. The families of the Hongkong boatmen live night and day on the sampans, and thousands of these people are now homeless. The Chinese take the disaster calmly, and show no manifestations of grief.

DROWNED 130 AT ONCE.

One launch that was capsized had 130 Chinese on board. They all were drowned.

BISHOP OF VICTORIA MISSING.

The bishop of Victoria, Dr. J. C. Hoare, was on his way to visit some neighboring islands when the storm broke, and he is reported missing. His launch has been found floating bottom upward.

REVISED LIST OF VESSELS.

The steamers Monteagle, Fatshun, Keung Chan, Wing Chai, Hermania, Castellano, Takhing, Emma Luyken, San Rosario, Siava, Pak Hong, Petrarch, Chum Lee, Sexta, Sunon, Chang Sha Signal and Chinkaf Maru are ashore. The American ship S. P. Hitchcock was also driven ashore, as were many of the launches that run about the harbor. The steamers Kwong Chow, San Cheung, Sorsogon and Kongmoon were sunk. The steamers Apenrade and Johanne are partly awash. The British reserve sloop Phoenix and a small gunboat, the Dongola, are ashore. The British torpedo-boat destroyers Morono, Robin and Taku were damaged. The Sir William Jervu was sunk. The French torpedo-boat destroyer Froude was wrecked and the Franchisque is ashore. The guns of the Froude were saved, but three petty officers and one seaman lost their lives.

A Chinese revenue cruiser is ashore, and several Indo-China and Manila liners narrowly escaped disaster.

FATSHAN IN COLLISION.

The river steamer Fatshan drifted into collision with the French mail steamer. The entire Chinese crew climbed aboard the French steamer, and left Capt. Thomas, who was injured, one officer and the engineers to navigate the Fatshan to Shelter Bay, where she was blown ashore.

VESSEL HURLED ASHORE.

Many valuable steel lighters have been lost. Some of them were hurled ashore. Channels will have to be dug to permit some of the vessels ashore to be refloated. The force of the wind and waves was such that some vessels were stranded almost high and dry.

The Japanese steamer Sada Maru rescued sixty-six natives. The English mail steamer Delhi and Poona escaped damage. The British cruiser Terrible entered port yesterday afternoon, and reported fine weather up to the harbor.

GOVERNOR RENDERS AID.

Sir Matthew Nathan, Governor of Hongkong, and the authorities are doing everything possible to render assistance.

Reports of fresh disasters are arriving every hour. Only a few Europeans are missing.

No reports are on hand to show how the fishing fleets and the ships outside the harbor fared.

Public opinion is incensed at the observatory for not reporting the approaching typhoon. An inquiry has been demanded. For years past, the observatory has been subjected to adverse criticism, but on this occasion it is not believed to be blameable.

NUMEROUS DEAD FLOATING.

At the request of Sir Matthew Nathan, Governor General of Hongkong, the British naval commander has dispatched a fleet of torpedo boats to cruise around the island for the purpose of recovering corpses. Numerous dead are floating along the water front. The Chinese hospitals are providing free burials.

Gov. Nathan has formed a Chinese relief committee and has headed a fund with a subscription of $500. He has promised to contribute on behalf of the government, subject to the legislative council's approval, an amount equal in the aggregate to the community's subscription.

POWERFUL SALVAGE STEAMER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 19.—According to advices received here tonight from Hongkong, the powerful salvage steamer Proctor has been secured to take part in salvage operations in the vicinity of Hongkong.

FRENCHMEN IN THE STORM.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—A cablegram from the French admiral at Hongkong confirms the news of serious damage to the French torpedo boats Froude and Franchisque during the typhoon. Five members of the crew of the torpedo boats were drowned and several injured.

LAND LINES DAMAGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Commercial Cable Company received notice today that the land lines were damaged by the typhoon.

CONDITION OF VESSELS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—A dispatch to the Admiralty from the British commodore at Hongkong reporting the typhoon expresses the fear that the British sloop Phoenix is hopelessly damaged. The steamer Monteagle, belonging to the Canadian Pacific Railroad Company and the French torpedo boat Francisque, will probably both be refloated. The French torpedo boat Fronde is expected to be a total wreck. A large sailing vessel was thrown almost on top of her.

FIRE AT BUENOS AYRES.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 19.—Customs dock No. 4 has been destroyed by fire. The damage is estimated at over a million dollars. The shipping is safe.

SWEET MARIE COMING HOME.

Will Race Against Time at Agricultural Park.

Audubon Boy Will Be Here to Pace Exhibition.

Sweet Marie, the grand California-bred trotting mare which has made several world's records this year, will try for a new record at Agricultural Park, Los Angeles, during the harness meet which is to be held here November 21, 22, 23, 24. Meanwhile she will trot exhibition miles for a record at Cincinnati, next week; at Lextington the following week, and possibly Memphis after that, if a harness meeting is held there.

This programme is conditional on whether or not Sweet Marie's owner, William Garland of Los Angeles, retains possession of her. Although no direct offers have been made for the purchase of the fast mare, Mr. Garland has been approached indirectly, and a sale may be affected. He is willing to part with her for $50,000, but if it were not for ill-health he would retain possession of his great trotter and follow her over the circuit.

With Sweet Marie will come her trainer and driver, Alta McDonald, one of the greatest reinsmen in the country today. Mr. Garland has about decided to take action which will bring the two great performers to Los Angeles, and only conditions not now foreseen will cause a change in contemplated plans.

In addition to Sweet Marie, it is planned to bring Audubon Boy, the great sidewheeler, to Los Angeles to pace against time. The gelding has a mark of 1:59¾, and to break this record here would give Los Angeles a prominent place in the harness-horse world. Audubon Boy is owned by James Y. Gaffcomb of Concord, N. H.

Instructions have been forwarded to McDonald by Mr. Garland ordering that Sweet Marie be sent against the time of Lou Dillon under exactly the same conditions, wind shield and all. Mr. Garland is confident that the grand old campaigner can equal if not lower Lou's fast time made under two minutes.

Officers and members of the Los Angeles Harness Horse Association will first learn of the probable coming of Sweet Marie and Audubon Boy when they read it in The Times, this morning, for Mr. Garland has not yet announced to them his wish to bring his trotter here. Yesterday afternoon Secretary Bob Smith was arranging the events for the big meet, but he had reserved no place for the two great record-breakers. It is needless to say that the plans for the meet will be revised so as to be grouped about Sweet Marie and Audubon Boy.

MR. GARLAND'S PLANS.

"I am very, very strongly inclined to bring Sweet Marie here," said Mr. Garland yesterday afternoon. "You see, the Grand Circuit probably will break up at Lexington because the laws of Tennessee prevent pool selling, which will make a meeting at Memphis undesirable. In that case Marie has no further engagements in the East, unless such are made later. I want to bring her out here for a good rest of at least two months before beginning training for the spring meets. If nothing interferes with her coming, she will reach here some time between October 15 and 25. I will then allow her to trot an exhibition mile in the November meeting at Agricultural Park, after which she may have her rest."

Sweet Marie has established three world's records on the Grand Circuit this year. She trotted the fastest mile ever negotiated in a race by a mare; she went the fastest second heat ever trotted by stallion, gelding, or mare; she trotted the fastest two-heat race ever run by stallion, gelding, or mare. All her performances have been during actual races in which she made faster time than in her exhibition miles, in which her best time made was 2:04¼.

The two record heats were trotted in 2:03¾ and 2:04¾, the time for the two miles being 4:08½. The previous best record for the two miles was made by Cresceus in 4:09¾, and by Lou Dillon in the same time. Sweet Marie's best previous mark was 4:10¾. The Monk made the two heats in 4:12. The best recent performance was made at the Syracuse meet, when Sweet Marie trotted the mile in 2:05 in an exhibition event.

Wentworth is the only trotter which had the least chance to beat Sweet Marie in a heat this year, and when the gelding became ill the mare was forced to trot exhibitions. It is probable that at the Lexington meeting something special will be arranged for Marie. It is then that she probably will be called upon to beat Lou Dillon's record under the conditions the latter trotted.

SWEET MARIE'S LIFE.

Sweet Marie was nine years old last March. She is California born and bred. She passed many days of her early life at Agricultural Park, and it was at a horse sale there that Mr. Garland purchased her from M. M. Potter, the hotel man, for $3150 when she was coming five years old.

Marie was sired by McKinney, 2:11¼, sire of Zolock, the half brother of Marie. McKinney is by Alcyone, 2:27, by George Wilkes, 2:22. Marie's dam is Lady Rivers, by Carr's Mabrino, son of Mambrino Patchen. The great trotter thus combines the two famous strains of the Wilkes and Mambrinos.

In order that the trial at Agricultural Park will be recognized officially if a record is broken, all the rules of the National Trotting Association will be observed to the letter in the meet. The track will be prepared especially for the occasion.

Undoubtedly the owners of Audubon Boy will winter him in California, but they will also send him against the time records or allow him to enter a race to show his paces to spectators.

It is doubtful if Sweet Marie will stop over en route West to trot exhibition miles. Probably she will start from Lexington and make the entire trip at once, living the several days on the road in a specially fitted up car for her comfort. If she is sold, she may be brought to Los Angeles, anyhow, for California is the real winter home for thoroughbreds and harness horses.

Sweet Marie (2:03¾), trotting champion. This grand local campaign mare will attempt to lower record at Agricultural Park during November harness meeting.

MAY LOSE CHANCE AT CUP.

George Robertson's Auto Bumps Pole Near Mineola, L. I., and Is Wrecked.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—George Robertson and his mechanician, Arthur Warren, were seriously injured in an automobile accident near Mineola, L.I., today while on a practice spin in preparation for the Vanderbilt cup race.

At Hairpin turn, the sharpest on the course, the 90 horsepower car swerved wide, struck a telegraph pole and hurled its occupants out. Robertson sustained a broken collar bone and his mechanician two broken ribs. Both were rendered unconscious.

Robertson's car is believed to be too badly damaged to take part in the race.

One is to be with Jimmy Gardner, one with Dick Fitzpatrick and one with Bill Rhodes, Joe Walcott or Mike Twin Sullivan. The first will be with Gardner, and the second and third will be fought, win or lose.

Pasadena Prize Winner.

O'BRIEN MAY FIGHT HERE.

January Date Is First One He Can Use.

Burns Thinks He Can Knock Out Berger.

Flynn Shows Up Well in His Training Work.

There were no new developments yesterday in the question of getting a fight here for "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, for the very good reason that Jack doesn't know just what the next two months may bring forth. If he could get some palmist or fortune teller to cast a horoscope for him, good enough to win a bet on, he might make a lot of money knowing what would turn up between now and Christmas.

Tommy Burns and Sam Berger are about the only ones in sight at present who could give O'Brien a good fight in the light heavyweight class. Burns is matched with Flynn to fight here October 2, and Berger and O'Brien are matched to fight at Colma on Thanksgiving Day and the chances are that there may be another champion beside Burns by December 1, for you can't most always sometimes tell.

Burns got chesty last night and declared over the phone to The Times that he would fight Berger and post $1000 that he could knock him out in twenty rounds. He also declared that he would like to fight O'Brien for a $5000 side bet on the January date of the Pacific Athletic Club and would let O'Brien make the division of the purse and leave everything to O'Brien, but wants Siler for referee. The only condition he makes is that O'Brien post a forfeit of $1000 or $2000 that he will be in the ring on the date agreed upon. The thing that Tommy seems to be afraid of is that O'Brien might get a better match in the money line and pass him up, but it is not likely for O'Brien seems to think Burns a little easy money.

All this splurge of Burns is news to Manager McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club, for as far as he knows Burns and O'Brien have had no conversation about fighting. McCarey said last night he had done little or nothing with O'Brien in the fight line except to talk about the January date as being the best one open to O'Brien after his fight with Berger.

It will strike the average reader that Burns has a good opinion of his own prowess in making such talks about Berger and O'Brien and it might be better for him to wait until he beats both before making any more speeches. Both are a lot better than Billy Woods and Mike Schreck with whom Burns fought draws and both are much better than Jack Sullivan, who beat Burns. Tommy should also remember that he lost to O'Brien in Milwaukee once upon a time. If Tommy is so afraid that O'Brien will pass him up he should make a proposition for the winner to take all the money and then he could soon find out if O'Brien intended to run away.

FLYNN SHOWS WELL.

CROWD SEES HIM WORK.

Jim Flynn's training quarters, at the East Side Athletic Club, were crowded with a distinguished array of sporting men yesterday afternoon, including Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, who went out with Manager Tom McCarey of the Pacific Athletic Club. Every seat in the neat little gymnasium was filled and many were compelled to stand.

When it comes to training quarters the big Coloradoan has anything in the country skinned, and Manager Ward of the club has left nothing lacking.

Flynn was found working at the pulleys, but soon advanced to the punching bag and shadow work. In these stunts he gave a good exhibition. Back and chest exercises followed, then more shadow work, and he was ready for Kid Dewey. The men went two fast rounds. How Dewey could stand up under such punishment and come back strong for more was a marvel to even Jack O'Brien, who remarked that Flynn was one of the toughest boys he has seen in the ring.

After a minute's rest Billy Walsh, a promising young lightweight, donned the mitts and went two fast rounds, chasing Flynn about the ring and being in turn chased.

It was when Arthur Collins, Flynn's other sparring partner, stepped out for a four-round set-to that the audience saw Flynn to the best advantage. Collins is fast and shifty, and set a pace that made the fighting fireman extend himself. The work in these rounds was of about the same order as the wind-up in a ten-round battle for blood, and ended with both men puffing for wind.

The excessive hot weather may necessitate seeking cooler quarters for Flynn does not care to take off too much flesh, which is resulting from the sweltering rays that pour down upon him when on the road or out for exercise. He has been worked with sweaters, but will abandon these today and cut out a steady pace for the next ten days.

Among those who saw Flynn work was De Witte Van Court, who came from the quarters impressed with a high estimation of the youngster's ability to win from Burns.

JIM FLYNN.

DOGGIE SHOW OPENS TODAY.

BARKERS WILL HOLD FORTH AT VENICE THREE DAYS.

Over One Hundred Fine Specimens of First-class Breeds Are to Be on Exhibition—Boston Terriers Are in the Greatest Number, With the Dalmatians Next.

With a howl and a bark that will probably scare all the fish away from the wharf, the Southwestern Kennel Club will open its dog show at Venice today and from the class of entries the show promises to be one of the best ever held on the Coast. It is said there will be between 100 and 150 dogs exhibited.

There may not be as many dogs as other local shows have had but the class will be all that could be asked, for there will be several dogs that were never seen on the Coast before and a few classes that have not been exhibited in the West.

One of these is the Airesdales or rat and small game dogs and still another is the Russian wolf hound and it is doubtful if there are any better specimens in the country than will be at Venice today. There have been several conflicting stories about whether or not the "lion" dog would be shown, but the latest information is that he will be there, but even if he should not be there will be all one cares to look at in the way of prize winners.

There will be an especially fine bunch of Dalmatians or coach dogs and the St. Bernards will be represented by two fine ones in Queen Regent and Sir Violet, said to be the best bitch and dog in the entire country. The largest list of entries comes from the Boston terriers, of which there will be over twenty.

For the benefit of those who will hear the various classes spoken of it is stated that the puppy class is for all dogs over six and under twelve months old. The novice class includes all dogs never having won a prize at a show, except in the puppy class. The limit class is for all dogs never having won four first prizes, except that no champion can enter in this. The open class is for all dogs over six months old. The winners class is for first prize winners only.

ARBITRARY HANDICAP.

South Coast Yacht Club Preparing for Regatta to Be Held Next Sunday at San Pedro.

The South Coast Yacht Club's arbitrar handicap regatta will be held next Sunday at San Pedro. The boats entered are: Mischief II, Monsoon, Mischief I, Skiddoo, Venus, Marie, Minerva, Merlin, Diana, Typhoon, Osborn, Muriel, Katrina, Irma, Myth and Portola.

The course will be from the whistling buoy at Point Firmin to the whistling buoy at Point Vincente and return. The handicaps will be placed in a sealed envelope in custody of a disinterested person, and will be posted in the locker house, with results, after the race.

The prizes consist of: Pair of brass side lights for first place; silver cup, second; yacht cap with club emblem, third; flag, fourth.

The original plan of allowing only those boats which had raced in the club championship series to enter, has been rescinded.

The whistle at Firmin, at the start and finish, to be left to port. Whistle at Vincente to be left to starboard. Boats at the finish will round up, crossing the line between the lighthouse and the buoy. There will be but one gun start at 11 a.m. for all boats. The preparatory gun will be fired at 10:55 o'clock.

Golf Play on Saturday.

According to the understanding at present the semi-finals will be played off Saturday in the president's cup tournament at the Country Club. A. A. Fries, S. G. Wilson, J. O. Cobb and A. F. Morlan are to be the contestants and the two winners will meet in the finals at thirty-six holes. The chances are very favorable for Fries as he is a cracking good player and it is doubtful if any man that entered in the tournament can give him such a handicap as seven means, and win from him.

SUCCESSOR TO PULLIAM.

John E. Bruce May Become the Next President of the National Baseball League.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John E. Bruce, secretary of the National Commission and a prominent attorney of Cincinnati, is a candidate for the presidency of the National Baseball League, to succeed Harry Pulliam. The Bruce candidacy is backed by Brush, Herrman and Soden, unquestionably, and he is the man that Herrman meant when he announced in Cincinnati two weeks ago that he had a candidate for Pulliam's place, but that he would not divulge the name then.

Bruce's name was mentioned in conversation here by Arthur H. Soden, president of the Boston club, today, and in that way it became known who the candidate is who was being kept under cover by Herrman and Brush.

The New York magnate was in Boston last week and the plan of campaign for the fall meeting of the league was gone over. Bruce's election would be a long step toward the amalgamation of the two major leagues, for the Cincinnati attorney is Ban Johnson's counsel and a prominent stockholder in the St. Louis American League club.

Slats and Fats Practice.

The Slats and the Fats are practicing every day now for their great ball game next Sunday at the Chutes grounds, and it goes without saying that the town will be full of badly-use-up men after that game. A big bunch of players were out yesterday and they will practice again today and tomorrow but not on Saturday. As has been stated before, the proceeds of the game will be given to the Newsboys' Home and as Jack O'Brien will be in town that day, he will be one of the umpires. Jack McCarthy, who is about the best umpire the Pacific Coast League ever had, will be the other umpire.

Seattle's Great Record.

Seattle, 1; hits, 5; errors, 0.
Batteries—Jones and Blankenship; Meyers and Spies.

BIG BUCK SHOT IN CITY LIMITS.

George Paggi Discovers Deer in Cornfield and G. W. Dryden Shoots It With Winchester—Mountain Fires Believed to Have Driven It from Mountains.

G. W. Dryden shot a four-pronged buck, which dressed 130 pounds, within the city limits of Los Angeles at Hyde Park near Western and Vernon avenues, out Inglewood way, yesterday morning. The buck was feeding in a cornfield belonging to George Paggi, who discovered the animal and informed Dryden, who stalked the deer to its death. The buck is the first killed so close to habitation in Southern California in many years.

The theory is that the deer was frightened from the Santa Monica Mountains by the fires ranging near Encinos, last week, and sought safety in the lowlands. When it reached the green country it wandered about in the green pastures and finally located the cornfield, where it may have been hidden for days without detection.

Dryden shot the animal with his 30-30 Winchester at a distance of about 350 yards. The ball struck the deer in the back and crippled it so that it was easily despatched when Dryden came up to it. Only one shot was fired. The carcass is in the ice box of E. W. Grannis at Figueroa and Washington streets.

When shot, the deer was within fifty yards of a house, but it was hidden by the cornfield and shrubbery. It appeared reconciled to its new lot and was oblivious to danger until the huntsman's bullet laid it low. Dryden lives at Western and Vernon avenues.

G. W. DRYDEN,
who shot a deer within the city limits yesterday.

BERT HOLDS UP AGNEW.

Backs Seattle President Into Corner and Demands to Know if Team Will Go South.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John P. Agnew, business manager for the Seattle baseball team, has returned from his outing in the Hood's Canal country. President Eugene Bert of the Pacific Coast League met him at the dock and walked with him to the Republican State convention, backed him into a corner, and asked to know whether the Tacoma baseball team would be taken South by the club.

Agnew claims he does not know what will be done. He has gone into a conference with "other people," which he said he must see and will return a definite answer in the morning. Agnew does not like to see the profits of the season slipping away on the Southern trip, but he appears inclined to make the trip.

Bert had a long conference with Judge McCredie tonight about the baseball situation. McCredie is in favor of carrying out existing agreements.

The Hercules, Moonlight and Trade Dollar in the Burke district; the Alameda, Mayflower, Rex and Wine mines in the Mine Mill, and the Big Carbo and O.K. WAINRIGHT SETTLES BANK'S BIG CLAIM.

Receiver Earle Accepts Compromise and the Millionaire's Day of Grace Ends With All Parties to the Controversy Satisfied.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "We have reached a basis of settlement which is honorable on both sides. It could not have been reached if Mr. Wainright had been threatened with criminal procedure," said George S. Graham, attorney for Joseph R. Wainright, yesterday.

The basis of settlement is satisfactory to me. In fairness to Mr. Wainright, I want it understood that I did not threaten him with arrest, if he failed to settle," said Dist.-Atty. Bell. "I will go into court Thursday with a petition asking that the agreement made this evening between me and Mr. Wainright be ratified. Mr. Wainright duties any liability to the Real Estate Trust Company. While there are evidences of such liability, Mr. Wainright contends they are the dependent act of a man who is dead. I believe it to be, in justice, advantageous to the depositors, therefore, that this claim be compromised," declared George H. Earle, receiver of the Real Estate Trust Company.

THAT CLAIM FOR $278,000.

This explanation of the manner in which the adjustment was made, tonight, of the $278,000 claim of the Real Estate Trust Company against Joseph R. Wainright, the retired capitalist, were all that were given by the parties to a five hours' conference.

The claim arose when a memorandum by Frank K. Hipple, the suicide president of the company, was found, to the effect that a note for $250,000 signed by Wainright, had been taken out of its envelope for the purpose of having it renewed. Subsequently a check for $250,000 and another for $50,000, both made payable to Wainright, were found in Hipple's desk.

What proportion of this amount is to be paid under the compromise agreement will not be made known until the receiver shall file his petition, Thursday morning, asking the permission of the court to make the settlement. Earle received $10,000 from Adolph Segal, yesterday, to apply upon the Segal indebtedness.

FEARS AN OUTBREAK IN SANTO DOMINGO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Capt. Southerland, commanding the naval forces in Santo Domingo port, has cabled to the department that the situation on the island has grown very acute, and that a revolution of some proportions is possible. The government has assembled 400 men at Monte Christi, which, together with those already there, leaves other parts of the Dominican territory somewhat unprotected, and there is a possibility of a large uprising.

Communication between Puerto Plata and Monte Christi has been interrupted. Capt. Southerland recommends that no further movement of naval vessels from Santo Domingo waters be made under present conditions.

FISCAL AGENT'S SUCCESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frederico Velasquez, Minister of Finance and Commerce of Santo Domingo, who has been in the United States for two months seeking to adjust the financial affairs of his country, left for Santo Domingo today on the steamer Cherokee. Before sailing Señor Velasquez said:

"The Dominican republic is desirous of adjusting its public indebtedness upon a basis which shall be fair to the creditors and within its actual and prospective resources. To accomplish this, it will ask the United States government to administer the customs and apply the receipts therefrom to the service of a loan.

"Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have engaged to purchase an issue of $30,000,000 of 5 per cent. sinking fund gold bonds, to be devoted to the purposes above stated. The Morton Trust Company has also engaged to act as fiscal agent of the republic. The plan of settlement to be offered to the creditors will be issued at an early date."

MYSTERY OVER BURIED BONES.

JOSEPH LOEGO RETURNS AFTER HE IS NAMED AS DEAD.

Fifteen-Year-Old Murder Comes to Surface at Denver and J. Martin McKay, Who Interred a Skeleton Supposed to Be That of His Friend, Is Puzzled Over Spectre.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fifteen years ago J. Martin McKay, now of Denver and custodian of the News-Times building here, assisted in the burial of a skeleton supposed to be that of Julius Loego, a friend who had been murdered. Yesterday Loego entered the News business office and the two men met face to face. McKay recognized him in an instant, but could scarcely believe he was not looking upon a ghost..

"My God, you here?" he exclaimed, and Loego laughed.

"Yes, Mack," he replied. "You laid my bones away nicely down in Southern California, but I am here, flesh and blood."

Loego talked freely for a few minutes about his wanderings, but when questioned regarding how some other person's skeleton was mistaken for his own, became reticent and would not discuss the affair. He admitted that he used the skeleton to fool his wife, whom he desired to get away from, but would not tell whose it was.

Soon he left, promising to return, but has not done so. Several persons saw him talking to McKay. He said he was stopping at the Oxford Hotel, but he is not there.

What was known as the Loego murder created a sensation in California fifteen years ago. Loego left San Diego with a man whose name McKay does not know. The two men went to El Campo, across the Mexican line, where McKay saw Loego later. Then Loego and his companion left on a prospecting trip, taking a wagon.

Two months later a skeleton was found beside the wreckage of a wagon. An old silver watch beside it contained the name of Julius Loego engraved thereon. Weather-beaten clothes also were identified as those of Loego. The skeleton was taken to San Diego. A bullet hole in the skull back of the right ear indicated murder.

Mrs. Loego identified the skeleton as that of her husband. It was interred in the little cemetery then used at San Diego. A Coroner's jury declared the skeleton that of Loego, and that he had been murdered.

McKay believes Loego has changed his name, and that he disappeared fearing arrest on a charge of having murdered the man whose skeleton was found. Whatever the reason, Loego was very adverse to saying anything about his companion on that fateful trip. He would not give his name or throw any light on the manner in which the tragedy occurred.

METEOR NOT ORDERED AWAY.

British Naval Authorities Declare She Anchored to Admiralty Buoy in Harbor.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTSMOUTH (Eng.) Sept. 19.—The incident of the Meteor has been misconstrued by the German newspapers. The naval authorities explain that the Meteor steamed into the harbor and moored herself to an admiralty buoy without asking permission. The authorities directed her to cast off and the Meteor soon left the harbor, but she was not ordered to do so.

The Berlin Neuste Nachrichten said yesterday that the Hamburg-American line steamer Meteor, with excursionists on board, had been ordered to leave Portsmouth during a storm, the steamer having taken refuge there on account of stress of weather.

ALLIED UNIONS NAME ARBITER.

CARMEN SELECT THE REV. PETER C. YORKE.

United Railroads Has Not Chosen New Man, but Is Expected to Act Soon—Disinterested Person Will Form Third Committee Representative for Taking Up Wage Question.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Rev. Peter C. Yorke of St. Anthony's parish, in Oakland, has been chosen by the Allied Unions to represent them on the board of arbitration which will consider the demands of the carmen and other unions made upon the United Railroads, which has not yet announced who will represent it on the board.

The new arbitrators will succeed Richard Cornelius, who represented the car men, and Thornwell Mullally, who represented the United Railroads. Both Mullally and Cornelius will have retired from the board of arbitration under the new agreement between the men and the corporation which provides for the appointment of three disinterested parties to consider the existing difficulties.

It is believed that the United Railroads will announce the name of its representative this afternoon and the two will then meet for the purpose of choosing the third member. Both sides hope under this arrangement to have the question of hours and wages satisfactorily adjusted within the next few days.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—Fire and a powder explosion destroyed the postoffice and general merchandise store at Lemon Grove near this city this evening, also partially wrecking a dwelling near the larger building. The cause of the fire is a mystery. F. E. Lyon, the postmaster, locked the doors about 6 p.m., and an hour later flames were seen issuing from the windows, followed by a deafening report resulting from the explosion of two barrels of powder stored in the building.

In consequence of the decision of the Argentine Cabinet to increase the national armaments, the Minister of Finance has resigned.

HARRIMAN SECURES VALUABLE INTERESTS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The cost of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the Harriman interests, its new owners, remains largely a matter of conjecture. One guess involved approximately $120,000,000, but this was considered by good authorities as too high. Even with $120,000,000 as the price for control, railroad men say the Harriman interests had acquired property well worth the money. In fact, even this large sum was less than the amount expended on the system in extensions and improvements since ten years ago, when the work of rebuilding the road began. In that decade about $140,000,000 has been expended under the general head of improvements.

In addition to the large cities connected by its 4451 miles of road, the Baltimore and Ohio reaches four ports on Lake Erie, and besides Chicago, one port on Lake Michigan. It is at Indiana harbor, the city of Gary and the $75,000,000 plant of the United States Steel Corporation are in course of construction.

There is an impression that the Harriman interests have acquired large holdings of Reading, apart from the Baltimore and Ohio holdings. Control of the Reading will be particularly advantageous to Harriman, because of the Reading's position in the hard-coal fields.

REMARKABLE AGREEMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In view of the announcement that the Union Pacific interests are negotiating for the purchase of the 400,000 shares of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, formerly disposed of by the Pennsylvania, attention has been directed toward the somewhat remarkable agreement which exists between the Harriman and the Rock Island interests for the control of the Chicago and Alton.

Leeds made a contract with E. H. Harriman by which each road alternately shapes the policy of the Alton. In other words, the Rock Island system one year will have control of the Alton board and exercise absolute control over the road's management. On the succeeding year, the Union Pacific dominates the board and directs the Alton's destiny as it chooses.

SIMPLIFYING RATE TARIFFS.

IMPORTANT ORDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today promulgated an important order, made September 15, providing for a hearing here, beginning October 8, to construct rules for the simplification of rate tariffs and in connection therewith have issued a circular embracing certain requirements which it is proposed to insist upon. They include the filing of joint tariffs by the initial lines and the printing of the schedules of each initial line as an independent document; the filing with the commission by participating lines of general authorities to the initial line in their behalf of all the tariffs or joint tariffs of a special kind; the separation of class and commodity rates, the filing of a detailed index showing all commodity rates in effect, so that each commodity can be easily located; limiting any tariff to five supplements and any classification to ten supplements, the entire classification of tariff to be reprinted where there are any excesses; the observance of a uniform order in the compilation of tariffs; the proper specification in the tariff of the initial line of all terminal charges; the absorption of switching or terminal charges where it affects the total cost to the shipper shall be stated upon the tariff.

GUADALAJARA STREET LINE.

AMERICAN MATERIALS USED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] American materials exclusively are to be used in the construction of an electric street railway, soon to be installed in Guadalajara, Mex. The system will cost $1,500,000. The rails are to be supplied by the United States Steel Corporation, the cars, which will be the the Broadway summer type, by a New York concern, and the General Electric Company will install the electric plant.

NEED MORE CLERKS.

HEPBURN RATE LAW'S EFFECT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One result of the going into effect of the new Hepburn rate law has been greatly to increase the demand for railroad rate clerks. Revision of tariffs and preparation of new ones made necessary by the law has created an immense amount of extra work in the general offices of the railroads, with the result that the old forces are inadequate to perform the extra work.

Nearly every road in the country is reported to be scouring the country for additional rate clerks. Those in the division offices are being called into general offices and the former are left bare. The new law will require an increase of 15 per cent. in the clerical forces of the railroads.

Keystone Air Line's Charter.

HARRISBURG (Pa.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The company organized by Joseph Ramsey, Jr., former president of the Wabash system, to build a new trunk line railroad across Pennsylvania under the name of the Keystone Air Line, filed an application for a charter in the State Department here today.

BRAZIL IS PARTIAL TO AMERICAN GOODS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. J. Johnston, publisher of the American Exporter, who returned today on the Lamport & Holt steamer Tennyson from the International Conference of American Republics, at Rio de Janeiro, personally interviewed leading import merchants, dealers and large consumers of manufactured articles, to ascertain how goods from North America are regarded in these countries. He summarized his views as follows:

"Wherever I went, I found United States manufactured goods much in demand. The manager of one of the leading German houses in Buenos Ayres—a branch of a well-known German firm—told me that the business had been established in Buenos Ayres to sell exclusively goods made in the Fatherland, principally agricultural implements and hardware. Customers, however, wanted American goods, as better adapted to the conditions existing in Argentina.

"Recently, by the way, this particular house remitted to an American corporation manufacturing agricultural implements $1,000,000 in a single payment.

"Brazil is one of our best customers. She manufactures but little herself, and we produce practically every class of goods she imports. Everything else being equal, she much prefers to buy from the United States. The Brazilians are liberal purchasers, and good pay."

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF CHINESE SPIRIT.

SHANGHAI (China) Aug. 4.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) A competent authority on the Far East declares that the Chinese have made more progress during the last five years than any other nation on earth, not excepting Japan. He admits that China has not made such advance in iron and coal production as has the United States, but he contends that China has made a wider and more profound change in her whole attitude toward western civilization than has any other nation.

The latest proof that China's face is set toward progress is found in the imperial decree issued last Sunday, promising a change of laws. While this decree does not promise a constitution, as careless readers have inferred, nevertheless it points in that direction.

WESTERN LEARNING DECREED.

A more vital indication of progress is found in the recent imperial decree making some mastery of western learning a condition of future employment in the government service. This decree does not affect existing office holders, and does not apply to candidates for office who have already completed the prescribed course of Confucian learning and have received the first and second degrees.

But the significance of the decree is found in the fact that it prescribes the identical condition for future candidates for office who have already completed the prescribed course of Confucian learning and have received the first and second degrees.

But the significance of the decree is found in the fact that it prescribes the identical condition for future candidates for office who have already completed the prescribed course of Confucian learning and have received the first and second degrees.

But the significance of the decree is found in the fact that it prescribes the identical condition for future candidates for office who the young Emperor prescribed eight years ago, and which led to the Boxer uprising. It is significant that the Dowager Empress, who then retired the young Emperor for his radicalism, now issues in his name the identical decree which produced the revolution.

MORE STRIKING SIGN.

A still more striking sign than this paper decree is found in the fact that Yuan Shih Kai, the leading Viceroy of the empire, has already established more than five thousand primary and secondary schools in the Chili province, in order to prepare the young people of his province for the new government courses. He is attempting to introduce western learning, and, indeed, the English language, into these schools as rapidly as possible. This creates a strong demand for American teachers, but the pay is too low to justify young people coming from the United States to accept these minor positions.

JAPANESE EMPLOYED.

In lieu of American and English teachers, the Japanese are being employed to teach western learning, and in some cases the English language. The "pidgin" English, which is taught by some of the Chinese scholars, would, indeed, be laughable were it not for the fact that the introduction of the English language may possibly become general, and, if so, may carry with it the introduction of western civilization.

As Alexander's adoption of the Greek language enabled that conquered nation to transform the civilization of Western Asia; as the adoption of Roman law and the Latin language by the Northmen carried with it Latin Christianity throughout Europe, so the prevalence of English speech in China during the next few years will carry with it western sciences and western civilization.

ELEVEN THOUSAND STUDENTS.

An indication pointing to the growing influence of Japan in China is found in the fact that 11,000 Chinese students are now in Tokio striving to secure from the government institutions and private schools the western learning. The Young Men's Christian Association in Shanghai has seen the significance of this movement, and has sent two Americans and three or four young Chinese Christians to Tokio to keep in touch with this group of Chinese students. As some Chinese students are returning from and going to Tokio each month, at least fifteen thousand young Chinamen will pursue their studies in the Japanese capital in 1906.

JAPAN'S INFLUENCE.

As these young men will furnish the future Yuan Shi Kais, Chang Chihtungs and Wu Ting Fangs of China one can readily see the influence which the Japanese will acquire in the Chinese Empire. At least two or three thousand of these young men would have studied in the United States had it not been for our harsh enforcement of the exclusion law. It now looks as if Japan will become the schoolmaster of the Orient, as Germany has been the schoolmaster of Europe and America. But the United States may lead the race, after it is out of school.

PRESS AND POSTOFFICES.

Another sign of the times is the increase of the postoffices and the multiplication of newspapers, especially along the eastern side of the empire. The postoffices have increased from about one hundred four years ago to some eighteen hundred today. The number is still pitifully small, but the rate of increase is a just cause of surprise and a striking indication of progress. In Tien-tsin four years ago three newspapers were published. Today twenty-three newspapers are published in that port.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

It is at least significant that the only newspaper on earth published by a woman and for women is now published in Peking.

The Manchu court has always been opposed to bound feet, and comparatively few women who gain access to the court have submitted to this early torture. A few months ago, however, an imperial decree was issued exhorting parents not to bind the feet of their daughters. On the Dowager Empress being informed the other day that the decree relating to bound feet was having no influence among the provincial authorities, another decree has been issued, saying that in the future no men will be taken into the employment of the Chinese Empire whose wives or daughters have their feet bound. It is uncertain when this latest order will go into effect, and whether it will be strictly enforced or not.

Nevertheless, the fact that several viceroys are following up the imperial decree, and that the authorities at Peking are demanding that the others comply with the imperial mandate, leads to the impression that this form of oriental barbarism may be approaching its end.

ADOPT NEW TESTAMENT.

A more striking indication of the adoption of not only western civilization, but of Christianity, is found in the decree just issued by Chang Chihtung ordering the New Testament to be introduced into all the schools of the Hupeh and Hunan provinces, over which he rules. The decree states that the permanence and high quality of Chinese civilization is due to the fact that the Confucian classics have been taught in China for over two thousand years.

The Viceroy admits, however, that western nations have some power which the Chinese do not possess. He is sure that this is not due to any superiority of the westerners over the Chinese, but to the fact that the western nations have in their possession certain teachings which the Chinese have not yet mastered. He thinks this superiority is due to the Bible, and in order to make the Chinese not only equal, but superior to their western competitors, he orders the New Testament taught, alongside the Confucian classics, among the fifty-eight million people over whom he rules.

SUNDAY A HOLIDAY.

Perhaps the most striking indication of the Chinese desire for western progress is found in the recent imperial decree attempting to establish the Christian Sabbath. The decree makes the Sabbath day a legal holiday. It is not probable that the decree will be largely followed throughout China, as, indeed, it is not probable that Chang Chihtung's decree in regard to the New Testament will be largely observed. These decrees, however, show the aspirations of the Chinese for western civilization.

Some American and English officials and, indeed, some of the missionaries here, are convinced that unless western influences are swiftly and strongly reinforced, the present movement may result in a reaction which will indefinitely delay the emergence of the Chinese into modern civilization. Indeed, the recent radical decree putting two native Chinamen in charge of the imperial customs is likely to lead to the retirement of Sir Robert Hart, the ablest English official in China, and to the demoralization of the customs service. Only the hearty and speedy cooperation of western nations in the present struggles of the Chinese can prevent similar radical attempts at reform by the natives, followed by similar reaction.

In a word, China today is where Japan was thirty years ago; and if Americans and foreigners respond to one of the greatest opportunities which ever confronted the western nations and guide this groping empire into modern liberty, modern education and modern inventions, 427,000,000 human beings will emerge into western civilization within a generation.

GARDEN ON ROOF OF HOTEL BIXBY.

DIRECTORS MAKE CHANGES IN PLANS OF HOSTELRY.

Capital Stock Increased and Contract Closed for Manager of the Place—Warm Words Exchanged at Meeting of the City Trustees—Good Roads Association Formed.

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Hotel Bixby held today it was unanimously agreed to increase the capital stock to $750,000 and use the surplus thus secured in making many changes in the original plans, with many additional and larger rooms and a roof garden.

Another important action taken was the closing of a contract for ten years with D. M. Linnard of Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, as manager of the new hotel.

The false work for the concrete of the fifth floor is now being placed and rapid progress is being made. It is hoped to occupy the new hotel by March 1.

AN UNUSUAL PROCEEDING.

Last night's session of the City Trustees was enlivened by an unusual proceeding in the adoption of a map of a tract of sand lots east of Hotel Bixby which has been hanging fire for several weeks. As originally presented the Strand Company proposed to open twelve-foot roadways through the tract from the bluff. To this property owners of Chestnut and Cedar avenue objected and petitioned the Trustees to open those thoroughfares from the bluff to the ocean through the Strand property, by condemnation proceedings which were actually started. A conference of the Trustees, the property owners and the Strand Company was held yesterday afternoon and it was agreed by the Strand Company to open a sixty-foot street through their property at Chestnut street and a forty-foot street at Cedar avenue.

NEW MAP ADOPTED.

Accordingly a map showing this new platting of the tract was presented to the Trustees last night and adopted. Attorney Young for the company then explained that in the hurry to present the map, a few minor details were omitted and asked permission to withdraw it awhile to have the changes inserted which was agreed to and the Trustees proceeded with other business. When it was returned, City Engineer Shaw pointed out that under the figures showing the sixty and forty-foot streets had been added the words "for pedestrians only." As the map had been approved and signed by the Mayor, there was trouble at once, and the explanation that all this had been understood at the conference went for naught, the Trustees holding that such an addition to a signed and approved document was little short of criminal.

HOT WORDS EXCHANGED.

After hot words between the officials of the Strand Company and the Trustees, the latter, taking the position that an attempt had been made to slide the map through and change it after the signature of the Mayor had been affixed, rescinded all previous action and the map held up until tonight when the Strand Company agreed to eliminate the objectionable words and the map was then adopted.

MEET FOR GOOD ROADS.

Nearly a hundred prominent citizens last night met and organized the Good Roads Association of Long Beach, and adopted resolutions to cooperate with the City Trustees financially if needed, to improve city streets, lay the dust and clean up vacant lots and weedy lawns and the first work of the association will be to raise a fund of $5000 for this purpose. The membership fee was fixed at $2 per year. The officers elected are William H. Butters, president; Ray Townsend, secretary, and Frank A. Crowe, treasurer. Ten vice-presidents, one from each city precinct, Alamitos and Signal Hill will be appointed at the next meeting.

LONG BEACH BREVITIES.

John William Sullivan died this morning after a long illness. Deceased was 49 years of age, a native of Iowa and has been a resident of Long Beach for several years.

The preliminary examination of Constant Lilly, charged with the murder of Alex Gonzales ten days ago at Watson station was held today before Justice Downing and the prisoner bound over to the Superior Court.

Ten acres of land adjoining the original cemetery in Long Beach has been purchased by six citizens and will be platted at once as a private cemetery. There will be no stock offered for sale. A chapel will be erected, vaults built and the grounds protected by an ornamental fence.

"Fool and His Money," Etc.

His desire to peer into the future and his failure to watch a "medium" while he was peering, cost H. W. Dulin, formerly of San Francisco, $20 yesterday. He told the detectives about it early in the evening. He wanted to get his fortune told, he said, and strayed into a South Hill-street "parlor." He crossed the palm of the "seeress" who runs the place with a silver half-dollar. Then he sat down while she held one of his hands and went into what she explained was a trance. Dulin avers that the trance did not keep her from getting into his pocket and taking the money.

THRILLING RESCUE AT FIRE.

Lives were endangered and thrilling rescues performed in a noon fire which wiped out four buildings in the 500 block on Wall street, yesterday. Patrolman Roy L. Allen saved two men from a smoke-filled room, where they lay on their backs, unable to find egress; Mrs. Richard Loring, ill and helpless, was carried from her apartments in No. 535 unconscious; and two firemen narrowly missed death from the collapse of a roof.

Lack of water gave the flames, driven by a brisk breeze, a chance to spread unhindered, while firemen stood by with empty hose nozzles. The flames started from burning rubbish in the rear of Nos. 533 and 535 Wall street. They burned up the backs of the structure and then leaped across the roof to the front.

It was this leap of the flames which came near being fatal to two men, rescuing property. They had been cut off from the front of the house by flames. A window at the side was closed by a dresser which they had placed there. Allen, ax in hand, made his way to the window, chopped away the frame and overthrew the dresser, opening a way to escape.

The fire plugs in the neighborhood were apparently deficient and only one stream, a small one, could be brought into action.

SUCCESSFUL PLAY.

Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's Catholic Church Pleases a Large Audience.

Over 1500 people gathered in the new auditorium of St. Joseph's Church, Twelfth and Los Angeles streets, last night to witness the presentation of Father Felix's famous Catholic drama "Pontia, the Daughter of Pilate." The play was given by the Ladies' Sodality of the Church, and fifty-six of the members appeared in the cast.

The play is the first given in the new auditorium, and was put on for the benefit of the new St. Joseph's Catholic School. It is estimated that the Sodality cleared $500 for the institution.

The production was elaborately carried out, and was a triumph for those who have been hard at work preparing it for the past two months. The music was exceptionally well rendered. All of the leading members of the cast did remarkably good amateur acting, and the choruses and dances showed perfect drill. The most popular part of the programme was that which included the dance by a dozen dainty little damsels of 6 and 7, which captivated the entire audience.

AMERICAN SCHOONER SEIZED.

Nothing is so sure to fracture the most angelic disposition and curdle the milk of kindness in one's breast as the dallying delivery of the promiseful performanceless tailor. proof of intelligence. Really, it is natural nosing after something to eat. Man is not the only animal whose heart can best be reached through his stomach. There is not the slightest reason to believe that a horse has a thinking mind. Here is an instance.

"During the winter two of our ponies that do a pedestal act, and always get a lump of sugar after it, if they make no mistakes, rehearsed so much that their pedestals became discolored from dirt. When we gave our opening performance the little platforms were repainted. What do you think those ponies did? They refused to act. When led into the ring and set at their tasks, they looked and sniffed at the new pedestals and didn't make a movement in the direction of their usual performance.

"It wasn't intelligence that made them act thus. The same lumps of sugar were sitting at the end. They simply had not sense enough to know their own implements in white paint.

"If a horse is taught to go through a red door he will have to be taught all over again to go through a white one. All doors do not look alike to him.

"But a horse has nerves, plenty of them. Sometimes I think it is more these little electric wires than anything else makes him amenable to teaching. Imagine, then, the patience a trainer must possess to train creatures with nerves but no logic, so far as I am able to see."

LIST RAISES PROTEST.

Fusion Ticket of the Mutual Life Meets With Objection from Many Named.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Protests against the unauthorized use of their names from several nominees on the selected fusion ticket for trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance Company were made public here today.

Mayor J. N. Adam of Buffalo, originally nominated on the "United Committees Ticket," telegraphed to Judge Alton B. Parker, chairman of the executive committee of the International Policy Holders' Committee, that the use of his name on the fusion ticket was against his wishes. A similar message from James G. Phelan, former Mayor of San Francisco, was received at the headquarters. William L. Guilladeau of this city wrote the committee to the same effect.

Replying to notifications that their names had been placed on the third ticket, Charles Peabody, Second Vice-president George T. Dexter and Superintendent of Foreign Agencies Henry E. Duncan of the Mutual Life, addressed Albert S. Bard, counsel for the promoters of the fusion ticket, today. Peabody said that the question of his acceptance must depend upon the character and purpose of those who brought about his nomination. When advised as to the personality and purpose of the movers, he would reply as to his acceptance.

The two other officers of the Mutual stated that the bylaws of the Mutual Life would prevent them serving if elected trustees.

CONTEST OF SAGE'S WILL.

Objections to Be Made by Several of "Uncle Russell's" Relatives and One Part Is Formidable.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Objections to the probating of the will of Russell Sage, who, last July, died, leaving an estate of at least $70,000,000, are to be made Friday in the names of several of his relatives.

The most formidable part of the contest takes form in the papers which are to be filed by Senator Edgar T. Brackett in behalf of a great grandnephew of the testator, Edson Coonrad, 8 years old.

HE FELL FROM HIGH ESTATE.

Shorn of Home and Sweetheart by Quarrel.

Posing as French, Malan Was Scion of Italy.

Romance and a pathetic story of suffering and sorrow have come to shed another light upon the melodramatic suicide of Charles Malan.

The man who took his own life at the Hotel St. Angelo, after giving over his last moments to food and smoke and drink and luxury, left letters behind for his employer that show him to be the scion of a rich Italian family, cast out from home and sweetheart because of religious differences, and sent adrift upon the world until its buffetings so weakened him physically and then at length mentally, that he sought release in the coward's last act of self-destruction.

Malan arrived here some months ago from San Francisco, and had posed ever since as a Frenchman. He secured employment in the office of Amaury Mars, the editor of a local French paper. Mars noticed his morosee condition, and was also struck with his handsome appearance. The young man was about 25, and seemed to appreciate the attention that his employer gave him, but his abstraction appeared to increase, and at length he became imbued with the idea that he was a consumption sufferer. It was partially under the influence of this idea that he ultimately took his life.

A PITIFUL STORY.

Two letters directed to his employer, penned in an exquisite hand, and couched in the most beautiful French, tell the pitiful story of the tragedy that ended Sunday night. One of them remains unpublished, at the wish of the deceased, but the other is unique among its class, and shows that the writer was undoubtedly a man of considerable education, and that his mind, once strong and well-balanced, had simply become weakened under the continued strain of sorrow and adversities. Here is a translation:

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16, 1906.

Dear Mr. Mars: For some time I have been attacked with consumption; I know it; I feel it. Only, as I have been strong enough to work, and to busy myself, I have allowed myself to continue to live. But these last days the disease has grown upon me; it has made me morose, peevish, unsupportable in society.

I said to myself that it was best for me to cut it short, and put and end to all of it.

If I had been rich I would have tried to prolong my existence by taking care of myself, and to enjoy life for some years. But, poor, and forced to do the work of an idiot and stupid machine, why endeavor to live? Wealth, health, physical strength and beauty, talent, even energy were denied to me—everything that one needs to be happy.

Society as it is organized today disgusts me profoundly. If any poor devil can use my rags he is welcome to them.

Last night I spent in an orgie with a companion and before dying I wish to have some of Clavere's famous Beaujolais. I will then take with me a good memory in my death.

I want no funeral. Let me alone until the city is forced to give me a free one.

ITALIAN, NOT FRENCH.

The letter Mr. Mars declines to make public evidently was written first, and when the self-killer was in a less cynical mood. Malan admits in it that he was an Italian and not a Frenchman, as he had led his protector and benefactor to believe, and refers to Mars as the "only man who had tendered him even a kind word since he set foot on American soil." He stated that he belonged to a rich family in Piedmont, Italy, although the exact location is not given, and says that he was cast out and repudiated by his family because of his refusal to follow the high church doctrines that his father insisted upon. In disgrace he left home, determined to make his own way to fortune in the world, and with this hope he set out for America. Since his arrival in this country nothing but misfortune had confronted him, and at last, weakened mentally and physically by sickness and other suffering, he came to have no further hope in life. He refers very tenderly to an Italian girl to whom he was engaged before the break with his family, and he seems to have retained his love for her throughout all his troubles, although too proud to let her know that he had failed, and was living in poverty and misery.

WHITE FIEND DEFENDED.

CITIZENS STRUGGLE TO GET HIM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Officers of the law at Lecompte, La., are engaged in a desperate struggle with enraged citizens of Rapides parish, who surround the County Jail clamoring for Tom Brady, a white fiend charged with criminal assault on Miss Laura Warren, a young and pretty girl seventeen years of age.

All day yesterday the struggle between the State and lynch law has been fiercely waged. At a late hour last night the trembling prisoner is still safe behind the stone walls and iron bars.

The crime was committed near Lecompte last Saturday morning. Miss Warren was engaged to be married, but her parents objected. An elopement was planned, and the girl was on her way to meet her lover when Brady accosted her on the public road.

Representing himself as an officer, he told her she was under arrest for being away from home without her parents' permission. By threats and promises, he lured the girl into a neighboring wood and there accomplished his purpose despite her desperate resistance.

CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS.

ARREST IS MADE IN VALLEJO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

VALLEJO, Sept. 19.—A man, evidently an Italian, giving the name of Frank Wells, who was arrested on a charge of vagrancy early this morning, answers the description of Frank Baldez, wanted in Sonoma county on a charge of burglary.

In his room were found gold and silver watches, worth probably $200, a pair of pearl opera glasses, chains and other jewelry, several suits of new clothes and a book giving the location of Vallejo jewelry stores.

On his person were found a full kit of burglars' tools and $150 in cash. He is believed to have used a bicycle in visiting various towns in this section.

BOODLE MEMBER FOUND.

W. H. Ritter Confesses to Gov. Folk That He Distributed Quarter of a Million.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William H. Ritter of Denver, formerly a member of the House of Delegates of the St. Louis City Council, has gone to the Missouri metropolis to testify against Robert A. Snyder, the quondam Kansas City millionaire, who is charged with having bribed or attempted to bribe members of the St. Louis City Council.

In this way Ritter expects to ease his conscience, which has troubled him greatly. It is said that he intends to tell of the disposition of a boodle fund amounting to $250,000, which was intrusted to him for distribution among the members of the City Council. He will outline what he is prepared to tell to Gov. Folk and Attorney-General Hadley.

Ritter left St. Louis in 1902, when the inquiry into municipal affairs was getting serious. He has been living here very quietly, and his connection with the St. Louis Council was not known.

Frederick G. Uthoff, a member of the St. Louis Council during the period when bribery was rampant, has a saloon here. He has refused several times to return to St. Louis and tell what he knows. Eugene Sweeney, a St. Louis promoter who also is said to know damaging facts, is here.

PROMISING LIFE THROWN AWAY.

ARCHITECT COMMITS SUICIDE IN LAUREL CANYON.

With no Apparent Cause for Deed, J. C. Goersch Shoots Himself—His Business Affairs in Good Shape and Home Life Happy—Married Only a Year.

With his future bright before him, and no assignable cause for the deed, J. C. Goersch, a local architect, committed suicide some time Tuesday afternoon in a lonely part of Laurel Cañon. His wife, married little over a year, and with a six weeks old baby boy, is prostrated, and all his relatives are at a loss to account for his action.

Tuesday morning Mr. Goersch told his wife that he was going hunting. He removed all his papers, his watch and money from his clothes and gave them to his wife, and then putting on a suit of old clothes, went off for the day. When he did not return in the evening, his wife became worried, and yesterday she sent his office boy out to look for him. Then came the news that he had killed himself.

Florence Robinson and Mrs. A. Van Sant, who live in the neighborhood of Laurel Cañon, heard a shot on Tuesday afternoon. Yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, while walking in the cañon, they noticed a man's hat, and looking up hill, saw a man lying there. They gave the alarm and the Sheriff was telephoned to. Deputy Gilbert was sent to investigate.

BULLET IN HEAD.

He found the body lying about two miles from the mouth of the cañon. There was a wound in the head, the bullet having entered at the temple and come out over the opposite ear. Close by lay a 32 caliber Winchester.

In the inside pocket of the man's coat was found a note addressed to C. M. Sage, chief deputy in the City Tax Collector's office. Mr. Sage had known the man for three or four years. The letter was rambling and irrational, and all that could be made of it was a request that Mr. Sage be notified, and that he take care of Mrs. Goersch and the baby.

After a conference with the Coroner, the body was removed to Pierce Brothers', where an inquest will be held today.

SAD CIRCUMSTANCES.

The circumstances surrounding the tragedy are unusually sad. In addition to his widow and baby boy, Mr. Goersch leaves a mother and sister. He had recently brought them over from Germany, and they were expecting to return to their home in a few days. Neither of them speaks English.

No cause is known for the deed, except a possible depression at the approaching departure of his mother and sister. Mr. Goersch was doing very well in his profession, was financially in good circumstances, and his married life was without exception pleasant. Only a few days ago he said to his wife that he had everything he had wished for—success in his profession, increasing business, happy home life, and a baby boy, his first born. The day he went on his hunting trip, he said that he wished the boy was older, and then they would all go, but that as it was the boy would visit his grandmother and he would go shoot some birds for him.

Mr. Goersch was about twenty-eight years old. He was born in Berlin, and came to this country about five years ago. He was in Pittsburgh a short time, and then came to Los Angeles. After working in Robert B. Young's office, he started business for himself, with offices at No. 411 Chamber of Commerce building. About a year ago he married Miss Curtis, the daughter of Mrs. J. M. Curtis of No. 4096 Woodlawn street, whose house he had designed, and they had a home at No. 1989½ Estrella avenue.

APPLETON'S FORTUNE DROPS.

Noted Globe Trotter Leaves Dwindled Resources to His Fiancee, Miss Wells.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The will of Capt. Nathan Appleton, the noted globe trotter, Panama Canal promoter, filed today, leaves the estate, which has dwindled to $5000, to his fiancée, beautiful Miss Edith Russell Wells of Newburyport.

His wife, divorced less than six months ago, is cut off from contesting the will with a dollar bequest. An annuity goes to a sister. Relatives, including Mrs. S. Greeley Curtis, a sister, state they will not contest.

Mrs. Curtis is named as executrix of Appleton's fortune. More than a million dollars was lost through an unsuccessful investment in a Paris syndicate, and a big failure of a firm in which he was interested.

MRS. SCHLEY IN HOSPITAL.

Daughter-in-Law of New York Banker Undergoes Operation for Stomach Growth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. C. B. Schley, daughter-in-law of Jacob Schley, the New York millionaire broker and banker, was operated upon in Mercy Hospital this afternoon for a tumorous growth of the stomach.

Mrs. Schley, until about three months ago Mrs Edith Daniels, wife of William Cooke Daniels, a Denver millionaire, married Chalomer Schley at Sidney, Neb., June 30, after having secured a divorce from Daniels on a charge of desertion.

Daniels has spent much of his time the last five years in exploring New Guinea. He owns a large department store here.

SULTAN GETS PROTEST.

TANGIER (Morocco) Sept. 19.—The attitude of the Sultan and his representatives during the disorders at Casa Blanca September 17, when Cherif Taelainein with 250 men pillaged the French iron works there and pursued Europeans through the streets, wounding several of them, has called forth official protests from the French and Belgian ministers to Morocco.

POLICE CLEWS FAIL TO HOLD.

Miss Charlotte Kelly Freed for Lack of Links.

Circumstantial Suspicion upon Former Boarder.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the discharge from custody today of Miss Charlotte Kelly, who has been under close police surveillance at her home suspected of complicity in the murder of Mrs. Morris K. Lewis, the police department admits itself up in the air.

One clew after another has been run out and nothing has been developed to warrant the holding of any one. Public opinion is divided, but the weight of suspicion has rested upon Miss Kelly and Harry Somers, the latter of whom was a star boarder at the Kelly house, where the murder was committed.

The basis of suspicion as regards Miss Kelly is jealousy, it being believed that Somers had transferred his affections from Miss Kelly to Mrs. Lewis. That he did this is thought from the fact that he told a trolley conductor that there was a peach at the house where he was living, meaning Mrs. Lewis, and that he would get her or kill her.

This also is considered weighty evidence against Somers, but the manner in which this is applied to Miss Kelly lies in the fact that a woman acquaintance of hers declares that once in a fit of rage Miss Kelly attacked her and another woman so fiercely with a darning needle and a pair of scissors that they had to flee for their lives.

In addition to the sworn testimony regarding Somers's declaration, it is considered very striking that at 4 o'clock in the morning following the murder, after he had been in the house unmolested for ten hours, he discovered that a suit of clothes was missing. At about the same time, Miss Kelly discovered that a gown was missing.

MELBA'S SON ENGAGED.

Miss Ruby Otway, of the Old Westmoreland Family of That Name, Is His Fiancee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A special cable tonight announces the engagement of George Armstrong, the son of Mme. Melba, to Ruby Otway, of the old Westmoreland family of that name.

Armstrong is Mme. Melba's son by a husband divorced six years ago, Charles N. Frederick Armstrong, popularly known in Australia as "Kangaroo Charlie," and who is a grandson of the late Sir Andrew Armstrong of Gallen Priory, Kings county, Ireland, and stands in line of succession for the Armstrong baronetcy, for the present Sir Andrew Armstrong has no heir nearer than a brother, and is unmarried and is the uncle of Melba's former husband.

TALK OF ELECTRIC TREATMENT.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—Electricity as a means of curing disease was discussed at the opening session of the sixteenth annual meeting of the American Electro-Therapeutic Association, at Philadelphia. It was asserted by the various speakers that locomotor ataxia, cancer and chronic diseases of the stomach are daily yielding to this mysterious force, while the absorption of inflammatory matter is an event of every-day occurrence.

CLOUDBURST IN KANSAS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALVA (Okla.) Sept. 19.—As a result of the successive rains and a cloudburst at Ashland, Kan., eighty-five miles northwest of here, bridges are reported gone on nearly all streams in Western Woods and Woodward counties. The Santa Fé bridge across the Cimarron, near Waynoca, could not be crossed yesterday, and the southbound train remained in Alva all night.

No Rock Island trains arrived yesterday from the south. The Santa Fé bridge across the Cimarron is badly warped from the strain. There is a rumor that cannot be confirmed that the bridge across the Cimarron, in the southwest part of the county, went out.

GANG STEALS FROM STORES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—That shoplifting in the big department stores is on the increase owing to the leniency of justices, was openly stated in court yesterday by Lewis Lowenstein, legal representative of the Association of Department Store Owners.

There were eight cases on the calendar yesterday and adjournments were allowed for seven. In the eighth case the prisoner pleaded guilty.

Lownstein says his office has indisputable evidence that an organized system among shoplifters exists; that they are banded together to pilfer from the big stores while other professionals dispose of the goods. He said that every gang had its sinking fund to be drawn upon for the defense of those arrested. Women comprise two-thirds of the membership of these gangs.

Gunning Gets Knockout Drops.

OAKLAND, Sept. 19.—Michael S. Gunning, an advertising solicitor of San Francisco, was found by the police tonight in the doorway of the Clarendon Hotel, unconscious from "knockout drops," supposed to have been administered by thugs. John Doe Duffey was arrested on suspicion as being one of those who administered the drug for the purpose of robbery. Late tonight, Gunning still was under the influence of the drug and unable to talk. He had $43 in his pockets.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. FIRE SWEEPS FAR STRETCH.

Picturesque East San Pedro Gasoline Victim.

Woman and a Little Stove Cause Large Loss,

Captain and His Steamer Strong in Rescue.

Rattlesnake Island, the home of the squatter for, lo! these many years, and probably the most picturesque settlement in Southern California, was fire-scourged—almost a clear sweep—yesterday afternoon.

Of the settlement of small business houses, fishermen's shacks and more pretentious cottages on the spit of sands on the inside of Uncle Sam's jetty work at East San Pedro, only a few lonesome-looking buildings stand this morning.

The Salt Lake Railway station, the San Pedro fish cannery and the long stretch of wharves were saved only by the strenuous work and the cool-headed good judgment of Capt. Charles E. Reiner of the schooner Francis H. Leggett, who ran his vessel across the bay and started five streams of salt water to playing on the flames.

The fire, while affecting many people, will not cause a great financial loss. Probably $25,000 will be the total, and at least one-third of this amount will be covered by insurance.

The effect? A stretch of probably 1000 feet of sands and rock on the government jetty, yesterday morning covered with closely-built structures, quaint and curious in pattern and make, and last night this same stretch of sands strewn with sullenly-glowing embers, charred posts of house-framing and débris of household plunder; and out upon the sands that stretch to the open ocean an array of refugees of many conditions, with each little family camped beside the effects that had been saved from the flames.

Late last night the inner harbor was alive with small craft loaded with household goods which refugees were getting across to the San Pedro side of the bay.

WOMAN DARES FOR PURSE.

No one was hurt seriously; but there was at least one narrow escape from death—a woman who leaped back into her burning home to secure a purse, and who was pulled out by main force just as she was sinking, overcome by the smoke and gases. Several of the fire fighters suffered minor injuries, one of them being Rox Taylor of the Long Beach department, through whose hand a large screw was thrust at the Carse machine shops.

The fire started shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in a shack occupied by Lena Shepherd. She attempted to light a gasoline stove, and in a moment the entire interior of her place was ablaze. In a few seconds the flames spread to the adjoining structures, and it appeared for a time that there would be no possibility of checking the fire until it had swept clean that portion of the island.

The whistles of the Southern California mill were set blowing distress signals, and at the first blast Capt. Reiner of the steamer Francis H. Leggett, moored at the Southern Pacific wharf on the San Pedro side of the bay, ordered his engineer to steam across to the Terminal wharf, and soon he had water playing upon the wharf and railroad buildings. Undoubtedly this prompt aid saved East San Pedro from complete destruction.

CLOSE TO SHIPPING.

For a time it appeared that the blaze would spread to the shipping at the Salt Lake wharf, and several power launches and sailboats, among them the J. C. Elliott, a well-known excursion vessel, were moved out into midstream, with but little time to spare.

As soon as possible after the fire started an engine was dispatched to Long Beach, and there the fire engine and a force of twelve men, in charge of Mayor Downs, Marshal Young and Chief J. E. Shrewsbury, were placed upon a flat car and hurried to San Pedro. The Long Beach fire fighters gave protection to the upper part of the wharf and the cannery.

A heavy southwest breeze was blowing, and despite the five strong streams thrown by the hose from the steamer Leggett, the flames crept along, licking up house after house, until it was finally checked at the cottage of "Billy" Noland, where one of his houses was pulled down to form a break.

On account of its exposed position the fire produced a very spectacular effect, and was clearly visible from all over San Pedro and from all the settlements along the strand to Long Beach. It was watched by hundreds of people, and as many as could find means of getting across the bay gathered there.

CARSE COMPANY LOSES MOST.

The largest individual loser is the Carse Company, which operated a large machine shop and boat building establishment. The plant was valued at $15,000 and only carried $2000 of insurance. There were two power boats, almost completed, in the establishment when it burned.

About fifteen smaller retail establishments and homes were destroyed. The following is a statement of the losses: S. A. Jones, barber shop and poolroom, $800, uninsured; Joseph McNeil, three buildings, $1400, insurance $900; W. W. Christensen, residence, $1200, insurance $600; Joe Lavigne, poolroom and confectionery, $250, uninsured; E. T. Scholler, grocery store and building, $2000, uninsured; Paul La Marr, residence and meat market, $1700; Ellen Van Trees, residence, $400, insured; Newland Bros., four buildings, $4000, insured; John C. Wray, personal effects, $350.

The San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad wharf was damaged to the extent of $3000 and the firehouse and apparatus owned by the same company, valued at $1000, was also destroyed.

HILLS-TO-SEA HOTEL REACH.

Linnard of Pasadena Will Also Run Bixby.

Auto and Private Car to Go Between Daily.

Shore Motor Racing Course One of Plans.

Quite in the way of a union of the foothills and the sea through the orange groves of Southern California is the consummation of the lease entered into yesterday afternoon by which D. M. Linnard, proprietor of the Hotel Maryland at Pasadena, becomes the proprietor and directing genius of the new $500,000 Hotel Bixby, now under construction at Long Beach.

It is indicative of the cleverness which has already won for Mr. Linnard such a pronounced success as a hotel man and public-spirited citizen of Pasadena that he has already well-formulated plans for the running of the two hotels in conjunction, and for the annihilation of the distance lying between, in order to make the guests of both places perfectly at home in either house, and to provide them at one and the same time the multifold attractions of mountain and sea.

DAILY AUTO BETWEEN.

Although the Bixby, with its 400 rooms and magnificent ocean prospect, will not be ready for the reception of guests before January, 1907, Mr. Linnard does not intend to allow his plans for the detailed management of the house to remain on ice until that time. With the same characteristic energy which has brought recognition of his public activities in his election to the head of the Pasadena Board of Trade, Linnard is planning a special daily automobile service between the Maryland and the Bixby, which will be in operation by the time the latter house is opened.

DEATH ON PLEASURE TOUR.

Mrs. Minnie Berke, Member of "The Times" Oriental Party, Passes Away at Yokohama.

MRS. MINNIE BERKE, who died while on the way to the Orient with the Times party.

The Times party, en route for a tour of the Orient, has been saddened by the death of Mrs. Minnie Berke of No. 145 South Bunker Hill avenue, news of whose passing has just been received in this city by cable. Mrs. Berke is the mother of Mrs. Ralph Hagan, wife of the Police Commissioner, to whom the message was sent, and also of Mrs. W. F. Arend, wife of the well-known musical conductor, and of Miss Anna Berke. She has a grandson, Garnet Grant, whose deceased mother was Miss Emma Berke before her marriage.

Mrs. Berke had lived at the Berke mansion at Second and Bunker Hill avenue for twenty-one years, and her daughters were all married from the old family home. She was 61 years of age and had been in comparatively good health until something less than a year ago, when she fell and sprained her ankle seriously. A short time later she injured the other ankle and was never well afterward. The oriental trip was undertaken in the hope that her health would be benefited, and she went away in the best of spirits with her daughter, Mrs. Hagan.

PRIEST ANGRY WITH POLICE.

Sacrament Not Administered to Wife-Murderer.

Father Raimondo Barred Out Until Too Late.

Officers Say Didn't Expect Canella to Die.

Rev. Michael Raimondo of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, caused a sensation at police headquarters yesterday afternoon by charging the officers with having prevented the administration of the last sacrament to the dying murderer, Samuel Canella.

The brutal uxoricide expired at 1:16 o'clock in the afternoon. He was delirious several hours before the end, which, in spite of the agony he suffered, was unexpected. The doctors declared to the last that Canella would recover.

"It is too late, too late," said the priest. "The man is dead and cannot receive absolution. This could have been avoided if the Chief of Police had let me see him last night."

Though very much excited, Father Raimondo finally told his story. He is emphatic in his complaint against the police and especially denounced the action of the detective department in its treatment of the prisoner.

"When I heard about the terrible case of wife murder Tuesday night," said the priest, and later received a telephone message that the man was an Italian and was dying, I hurried to the Police Station and asked to see Canella. I told them I am a priest.

"My request was denied. They told

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Expert Wood yesterday filed his report on the examination of the books in the City Engineer's office, but it gives no light on the outfall sewer contract.

George Powers, held in the City Jail, will attempt to break out today by the habeas corpus route. He avers that he is held under excessive bail.

Deputy Sheriff Vignes gave bail yesterday in $1000 before Judge Trask, and was discharged from custody under the grand jury indictment for corruption under the primary election law.

Mrs. Aurelia Scheck appeared before Police Justice Austin to answer to a perjury charge and her case was continued to Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

James F. Morley, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of violating a city ordinance by placing a sign outside his pool-room on Spring street, was arraigned before Justice Austin and pleaded not guilty. The case was set for Saturday.

AT THE CITY HALL.

EXPERT MAKES LONG REPORT.

CAREFULLY AVOIDS THE OUTFALL SEWER CONTRACT.

Finding Amounts to Nothing Except Showing of Trifling Errors. Board of Public Works Adopts New Specifications for Oiling Streets. Sewer Tunnel Up for Bids.

J. Henry Wood, an expert accountant who was engaged by the Board of Public Works to examine the books of the City Engineer's office, prior to the appointment of Homer Hamlin, made his report yesterday.

It is a "scatter-gun" affair, covering thirty-nine typewritten legal cap pages, but its wealth of detail and comment robs it of pointedness. The gist of the entire report is found in the first paragraphs, in which Wood says:

"The audit disclosed many errors and omissions, but not evidence of willful dishonesty. The irregularities are chargeable to a lack of systematic book-keeping. There is no actual shortage of cash funds, but there is a discrepancy between the cash book and the balance called for by the City Treasurer, and this is caused by book-keeping errors and omissions. Errors appear in almost every part of the work, and most of them are inexcusable, and would not be tolerated elsewhere. Demands which have been issued to contractors contain errors of amount and of computation; the demand register contains errors and is not in balance with auditor; the ledgers contain clerical errors and are imperfect in scope; dime-certificates have been overissued, or rather duplicated. Bills for supplies are not always properly O.K.'d, and in some instances have been paid twice. This latter phase of irregularity being proof positive that the system is weak and dangerous.

"Errors and omissions abound; safeguards against errors and irregularities are lacking; absence of an intelligent system, or even uniformity of operation throughout the administration and the book-keeping departments; no central or even individual responsibility on which to locate blame."

Wood cites the fact that one requisition for supplies amounting to $11.71 was paid on April 26, and again on May 7, but he does not give the name of the firm that willingly profited by the transaction.

No special attention appears to have been given the Stansbury & Powell contract for constructing the outfall sewer, the particular contract that led up to having the books of the office experted. He shows that by an inexcusable error in footing, this firm was paid $1000 too much for extras on July 10, 1905, but makes no reference to $82,059, claimed to have been overpaid on work done. Concerning the general contract with Stansbury & Powell, he says that he went over the account but "the bills were not compared," and it must certainly be the understanding of the public that this is the account he was to give the most particular and definite attention. He passes the matter over by declaring that the system of book-keeping in connection with the contract is "simply intolerable," and then makes a simple statement of what they have received, according to the books. Wood must have been told to let this account alone. He shows this to be as follows, including the $1000 overpayment, above referred to: On contract, $325,232.25; extras, $17,458.70; total, $352,688.95. They also received $25,137.09 for hauling brick and cement. Concerning what system of payment was followed by Engineer Stafford, he has nothing to say.

In his strictures upon the payment of warrants, Wood cites the fact that Clem A. Copeland, chief deputy in the Engineer's office, for several months in succession rendered bills and received pay at the rate of $25 a day for special services, chiefly in connection with street lighting. There were no marks of approval of any kind on the bills, which seem to have gone through without question from anyone, though the amounts collected, apparently in addition to the chief deputy's salary, are almost three times the amount of the salary of the head of the department.

Wood puts in a bid to furnish the city a new system of book-keeping, by saying that his familiarity with the books and accounts peculiarly fits him to perform the service. The report must have been written prior to the City Council having handed that job over to a New York firm of accountants, at a compensation of $16,000.

Book-keeper Peloubet, of the City Engineers' office, says that Wood's report on the books of the office is worth nothing, and that there is no attempt to be fair with the office. On July 28 the Board of Public Works ordered ledger accounts kept with every individual contract, and the most careful system adopted to avoid errors in the issuance of warrants, and Peloubet says the accounts are so kept.

NEW SPECIFICATIONS FOR OILED STREETS.

Upon the recommendation of the Board of Public Works, the City Council has adopted new specifications for the construction of oiled streets where natural soil is used. These specifications are known as "No. 42—New Series," and provide for the construction of oiled streets on a system similar to that in use in the Santa Monica district and, which has been found very satisfactory. The process provides for the thorough plowing of the street surface for a depth of six inches and the placing upon this earth of one gallon of oil for every square yard. The soil is then to be plowed to a depth of four inches and another application of oil in the same proportions to be placed, after which the whole street is to be plowed again and thoroughly rolled with a tamping roller. A third application of oil is to be placed, followed by a final dressing down by the tamping roller, and it is said this gives a street that is almost equal to asphaltum in its wearing qualities. The Board of Public Works will use this new system on some of the natural soil streets that must be reoiled this winter.

Will Advertise for Bids.

The Board of Public Works yesterday authorized the placing of advertisements for bids for the construction of Section 3, the tunnel section of the outfall sewer. These advertisements will be placed in the local papers and will also appear in the Engineering News of Chicago and the Engineering Record of New York. Bids are to be opened on November 12. This section is about 7000 feet in length and is the one over which the engineering difficulties have arisen which led to the abandonment of the contract by Stansbury & Powell.

Tunnels Under Streets.

The subject of allowing individuals the right to tunnel or make excavations under streets was discussed by the Board of Public Works yesterday when the application of the Edison Electric Company came before that body, asking for the privilege of making excavations at the southwest corner of Fourth and Main streets. The board is chary of granting any such rights, as it fears they may at some future time interfere with the placing of city conduits or sewers. One such case was called to its attention—that of the tunnel of the Maier & Zobelein brewery, which extends under Aliso street, and which some time ago was found to be directly in the way of a public sewer then being constructed to the Los Angeles River. The matter has been referred to the City Attorney for advice as to what requirements the Board of Public Works should make so as to safeguard the city's rights.

City Hall Notes.

Property owners on Stanford avenue have petitioned for the improvement of that street from Eighteenth to Washington.

The City Council has accepted the map of the Tenth and Valencia street tract, and the thirty-fourth street to be known as Covert Place, which has been dedicated as a public thoroughfare. The Council has also accepted Edward D. Silent's subdivision of lands lying east of State street and south of Griffin avenue, and certain streets which Silent dedicates as public highways.

At its session yesterday the Board of Public Works provided for the opening of Hope street across the Southern Pacific tracks at Santa Monica avenue and the opening of Thirty-eighth street across the tracks of the Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company. The board also agreed to recommend the placing of electric lights at Hope and Jefferson, Hope and Santa Monica and Thirty-eighth and Widney streets.

Cash for the Bonds.

The city ordinance awarding the $287,500 main and lateral sewer bonds of the city of Los Angeles to the Los Angeles Trust Company and the Adams-Phillips Company, was published yesterday, and these companies were on hand with the cash, and took up and paid for the whole issue of bonds, $287,500, and the accrued interest from July 2, plus premium of $56.50.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

REBELLION RELIC COSTS LIBERTY.

SUSPECTED HOLD-UP MAN PASSES CONFEDERATE "V."

George Powers Kept in Jail Because of Inability to Give $1000 Bail, Which Amount His Attorney Strenuously Claims Is Excessive—Hope in Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

George Powers is behind the bars for passing a $5 Confederate bill as the genuine article, and is held in $1000 bail. The defendant's attorney claims this bail is excessive, and, while the authorities do not particularly deny the claim, they frankly state that they have their reasons for wishing to keep Powers in status quo.

There is suspicion that this young defendant has been concerned in several shady transactions and particularly in one or two hold-ups that the police are investigating. Yesterday, Power's attorney spoke to Judge Smith about the matter informally. It was pointed out that there was no immediate hope of relief from the Superior Court inasmuch as that court had yet no jurisdiction in the case.

Yet the attorney yesterday afternoon had the mother of Powers and another woman ready to qualify in the sum of $500 if the court would reduce the bail. In the absence of Judge Smith, the application was heard by Judge Gibbs, and quickly disposed of. Judge Smith also held that the Superior Court had not obtained jurisdiction.

Habeas corpus was suggested to Power's attorney. A writ was sued out and made returnable by Judge Gibbs before Judge Smith this morning, when under allegation that Powers is being unlawfully deprived of his liberty, the question of a reduction of bail will be made.

SHOT UP TOWN.

DEPUTY CLAIMS DAMAGES.

A. D. Williford is a deputy sheriff in Inyo county. A few days ago, he ran up against John Keane of Los Angeles, in the lively town of Ballarat. Now the deputy sheriff is nursing his wounds, and yesterday began a suit against Keane to recover $20,000 damages for personal injuries and $300, the cost of surgical attendance.

It is alleged that, September 13, Keane was in Ballarat, enjoying himself in the old-fashioned style by shooting up the town. He had shot C. E. Shiley, when Deputy Sheriff Williford happened along. The officer demanded the revolver Keane was flourishing; instead, Keane, it is alleged, shot the representative of the law in the forearm, which was broken by the impact of the bullet on the bone. He was laid up with a serious injury.

VIGNES GIVES BAIL.

TIME FOR ARRAIGNMENT.

Yesterday was the time set in Justice Young's court for the preliminary examination of H. C. Vignes, the special Deputy Sheriff charged with corruption in the Fortieth Precinct at the last primary election. Inasmuch, however as the grand jury had returned a true bill against Vignes for the same offense, the charge made on complaint was left up in the air in the justice's court, and the hearing was continued indefinitely.

Yesterday morning, Vignes appeared before Judge Trask and furnished the required bail bond of $100. His arraignment was set for September 25, at which time his trial will be set.

WARRANT IS ISSUED.

ROGERSON HAS JUMPED OUT.

Almost exactly two years ago, T. H. Rogerson was released on probation by Judge Smith, after pleading guilty to having forged three checks. Rogerson was a young man of good appearance and having friends who interposed in his behalf.

Rogerson was ordered to report to Under Sheriff Yonkin, a probation officer. A day or two ago, it reached the ears of Mr. Yonkin that Rogerson had again raised money on bogus paper.

Yesterday Judge James ordered a bench warrant for the offender, but it is not believed that Rogerson will be captured, as it is reported that he has left the State.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

HUNEKE'S SEPARATE—After a prolonged hearing, Judge Bordwell yesterday granted a decree to John Huneke divorcing him from Frances Huneke, on the ground of cruelty. The court held that the husband had suffered from the petty tyranny and abuse of his wife for a long period of years, and that it was time for a surcease. There is a good deal of community property, and the courts may have to adjudicate the division.

TAKEN EAST. Mrs. Carrie Clark and D. C. Stokesberry, arrested here for having eloped from Chariton, Iowa, were taken East last night by the Iowa officer sent to take charge of them, E. S. Wells, the District Attorney at Chariton. Accompanying him was Clark, husband of the woman. When he and his wife met in the county jail she appeared reasonably glad to see him.

WIRES DIVORCE—Margaret Wires was granted a divorce from Lafayette Wires, on the ground of cruelty. The parties married in June, 1900, and in October, 1903, the husband, it is stated, abandoned his home, but not before he had made home miserable by his brutal conduct. Wires was a clerk with the Pasadena Ice Company. He refused to appear in court and answer why he should not pay alimony. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest; learning of this, he left the State.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

SCHECK HEARING IS POSTPONED.

CURIOUS CAN'T SEE THE WIDOW AGAIN UNTIL TUESDAY.

Prisoner Gay Despite Deep Mourning Hues of Raiment, Which Jail Fare Is Filling With Lines of Plumpness—She Appears Confident of Dismissal of Perjury Charge.

Nerveless, and apparently unmindful of her surroundings, Mrs. Aurelia Scheck, confessed accomplice of Ernest G. Stackpole, convicted murderer of her husband, sat unmoved in Police Justice Austin's courtroom yesterday afternoon, where she was arraigned on a charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed at the Coroner's inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of her husband, Joel Scheck.

Attired in deep mourning, the woman went into court shortly after 2 o'clock. She glanced over the curious crowd which thronged the room and struggled for a glimpse of her, flounced into a chair and threw back her veil, then immediately became engaged in an animated conversation with her attorneys. Far from appearing worried, Mrs. Scheck smiled and chatted freely with those about her. She is growing plump on prison fare.

Deputy Dist.-Atty. McComas opened the case for the prosecution by moving for a continuance. He declared that several weeks are needed in which to prepare the evidence against the woman, and pleaded lack of help in the District Attorney's office. The defense did not look kindly on such a long continuance and a compromise was effected by postponing the hearing until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Attorney Appel, for the defense, attacked the legality of the complaint. He charged the Coroner with having exceeded his duty at the inquest, when he said Mrs. Scheck was asked compromising questions, and when, it is charged, she committed perjury. A motion to dismiss the complaint because of the irregularity of the complaint and to dismiss the prisoner from custody, was not considered. Attorney Usher is assisting the defense, which will proceed with its case along the lines outlined yesterday.

JIM MORLEY IN COURT.

SIGN ON SIDEWALK, 'TIS SAID.

James F. Morley, proprietor of several poolrooms and skating rinks, appeared before Police Justice Austin yesterday afternoon to answer to the charge of violating a city ordinance, maintaining signs on a sidewalk. The complaint charges that an electric sign in front of Morley's poolroom on Spring street is more than eighteen inches from the front of the building.

When arraigned, Morley promptly pleaded not guilty and the hearing was continued until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. At that time, the legality of the ordinance will be tested.

Complaints have also been issued against the B & L saloon and the Superior Bakery, on the same charge.

Held for Forgery.

J. M. Garball, who is charged with writing a check for $20, on the American National Bank, and signing it with the name of E. C. Crary, has been held for trial in the Superior Court, bail being demanded in $1500. The job is such a bungling one that the wonder is that anybody could be induced to cash such a check, whether written by Garball or not.

Ward Secured Time.

Fred Ward, the notorious roadhouse keeper, who was arrested on Friday for violation of the liquor ordinance, was to have been tried on Tuesday, but his attorney appeared and secured a continuance of the case until Tuesday of next week.

BURGLAR AT A PARTY.

While Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Nicholson were entertaining friends on Tuesday evening at their home, No. 3000 Darwin avenue, a burglar made his entrance through a window in a downstairs bedroom. After rummaging through the drawers and the closets the thief secured a pocketbook containing $45 and departed unnoticed. He overlooked a gold watch and much valuable jewelry in his haste. Following the departure of some of the guests, Mrs. Nicholson went into the bedroom. She found the contents of the closets and bureau drawers had been piled on the floor.

BARBOUR'S DEBTS AND HIS HOT AIR.

AFTER all of Henry P. Barbour's hot-air conversation about coming home to pay his honest debts, his petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday afternoon.

His own guess at the amount of the money he owes is $91,942.22. He gives his assets as $85,841.

His debts include an "obligation" of $11,000 that he says is due his wife for money advanced him. Among the claims he admits is one of $2600 due life insurance companies on policies. He has a telephone bill of about $50. He says he owes a mysterious man in New York $20,000. Two of the debts acknowledged are for money paid in by purchasers of lots that Barbour could not deliver after receiving the money.

Some of the debts that he names are said to be outlawed. A fierce contest will certainly ensue before Barbour is ever admitted to bankruptcy.

He claims that about $32,000 is due him from various persons about the city and gives this item among his assets. Some of his creditors assert that this sum is inflated.

His office furniture will be sold today. One part of it, consisting of several desks and chairs, maps, etc., is to be sold on Custer street and another at Long Beach, where he had one of his promotion offices.

They are under attachment by Attorney Willis Mitchell for a client who holds a $2000 judgment against Barbour. Several other creditors have attempted to levy on this furniture before, and on a sum of about $8000 said to be due Barbour from the Dock and Navigation Company in Long Beach. Mitchell is the first successful one.

On account of the pending bankruptcy, the Sheriff has refused to pay Mitchell's claim out of the levied-on money; wherefore a suit against the Sheriff is threatened unless the claim is satisfied from the sales today.

In his bankruptcy schedule, Barbour gives his cash on hand as $50. Some of the creditors claim to know that Barbour has more than that amount of money; that he has recently received about $1500 due him in commissions. Money due him was collected by his attorneys and paid to Mrs. Barbour in his absence; money was also sent him from this city.

During his desperate struggle to keep his head above water before the crash, Barbour had many attorneys who have now turned against him; they know enough about his affairs to make the coming bankruptcy hearing warm.

Barbour is now living quietly with his wife at Long Beach. He looks shabby and thin and worried. Verily, the way of the promotor is hard and filled with rocks. Yea, and thorns.

Mr. Barbour, at his home in Long Beach, last night authorized the following statement:

"Less than two weeks ago when I returned from a protracted stay at Ensenada, I informed the representatives of the newspapers that within a short time, I would be ready to make a statement in regard to my affairs.

"My plan at that time was to collect all my assets speedily, and turn them over to my creditors. My plan has not changed since that date, though the manner of effecting it necessarily has changed.

"At the time of my retrurn my principal assets were in the form of cash due me, as commissions, from the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company, also shares of the capital stock of said company; also an equity in the Ocean Pier Tract, the value of which is difficult to estimate, but which will run up well into the thousands.

"Against the cash commission due me I found that three or four creditors had levied attachments, and having obtained judgments in their suits against me, were liable at any minute to collect the amount of those judgments aggregating about $8500. I began negotiations with these creditors for the purpose of effecting a settlement and to obtain such extensions of time as would enable me to carry into effect the said settlement. Some of the creditors met my offers with favor, but some absolutely declined them. It was manifest that unless all agreed it would be impossible for me to carry my plan into effect. Therefore, justice to all of my creditors, rather than allow these few to secure what would have been a decided preference over all others, compelled me to decide to go into bankruptcy at once. The necessity of taking this step I very much regret. Many a time in years past, I have had heavy obligations pressing upon me, but I have never sought refuge in bankruptcy, preferring to fight my way along and to eventually pay my creditors as I have done in large amounts and in many instances. At the present time I am not employing bankruptcy proceedings for my own benefit, as I would much prefer to make a fight to meet the obligations, which I have assumed.

"As I have just said, the thing which now induces me to file a bankruptcy petition is to give all my creditors an equal chance at my assets. My petition contains a complete statement of all my liabilities. I have no doubt that a number of these are outlawed and possibly it may be the duty of the trustee to contest them upon that ground, but whether they are outlawed or ultimately only paid in part by the trustee from the assets which he may be able to collect, I can assure all my creditors that this action of mine in turning over to them all that I own is simply an indication of my intention to protect them, and permit, as far as in my power, no preference, and with the great opportunities which are open to us in this country, I feel certain that it will not be long before I am firmly established financially.

"Of course it will be understood that I shall lend all the aid in my power to the bankruptcy trustee in collecting my assets."

PURE-FOOD DISCUSSION.

Three Hundred Members of the Retail Grocers' Association Meet—No More Trading Stamps.

Three hundred members of the Retail Grocers' Association gathered in Woodmen's Hall Tuesday to discuss a course of action to meet the conditions that will arise when the new pure food law goes into effect, October 1, and to congratulate themselves upon the passing of the trading-stamp concerns that have been practically forced out of business through the efforts of the association during the past six months.

In reviewing the achievements and work of the association in the interest of the retail grocers of Los Angeles since its organization four years ago, Secretary J. F. Paulding pointed to the successful campaign that has been waged against the trading-stamp concerns as the most important and complete victory that has been won. When the campaign against these parasites was undertaken last February the stamp companies were almost in a position to dictate terms to the retailers, and were able to demand a price of $10 per thousand for their worthless coupons.

Three companies were doing business at this rate and levying the tax of their earnings upon the retailers. At the present time one company is trying to sell its stamps at the rate of $1.50 per thousand, and can find no buyers. Two other companies are in a still worse position.

J. R. Newberry, retail and wholesale grocer, spoke at length on the probable effects of the recent legislation in the interest of pure food, which will be felt at the beginning of next month.

LIKES OUR LAMPS.

Portland Man Places in Front of His Business Block Post of Design Used Here.

Los Angeles's brilliant street-lighting systems on Broadway, Spring, Main and Hill streets, favorably impresses the stranger within our gates. Recently Henry Clay Breeden of Portland, Or., has erected in front of a business block which bears his name a lamp post of the same style as have been recently installed on the above-named streets. The Portland Oregonian in speaking of it, says:

Mr. Breeden has erected in front of the building which bears his name, at Third and Washington streets, an ornamental lamp post which is a thing of beauty and a joy to be lighted by. The pole is twelve feet high, and at the top are five large globes, each of which contains three lamps of 32-candle power each.

"It is what is called candelabra style and are nouveau," explained Mr. Breeden today. "My purpose in putting up the post was to give an object lesson to the business men of Portland in the beautification of the downtown section. The design is one accepted by the city of Los Angeles from a great many submitted to that city.

"Los Angeles is the only city in the world which uses the ornamental lamp post of this particular design. That city has them on three streets now, and the effect is striking. While in Los Angeles last winter I was struck with the beauty and the utility of the design, and I secured a lamp. This city is full of gas pipe posts, made hideous by advertisements. Not an advertisement of any kind shall go on the post in front of the Breeden building."

Swelldom.

The opening of Swelldom, a new coat and suit shop at 521 S. Broadway, is another indication that the business section of the city is traveling southward. This shop is devoted exclusively to ladies' ready-to-wear garments. The initial display is attracting considerable attention. It is interesting indeed to those who want to know what's what in fashions.

ASK VETERANS TO COME HERE.

UNITED SPANISH FIGHTERS TO PULL FOR ENCAMPMENT.

Great Interest in National Gathering Next Month at Washington, and Plans Laid to Bring That of Two Years Hence to Los Angeles. Phonetic Invitation.

Not since the amalgamation in 1904 of the Service Men of the Spanish War, the Hispano American War Veterans and the Spanish War Veterans into one organization known as the United Spanish War Veterans has so much interest been manifest as over the forthcoming national encampment, to convene at Washington, D. C., October 8 to 13, inclusive. The selection of these dates is the result of a conference between President Roosevelt and the national officers of the United Spanish War Veterans.

The past year has been the most active since the coalescence of the foreing veteran organizations which came almost spontaneously into existence shortly after the close of the difficulties with Spain in 1898. The growth in membership during the past year has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. In this respect the Department of California has done its share, and has the distinction of being the only department in the order with a camp in both the army and the navy, and composed of veterans in active service at the present time.

The President of the United States is an active member and his presence is prominent in the councils of the next encampment, together with that of the following-named other charter members promises full success: Admirals Dewey and Schley, Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Maj.-Gens. Otis, Wilson, Kiefer and Lee, Brig.-Gens. King, Wiley, Hulings, and others of high rank.

Since the selection of Washington, D. C., a year ago at Milwaukee as the convention city, an energetic committee composed of veterans of the Department of the District of Columbia has planned an elaborate programme for the five days' reunion. Fifteen thousand veterans, their ladies and friends are expected. California will be represented by a delegation of fifteen comrades, together with many

Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski and Commanda H. A. Atwood will represent the local veterans. San Francisco and the cities about the bay will send a delegation of ten, while San José and Sacramento will be recognized through Judge C. W. Davison and Harry A. Melone. George A. Geis will go from the McKinley Camp of Long Beach.

The launch as the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the declaration of war with Spain is to be made an event of much importance in 1906, the Department of California is to make a strong plea to bring the national encampment to this State that year, and since Los Angeles is conceded the ideal convention city, all the delegates in Washington this year from California and the Northwestern States are pledged to work for this Camp Roosevelt, the subordinate camp of the order of this city, has made a handsome sum for the purpose of bringing the comrades here this year, the Chamber of Commerce and other like bodies of the city and county expressed a willingness to contribute to have this State and Los Angeles County and City represented by the presence of the largest possible this end 2000 copies of descriptive and instructive pamphlets on Los Angeles County and City," are to be forwarded to Washington, D. C., by the local Chamber of Commerce, and there distributed by the delegation from California. Inclosed in every half of each book will be the following invitation in phonetic spelling, as prepared by Roosevelt Camp:

Painters' Union Walking Delegates Want Six Full Days' Pay and a Rumpus Results.

The five-and-a-half-day week that the walking delegates of the Carpenters' Union held out as the surcease of ills of the union dupes has, like Frankenstein, risen up against them, and already two of the four agitating fakirs have been relieved of their fat, called "jobs."

A stormy bouffe meeting of the Carpenters' Union was held Tuesday night, and the two paid bosses ousted. The fellows who act as "business agents" wanted six days' pay instead of five and a half days' wage they have had the members into asking for. They objected to having the half-day lopped off their envelopes and the treasurer of the union paid them. They said they work harder on Saturday afternoon than any other day in the week.

There are four of these trouble-makers, and they whined for the extra day's pay like pups for milk. The members of the union were obdurate and pointed out that if they were to pay for six days two of them would have to be fired, and two were "fired." Then, when the condition of affairs was explained to the totemites were informed that several small contractors in the union, who had signed the wage scale and could not compete with the big contractors who employ non-union men. As a result the union received "letters of regret" from four small builders, who "withdrew their connection" with the union.

This action caused more unrest, and many of the members asked permission to withdraw without gaining the ends of the vigilance committee or the union. Then the organization has applied the threat was made that if withdrew he would "do

Delegates Union Walking Delegates Get Full Days' Pay and a Few Other Results.

The half-day week that the delegates of the Carpenters' Union held out as the surcease of the union dupes has, like Banquo's ghost, risen up against them, and only two of the four agitating walkers have been relieved of their fat, fat jobs.

A rousing meeting of the Carpenters' Union was held Tuesday night, at which the two paid bosses ousted. The men who act as "business agents" for six days' pay instead of the old half-days' wage they were wont to, were into asking for, objected to having the half-days taken off their envelopes by the treasurer of the union paid them. They said they work harder than any other men.

The leaders of these trouble-makers were seated for the extra half-days pups for milk. The majority of the union were obdurate and declared that if they were to pay for two of them would have to pay for five were "fired."

The general condition of affairs under the Hotsmites were indeed unique. Several small contractors who had a one frame building to erect, who had signed the wage scale, had completed their work and could not compete with the contractors who employ non-union men. As a result the "unfair" letters of regret" were sent to small builders, who had no union connection" with the Carpenters' Union.

This caused more unrest, and many members asked permission to work without gaining the consent of the vigilance committee or the organization has approved. When refused this request it was made that if he withdrew he would "do as he pleased." Many was taken to San Francisco the first of this week by an emissary of Pinhead McCarthy. It is stated that McCarthy is compelled to furnish work for the more rabid of the dupes or they will cause a stampede among the other members and the organization will be less, even, than it now is.

Four big guards sat for two hours Tuesday night on the roof watching for a Times reporter, and at the four corners of the building other watchers stood guard. Still The Times prints the news, as always.

BARD LIKES BELL BUT THAT'S ALL.

EX-SENATOR PICKS GILLETT TO WIN GOVERNORSHIP.

Republican Nominee Fine and True Man, With Good Record in Congress Behind Him, Says Statesman, in Los Angeles for First Time Since Narrow Escape from Death.

Hon. Thomas R. Bard, former United States Senator, hale and hearty and with but the slightest trace of a limp in his walk, is spending a few days in Los Angeles for the first time since his narrow escape from death in a runaway smash-up last December in Hueneme.

HON. THOMAS R. BARD.

A broken hip-bone and a struggle against other bodily injuries received in the accident had scarcely been safely passed over when Mr. Bard was afflicted with pneumonia and for a month lay at Santa Barbara making a second fight for his life.

In spite of this combination of accident and sickness, accentuated by his age, well along in the sixties, Mr. Bard says that he never felt better than now, and what is more, he looks the part.

He is tremendously interested in the political situation in the State. In fact, he has always been interested in the politics of the Golden State.

"I like Gillett. A fine and true man," he said yesterday, as he rested in the lobby of the Van Nuys after an automobile ride through the city. "He made a good record in Congress, and I remember him well when I was in Washington. He was on the Judiciary Committee, and was one of its strong men. He is one of those men who always has to be reckoned with no matter what was to be done.

"He had several important matters to handle while a member of the Judiciary Committee, and he handled all of them well. He is a young man and big mentally and physically. He possesses a fine appearance and has a winning way.

"I think he is going to win, of course, but I look for a very interesting campaign. Mr. Bell, who has been nominated by the Democrats for Governor, is also a clean, wholesome young man. I like Bell very much, and have only one thing against him, That is that he is a Democrat."

Referring to the independent movement, both in this city and county, and the so-called Independent League's recent nominations, Senator Bard says there is a decided difference. He believes stoutly that independent action in municipal and county politics is salutary to the welfare of any political party, but "up higher" than the county and municipal confines he casts oblique glances.

He says that he has little faith in the so-called Independent League's stand and clinches his opinion when he suddenly says, "By the way, who is that man Langdon?"

Mr. Bard says that his enforced rest has in a great many ways bettered his general health. He had been for years rather nervous from overwork and his friends had often told him that if he ever met with an accident that would compel him to remain quiet for a month or so, he would be greatly benefited.

He acknowledges the benefit of his recent "rest cure," which embraced a broken bone and the pneumonia, but says he does not crave a repetition.

Mrs. Bard and one daughter accompany the Senator. Miss Bard will leave for London, this week, there to remain during the winter months. Mr. and Mrs. Bard will spend a few days in this vicinity, and will then go to their home in Hueneme.

THE WINNING STROKE

If more than ordinary skill in playing brings the honors of the game to the winning player, so exceptional merit in a remedy ensures the commendation of the well informed, and as a reasonable amount of outdoor life and recreation is conducive to the health and strength, so does a perfect laxative tend to one's improvement in cases of constipation, biliousness, headaches, etc. It is all-important, however, in selecting a laxative, to choose one of known quality and excellence, like the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., a laxative which sweetens and cleanses the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects, as it acts naturally and gently on the internal organs, simply assisting nature when nature needs assistance, without griping, irritating, or debilitating the internal organs in any way, as it contains nothing of an objectionable or injurious nature. As the plants which are combined with the figs in the manufacture of Syrup of Figs are known to physicians to act most beneficially upon the system, the remedy has met with their general approval as a family laxative, a fact well worth considering in making purchases.

It is because of the fact that SYRUP OF FIGS is a remedy of known quality and excellence, and approved by physicians that has led to its use by so many millions of well informed people, who would not use any remedy of uncertain quality or inferior reputation. Every family should have a bottle of the genuine on hand at all times, to use when a laxative remedy is required. Please to remember that the genuine Syrup of Figs is for sale in bottles of one size only, by all reputable druggists and that full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co., is plainly printed on the front of every package. Regular price, 50c per bottle.

ONE BOTTLE CURES.

Chicago, Ill., April 8, 1906.

Mr. W. F. McBurney, Los Angeles, Cal.—Dear Sir: It affords me pleasure to testify to the efficacy of your Kidney and Bladder Cure. I have been troubled with my kidneys and bladder for over four years. I have been treated by the best physicians of this city during that time. (I mention two who stand at the head of the profession, viz.: Dr. C. A. Purdy and Dr. Frank Walls, the latter being my son.) I regret to say they did me no good. I was advised to spend the winter in your glorious climate and try the ocean baths. I visited San Diego, Santa Monica and Santa Barbara, but received only temporary relief from the baths. On the night I left home I got a bottle of your medicine. The first dose did me good, and I was well when I reached home, and I can say in conclusion that I am grateful to you. If this letter is of any use to you, use it. THOS. WALLS.

Mr. Taft will probably soon fix the Cuban lid so that anybody can sit on it.

The saving of San Pedro Harbor has developed into a continuous performance.

In the Cimarron bridge disaster it was the fellows in the smoker who got the worst of it, as usual.

Speaking of the pure food bill, it will doubtless be as difficult to meet it as it was to meet the bill for the other kind of stuff.

"Woman wants $53,000," reads a newspaper headline. If that were all that woman wants the case would be simple enough.

The latest report from our Mr. Sleeper at Havana was to the effect that he hasn't been able to close an eye for two weeks past.

Doubtless Gen. Funston has the whole thing mapped out, and is prepared to either fight or swim, as the occasion may arise.

"The Yellow Peril" need be no longer dreaded. "Red" Hayes stands ready to fight the whole of Asia without asking any outside help whatever.

The Cuban insurrectionists might possibly precipitate American intervention somewhat by taking Havana while Mr. Taft is within the city's gates.

The latest straw vote indicates that the struggle for the political control of California now lies between Hearst's Independence League and the Smoke-up party.

It is noticed that the Czar is not attending the funerals of his murdered generals. If he were to do so he wouldn't have time to attend to anything else.

There must be a poet on the San Pedro Board of Trustees. None but a poet would put into resolutions such phrases as "to ever guard with vigilant eye."

A local butcher has been arrested for beating an actor. But it is pointed out as a palliating circumstance that the actor had been for some time engaged in beating the butcher.

The poor people of our sister republic of Chile are suffering for the want of money, food and clothing, caused by the recent terrible seismic disaster in that country. Let us dig up.

Sometimes the suspicion that President Palma would do as well in some other job sneaks in on the close readers of the news no matter how eager they are to hold to a different opinion.

Wherever there is talk of a rough-house it seems that army headquarters just naturally orders Fred Funston to pack up and get there without giving a thought to anybody else.

In appearing before the public in his present attitude as a fire-eater, it should be understood that "Red" Hayes is merely making an honest attempt to be consistent with his whiskers.

It appears to be plain enough that these persons in Los Angeles who claim to have the gift of tongues have been able to at least talk the price of a few meal tickets out of members of the congregation.

The terrible story of death and suffering that the late Rock Island wreck furnishes, brings once more to public attention the criminal negligence of bridges on the part of railroad companies in general.

Astrologers claim that catastrophies occur when the stars are wrong. There is a suspicion, however, that in the case of railroad wrecks it is the switch or the track or bridge or something of that kind that's wrong.

When this trouble in Cuba is finally settled, and peace again broods over the Pearl of the Antilles, it would satisfy a widespread curiosity if Senator O'Farrell would make it clear just on what grounds he claims to be a Cuban?

Joe Bailey is a changed man. He refers to Roger Sullivan as a person "having a reckless disregard for the truth." There was a time when no true son of Texas would beat around the bush in that manner, but would call a man a liar right out and be done with it.

The New Hampshire Legislature can reply to Winston Churchill by saying that if he can find any other legislature that is not owned by a railroad it is willing to throw up the sponge and let whoever else wants to make the laws do so, and "be hanged to them."

Winston Churchill demands that the Legislature of New Hampshire "make a contract with the railroads for transportation." Here we have an instance of the innocence of these literary men as regards political matters. Doesn't Mr. Churchill know that a Legislature always makes a contract with the railroads, right at the beginning, not only in reference to transportation but as concerns all other matters in which the railroads are interested?

"LITERARY FELLERS" IN POLITICS.

The candidacy of Winston Churchill for the Governorship of New Hampshire has not only resulted in attracting the attention of the entire country to the contest, but also serves to direct attention to a prevalence of "literary fellers"—as Artemus Ward called them—in this year's politics.

It is difficult to tell just what has led up to this literary fad in the political life of the country. It may have been incited by the success of Brand Whitlock, who was elected Mayor of Toledo this year. Or, the entrance of Booth Tarkington into the Legislature of Indiana may have raised the excitement. Then again, it may have all come about by the selection of Charlie Lummis for the office of City Librarian right here in Los Angeles. You never can tell what initiative and incentive a thing of this kind should be properly attributed to. We will say, however, that we place no weight on the argument that the eruption was first started by the election of E. A. Hayes of San José to Congress, though Hayes is known to once have written a book entitled "The Prune as a Vote-Getter."

But, be the cause whatever it may, the fact remains that the populace is face to face with the problem of the "literary feller" in politics. The fad is spreading like wildfire all over the country. Novelists, poets, reviewers, essayists and magazine writers are bobbing up for office in every teeming town and city and back township.

How our divinely constituted fellow-citizens who write down their dreams on paper for the entertainment of a vague and vast world will fare in the hurly-burly of politics remains to be seen. It is, as yet, an experiment. But the game is well worth watching. The plain, unaffiated, prosy public, it must be said, has its doubts, to say the least. The sordid, red-necktied, plaid-suited gamblers will probably lay odds on the ward-heelers and the wire-pullers to bump the dreamers off the boards. But we shall see.

The only real danger that lies in the situation is that the populace, in its unbridled enthusiasm, may carry the fad to dangerous extremes. The necessity of discriminating in the matter of electing literary persons to offices that suit their tastes may be overlooked. Of course, it is all right to choose a man like Upton Sinclair for a seat in Congress, even though he is running on a socialist ticket. Mr. Sinclair's knowledge of canned meats and wienerwursts and pickled pigs feet and all that sort of thing eminently fits him for the legislative halls at Washington. And it would be all right to elect a poetlet like Sammy Clover to the bench, for, in no way, possibly, might Sammy's contempt for the bench be overcome except he should happen to be the bench, himself. There are also other instances that might be cited.

But, suppose a gentle poet were some day to be elected Sheriff and had to hang a man? O ye gods! Suppose a fiction writer were to be elected assessor? Yet some assessors are pretty good at writing fiction as it is. What would happen if a starved novelist were given the office of county treasurer and found himself suddenly surrounded by mountains of real money?

Fellow-citizens, let us ask heaven to guide us in this serious crisis of the nation's history.

FOUR BIG COMMONWEALTHS.

An official call for the assembling of the Pacific Northwest Convention has just been issued by Theodore B. Wilcox, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Portland Commercial Club, and J. B. Dennis, chairman of the publicity committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce. The convention is to be held at Spokane on Tuesday, Sept. 25. Its object is to bring all the commercial and industrial organizations of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana into one large and powerful body, having for its object "the advertisement and exploitation of the vast territory included within the four commonwealths." It is proposed to bring together some of the representative men of the Northwest, "so that they may unite upon a plan to advertise the immense resources of the four commonwealths, taken as a whole, and not to exploit the peculiar advantages of any city or individual locality."

The enterprise and good feeling which have evidently entered into this ambitious scheme of coöperative exploitation are to be commended. If the proposed organization can be satisfactorily effected and maintained, it will no doubt be productive of great and lasting good in promoting the manifold interests of the four great commonwealths mentioned. The experiment will be one of more than ordinary interest. Experiments of this kind have seldom or never been attempted on so large a scale, and the difficulties in the way of success are neither few nor slight.

While the interests of the four States named are in some respects identical, they are not altogether so, and dissensions more or less serious are likely to arise. Whether these shall prove fatal to the organization will depend upon the organization itself. The theory upon which the scheme of joint endeavor is based is that much better results can be obtained by concerted effort than by separate action in the four States. If the commercial and industrial organizations can work together in harmony, all will go well. But there are interests of so diverse a character to be exploited, that complete harmony will not be attained, perhaps, so easily as is expected.

A COMMENDABLE STAND.

The Times has had occasion, in times past, to express disapproval of some of the acts of officials of San Pedro, and even to criticise the business men of that city for what it deemed a failure to stand up for the right against mobocracy and monopoly. It has always been actuated in these matters by a true friendship for the people of the Harbor City. It is now, with a heightened feeling of friendship and approbation, that The Times feels bound to offer public commendation and congratulation to the leading citizens and the Trustees of San Pedro, because of the overthrow of Agitator Craig, and the wise action taken on Tuesday evening.

The ringing resolutions adopted at the mass meeting preceding the session of the Board of Trustees indicated unmistakably the status of public sentiment in San Pedro adverse to the granting of further concessions on the harbor front to individuals or corporations. The subsequent action of the Board of Trustees, refusing to grant the concessions asked for, or to grant any concessions for the present, admirably supplemented and supported the expressed sentiment of the citizens' meeting, and showed unmistakably that the citizens and their chosen representatives are in entire harmony in the matter of preserving the people's free harbor from further encroachment, whether by corporations, by tyrannical labor unions or by individuals. The resolutions adopted by the board completely refute the silly slanders circulated so sedulously by the Los Angeles Examiner, to the effect that the Trustees had been bought up by the corporation or corporations directly interested in securing control of the harbor frontage.

There has been at no time any real cause to fear that the Trustees would betray the public interests. The Los Angeles Examiner alone is responsible for the malicious slander which placed them under suspicion. It has been made clear that they are all fully alive to the interests and the rights of the public, and that they may be depended upon to safeguard those rights and interests to the best of their ability. They recognize the necessity of keeping in touch with public opinion, and of being guided by it in all matters concerning the public welfare. The action they have taken in refusing to grant the concessions asked for at this time is not only greatly to their credit, individually and as a body, but it will prove of incalculable benefit to Southern California in general.

As The Times has heretofore shown, the concessions asked for, though not apparently of great value at the present time, are morally certain to be of immense value in the future. Little need, therefore, to emphasize the folly of disposing of these concessions at this time, when by holding them a few years longer the city can realize upon them from ten to twenty times their present value.

The San Pedro Trustees have done well. Let them continue to guard the people's interests in the people's harbor, and they will merit, and will continue to receive, the public confidence and the public approbation. And let the business men of San Pedro continue the warfare they have declared against the Craig gang of freebooters and all other disturbers of the public peace. They have made a fine beginning, and a few years of this earnest battling against the labor trust and railroad monopoly will place San Pedro among the leading ports of the Coast.

THE SITUATION IN NEW YORK.

The result of the primary election in New York on Tuesday reveals a very interesting political situation. In the Republican ranks the Odell-Platt machine seems to have been shattered to pieces. The real Republican party, whose head in the Empire State is the President, has come out victorious over the Odell forces, and that unpatriotic boss seems to have been given a final knockout. The result is a distinct victory for clean politics, statesmanship and patriotism rather than place-seeking, so far as the Republican party is concerned.

The Democratic machine, known in the city of New York as Tammany Hall, headed by Charles Murphy, Jr., received an exceedingly rude shock at the hands of Jerome and McClellan. But the Democratic machine is not put out of business. On the contrary, it has survived the collision with the Democratic public and is still running, its cogs a little shaken, but all in place and with plenty of steam up in the boiler.

Whether Gov. Higgins comes before the Republican convention for renomination or not, it is now evident that a clean, honest candidate for Governor will be selected, and with the existing conditions in the opposing camp, he will probably be reasonably sure of election.

But the conditions in the Democratic party are by no means clearly defined. Tammany Hall won by so narrow a majority that no one can forecast clearly before the convention of that party shall meet at Buffalo what the net result of the internecine conflict will be. Murphy, the successful leader of Tammany, if the primaries may be called a success for him, is understood to be committed to Hearst as the Democratic candidate for Governor. To this programme a very large mass of the New York Democracy is absolutely opposed. They are opposed to Hearst on principle, looking upon him as an undemocratic, un-American, unpatriotic and most dangerous faker in politics as well as in the newspaper world. They have no confidence in him, because of his entire lack of conviction upon anything, political or otherwise, his self-seeking ambition, and his alliance with every element that is dangerous in American life in order to reach the goal of his own ambitions. The New York Democracy is also very generally opposed to him because of his untrustworthiness as a party man. His own newly-organized league, invented for the sole purpose of furthering his political ambitions, has nominated him and will be a leading factor in Hearst's candidacy. The Democratic nomination would be a mere indorsement of the league's action, and a mere bob on the tail of the league kite. This is naturally an unpleasant situation for Democrats to face.

The alliance of Murphy and Hearst is one of the queerest in the political history of the United States. It is a crystallized saying that politics makes strange bed-fellows. No two stranger elements in politics were ever put into the same bed in America than Charles Murphy, Jr., and William R. Hearst. The steps by which they became able to pool their political issues, if they could be traced, would be of absorbing interest. In the last election in the city of New York, the antagonism between Hearst and Murphy personally was red hot. During the campaign of 1905 the Hearst rags in New York City paid their respects to Jerome and Murphy in true Hearst style. Here are a few of their editorial utterances:

"Jerome knows perfectly well what Murphy has been doing. He knows perfectly well how he has been getting rich. Jerome knows perfectly well that McClellan is nothing but the miserable, servile tool of Murphy, the ignorant, grasping boss."

"First let us consider the gas trust. This corporation for the spoliation of the people of New York is controlled by Thomas F. Ryan, who in turn controls the Murphy candidate for Mayor, George B. McClellan."

"Does it appear in the line of good government to permit the gas men, Ryan, McClellan and Murphy, to take easily $2,000,000 a year out of the pockets of our citizens?"

"If you doubt Mr. Ryan's domination of Murphy and Tammany, look at the fat contracts which Murphy's company has gained from the gas trust and the Metropolitan Traction Company."

"McClellan's boss administration means business for Murphy. Business men know that Murphy gets his contracts from the gas trust and the Pennsylvania Railroad and all the other big concerns only because he does favors for them. They know that every favor deprives the city of revenue and piles up the taxes on them and their business."

In a letter of Hearst to Judge Seabury, written during this same campaign of a year ago, occurs this language:

"The machinery of government in this city is in the control of a boss (Murphy) whose fortune is based on contracts awarded by corporations in return for special favors and illegal privileges."

Charles Murphy, Jr., may find it convenient or of interest to him, either in a political way or otherwise, to forget the grossness, harshness and insulting expressions concerning him uttered by Hearst a year ago. But although Murphy seems to have barely kept control of Tammany Hall in the primary election of Tuesday, it seems hardly possible that he will be able to swing the Tammany organization solidly into line for Hearst at the approaching convention at Buffalo. Murphy intimated some days ago that he might not insist upon the unit rule. This expression of his possible policy may have helped him to retain nominal control of the organization. If Murphy is as good as his word, which would be expecting a great deal from him, the Tammany organization may act, each as a free lance, at Buffalo. If Murphy should break this promise of his future policy, a thing not at all unlikely for him, and should attempt to enforce the unit rule at Buffalo, it would not surprise us if there is great opposition to the enforcement of the rule on the part of the Tammany braves. McClellan's influence in Tammany, although not apparently sufficient to dethrone Murphy, is a thing which even Murphy himself must reckon with, and seriously. In fact, when it comes to Tammany politics, there are so many wheels within wheels, so many complications, trades swaps and bargains that only those on the inside can surmise what is going on. For all outsiders can see, there may be an understanding between Murphy and McClellan that the unit rule is not to be applied at the Buffalo convention as governing the Tammany Hall delegates. McClellan and Jerome seem to have joined forces inseparably. They certainly will never consent to any motion which in any way favors Hearst.

PEGASUS IN POLITICS.

THE LITTLE PATH.

The world is laced with many paths that lead us here and there
By mountain side and river brink and desert land all bare,
And one may wander in and out, may hurry up and down,
May foot it through the country side or loiter through the town—
But whether it be beaten trail or broad road he may roam

It edged along the singing brook and seemed to pause a while

Then down the hill it hurried till a mystic tryst it kept
And then it wound across the fields until with course made straight

Up to the wide old porch where morning glories climbed and bloomed
And honeysuckles dripped their scent until they had perfumed
Each breeze that laughed and lingered in the tendrils of the vine

The little path that led you home! You halt on weary feet,
And sense the honeysuckle tang come far and faintly sweet,
And see again the kindly trees and hear the olden songs,
And live the boydays over as they come in merry throngs—
And all the roads across the lands and courses through the foam

IN THE BIG INDUSTRIES.

Germany's Iron Exports.

While Great Britain, France and Belgium have made a large increase in their iron exports during the past year, Germany has made no great advance. A peculiar feature of Germany's iron exports is the fact that 60 per cent. have been shipped to five countries only—Great Britain, Belgium, Holland (largely for England,) Switzerland, and Italy. Both Great Britain and Belgium import large quantities of German semi-products in the form of blooms, billets and bars, which they work up into finished products, and then reëxport in other forms, or use for domestic needs. The question naturally arises, says the Iron and Coal Trades Review, "why should not Germany produce the finished article and export direct instead of through Belgium or Great Britain in the manner indicated? The answer is somewhat complex. Belgium has cheaper labor than Germany, Germany has not rolling-mill capacity equal to her resources for the production of semi-products, and at present it suits her conditions to export blooms and billets rather than sheets, plates, and other finished products, while England has the command of a number of markets on which, so far, other countries have made but little impression, and from which her competitors have not been able hitherto to oust her by lower prices alone. Germany, indeed, has had to carve her iron and steel markets out of countries like our own which, until recent years, had hardly been in the category of importing countries to any large extent."

How Portland Cement Is Made.

A technical description of the Portland cement is given by the Board of Engineers of the United States Army. They report to the government that this cement is a product obtained by heating or calcining shale and limestone so that there is fusion, the calcined product containing one and seven-tenths times as much lime by weight as of the materials which give the lime its hydraulic properties. The product is then finely ground, so treated as to make it serve the purpose intended. From the layman that definition would be that Portland cement is made by quarrying and then crushing the rock that it becomes as almost impalpable powder as perfectly refined sugar is rendered as is pulverized sugar. The powder is conveyed to rotary kilns, there burned by a fierce heat to instantly and violently expel the temperature in excess of 300 degrees, thereby a clinker is produced. When this clinker is cooled it is then crushed and reground. The Portland Cement Company grinds so fine that 80 per cent. of the powder will pass through a sieve having 40,000 holes to the square inch. Then the powder is placed in storage tanks that it may be seasoned, a little plaster of Paris added, and the cement is ready for market. After the rock is taken from the quarry all the work is done by machinery, the chemical analysis is made automatically, and the finished product deposited in bins, being taken that the cement be kept in a dry place, as dampness is the only element of danger.

New Steel Mill at Pittsburgh.

The foundations for a new steel mill to cost $750,000 are being put in by the Carnegie Steel Company at Donora. It will be one of the most complete plants of the kind in the district and will be a 35-inch mill. The building over the Donora mills, the Carnegie Company has doubled the blast furnace capacity and enlarged the open hearth department.

It is planned to make the plant one of the largest distributing points in the Pittsburgh district for crude material. The plans include a new railroad to the Connellsville coke fields and a steel bridge over the Monongahela River to the big plants at Clairton. The new blooming mill is to be in operation the first of the new year.

Enormous Coke Production.

The Department of Commerce and Labor announces that the total production of coke at the ovens during the first thirty weeks of 1904 totaled 8,275,577 tons, an amount never before equaled for a like period in the history of the industry. Corresponding production in 1903 amounted to 7,428,406 tons, and in 1902 to 6,000,000 tons. Shipment of coke from the Connellsville district during the present year to July 31 required the use of 627,757 cars of 100,000 pounds capacity, of which were destined to Pittsburgh and the river, 250,000 to points west of Pittsburgh, and 50,000 to points east of Connellsville.

Big Cement Plant.

A big Portland cement plant is shortly to be completed at Leeds, Ala., by the Standard Portland Cement Company. The plant is designed for a capacity of six 100-foot kilns, with a total capacity of about 2000 barrels of cement daily, and when the units are complete will represent the investment of $600,000.

Pig Iron Production.

Statistics of coke and anthracite pig iron production for the first seven months of this year show a total production of 10,310,525 gross tons, with the production in June, if it continued at the rate for the month of May, would bring the total up to 12,000,000 tons, including 182,416 tons of charcoal iron. This indicates a production for the year of 18,000,000 tons for the whole country, against 22,992,280 tons in 1903 and 16,878,371 tons in 1904.

Less Petroleum Delivered.

The Department of Commerce and Labor says the runs from the eastern petroleum, pipe-line fields during July amounted to 2,000,000 barrels, compared with 2,848,000 barrels in 1905, while for the year to July 31 the total receipts aggregated 21,000,000 barrels in 1906, and 26,129,000 barrels. The total deliveries totaled 24,000,000 barrels in July, 1906, and 24,000,000 barrels in 1905, while for seven months they amounted to 26,872,368 barrels in the former year and 28,029,785 in the latter year.

STANDS ALONE.

[From the National Leader.]

That Los Angeles is the only union labor and its ruthless San Francisco and other cities is no doubt due to the unceasing championship of the best interests of the city by the Times. This publication stands entirely alone among the daily and leading metropolitan papers of the country in its outspoken defense of what is right, just, and good of the whole community, regardless of the ire it represents, regardless of the loss of a few hundred extra copies thereby. This course in the case of a metropolitan paper speaks well that is good in the position of such an institution should be. To the proposition for which it stands requires more fortitude on the part of the managing editor of the paper than to assent on these questions to which such a course in question is due. The policy that is sometimes adopted on the part of the legal fraternity are pleased to thus recognize the paper is lessened. In a few hundred street sales which perhaps lost in Los Angeles, but probably more than made up in regular subscriptions from homes in other cities who take the paper because, and only because of its attitude in this respect.

RADIUM UNCHANGEABLE?

Wade's Experiment Shows Millionth of a Grain Doesn't Lose Power in Three Years.

An experiment made by E. M. Wade shows quite conclusively that radium does not lose its power, at least during a lapse of three years. When the world was first agog over the discovery of radium by Prof. and Mme. Curé, Mr. Wade sent to Europe for both a specimen of radium and of pitchblende, its principal source. In return came from Bohemia some slaty gray ore, valued at $25,000 a ton, and a little wooden box, fitted with a magnifying glass. In the box was a piece of radium so small that with the magnifying glass it could not be seen—all that could be seen was the miniature glow of the radioactivity. The little infinitesimal point that produced the light was less than one millionth of a grain of a radium compound.

With this little piece of radium a photograph was made in 1903. In the dark seclusion of a photographer's body of holles, with no light about, and a slide over the plate, the one-millionth of a grain penetrated the darkness and the slide over the plate, imprinting thereon the image of a staple, and showing a circle of light that it cast.

Again, a few days ago, the same experiment was made with the same radium. The little box had been in Mr. Wade's safe all the time. This time a screw was placed between the plate and the box, and its image was shown as true and clear as was that of the staple three years before. Apparently the radium has not lost a bit of its power.

The only result is testified to by Dr. A. B. Newkirk, who has used radium in cases of cancer. He and his associates have two "buttons" of radium, each of ten milligrams. These buttons are made of lead and aluminum, containing the radium inside. In cases of cancer, where the disease is not too far advanced and of certain forms, the use of radium has been quite successful, and one or two absolute cures have seemingly been effected. In other cases occasional application of the radium keeps the disease in subjection.

These buttons are probably the most effective of any specimens on the coast, and they also apparently have not lost any power during the three years that Dr. Newkirk has had them. They still continue to show the light-like activity, just as though the radium was throwing off a little shower of sparks, and this power has not decreased with three years' use. On the contrary, the buttons seem more powerful than ever.

Pink, blue, green, brown and tan even-stripe crinkled seersuckers are here in 29-inch width, at 12 1-2c a yard. Every woman likes seersucker, because it doesn't require frequent laundering—and no ironing at all; in fact, ironing ruins its beauty.

If there's a single style missing from our broad collection of women's winter underwear, cotton, wool or silk, you'll have to hunt to find it. Take a look at the Broadway display.

Exclusive Imported Silks

Not only are these handsome silk dress patterns our own exclusive importations from Lyons, France, but they are far and away the best we have ever been able to retail under two dollars a yard. There are moires, with pompadour designs in the warp, light and supple and indiscribably elegant; soft shades with old-fashioned roses and sprays in rich clusters, very artistically arranged, bold without being heavy, and velvety in general effect, with nature's colorings closely followed; shaded silks that melt into each other with a delicacy of tone hard to imagine, so exquisitely and imperceptibly are they blended.

Then there are the new mascot weaves and hairline Jacquards with real embroidered silk figures, all from $1.50 to $2 a yard.

50c for Allover Nets

We've sold an immense quantity of these allover 45-inch nets, both white and cream. One customer alone bought 42 yards, and many others enough for waists or entire gowns.

75c Perfumes 35c Oz.

Buying perfumes in bulk is a money-saving matter today, with such standard odors as violet, rose, heliotrope, carnation, ping pang and others selling for 35c an ounce—the very sorts for which we usually get 50c and 75c—Ricksecker's, Eastman's, Colgate's, Palmer's and Ferd. Muhlen's.

POLICE PROVOKE PRIEST.

me the man was in no immediate danger, and I was obliged to leave because they said it would be strictly against the orders of the Chief if they let me in.

"They do not treat the priests that way in my country. In Naples I could see a man at any time. I have given absolution to many criminals, and this is the first time I was ever refused admission to a jail.

"In New York the authorities know me, and there I was always given every courtesy. They never interfered with a request from a dying man. I do not understand why I was not admitted when I called to see the dying prisoner.

"They told me to come back in the morning. In the morning when I came the man was delirious. The doctors even then told me they were sure he would not die. I know enough about medicine to know he could not recover. They said they had given him something to clear his mind, so I went away. When I came back he was dead."

The story of the brutal murder of Mrs. Mary Canella by her enraged husband on Monday night was told in The Times Tuesday. Canella lingered until yesterday with a bullet wound in his face, and died in agony shortly after 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Ten minutes after the murderer died Father Raimondo rushed into the Receiving Hospital, threw back the white cloth from the distorted face, and audibly pronounced a prayer.

PRIEST TURNS ON DOCTORS.

The prayer ended, the priest turned in a fury upon the doctors, and charged them with having denied consolation to the dying man. He roundly berated them for what he termed their part in denying a dying prisoner the opportunity to confess his sins. Turning to one of the surgeons, the priest said:

"You knew the man was dying when you sent me away and told me he would live. That was not honest. That was not just. You should have let me stay and minister to him."

Father Raimondo is the priest in charge of the Latin quarter. He is an Italian, and says Canella came from Sicily. He was much disturbed.

The police authorities deny that there was any discrimination in the case of Canella. They declare the brutal murderer had to be carefully guarded, and say special precautions were necessary to keep him from taking his life.

THE OTHER SIDE.

According to the statement made at the detectives' office, Father Raimondo called at the station at 8:30 Tuesday night. He asked to be allowed to see Canella. From the surgeons in Receiving Hospital it was learned that Canella was in no immediate danger, and the request of the priest was denied.

The detectives and others at headquarters are emphatic in their statements that they thought the man was in no danger. They declare that when the priest called Canella was pacing the floor in the hospital and cursing. They had hoped to send him out to the County Hospital today for treatment. He saved them the trouble by dying without a second's warning.

Physicians who attended Canella declare him to have been one of the most cold-blooded murderers ever taken here. They say the man shot his wife with the intention of killing, not only the woman who had been so true to him, but the unborn child.

Lying on a cot in the hospital, the hideous hate showing plainly on the battered face, the corpse of Canella remained yesterday afternoon. He had stubbornly refused to live. In dying he saved the State the expense of a trial.

FINE WEATHER AIDS MONGOLIA.

SUCCOR IS ON WAY TO STRANDED STEAMER.

Restorer Will Be Used to Carry Food and Accessories to the Island. Transport Rosecrans Expected to Be of Service in Floating Wreck. Underwriters Hope to Help.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MIDWAY ISLAND, Sept. 19.—There is no change in the position of the Mongolia. The weather conditions continue the same. The passengers and crew of the liner are all well. Everything is well organized.

RESTORER SAILS TODAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HONOLULU, Sept. 19.—The transport Rosecrans probably will be sent to Midway Island to aid in floating the steamer Mongolia. The cable ship Restorer with Capt. Metcalf and his wrecking tackle on board will sail at noon tomorrow.

RELIEF FOR PASSENGERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The plight of the 500 passengers of the Pacific Mail steamship Mongolia, which recently went ashore near Midway, was made known to government officials here today through a cablegram received by the manager in this city of the Commercial Cable Company.

The necessity for the immediate sending of supplies was made apparent and the question was raised as to whether it would be in contravention of the coastwise navigation laws to send a relief ship under foreign register. The matter was brought to the attention of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and in turn the Treasury Department officials were consulted and the decision reached that there would be no objection to sending the foreign-built cable ship Restorer, now at Honolulu, to Midway Island at once, carrying needful provisions, supplies and wrecking apparatus for the relief of the Mongolia and passengers.

There are, ordinarily less than forty people on Midway Island, and the influx of 500 additional population would mean a serious drain on the resources of the island unless immediate relief were given.

HELP AT HAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—The agents of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company today received news from Midway Island that the Japanese training ship Anegawa was standing by the Mongolia ready to render any assistance possible. The transport Lawton, now at Guam, has been ordered to Midway and the Iroquois and Restorer, the latter with Capt. Metcalf and wrecking tackle on board, are soon expected there from Honolulu. All these vessels are expected to aid in pulling the Mongolia from the reef on which she struck.

UNDERWRITERS TO AID.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—At a meeting of the underwriters interested in the Pacific Mail steamer Mongolia, it was decided to dispatch the powerful salvage steamer Protector to Midway Island so that in the event of the Mongolia being refloated she may be adequately repaired to enable her to proceed to the nearest port. It will be a fortnight, however, before the Protector arrives, and it is feared that in the meantime the Mongolia will be irretrievably damaged by constant pounding on the reef.

LABEL'S USE REGULATED.

Commission Decides Principal Statement on Cans Shall Be Printed in English.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—At today's session of the special commission on rules and regulations for the enforcement of the pure food and drug act, Commissioner James I. Gerry read the tentative regulations prepared by the commission regarding the use of the label.

These regulations provide that the principal label shall be printed in English with or without a foreign label in addition. The substance, manufacturer and place of production shall be stated. If the package contains more than one substance and only one substance is designated on the label it is a misbranding.

It was also announced that the law will not go into effect in the case where the labels are already in hand until July 1, 1907.

Objections were made to some of the proposed regulations by representatives of the drug trade who were present.

The tentative ruling provided further that no geographical name should be used on a produce when it bore no relation to the place of manufacture of the product.

WOUND CAUSES CAPTURE.

Man Wanted in Palermo, Me., Finally Gives Up After Being Chased Two Hundred Miles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BELFAST (Me.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Thoroughly exhausted and suffering from bullet wounds in his breast where he was shot by Rev. Mr. Brown, Fred A. Mogrell of Palermo, wanted for a murderous assault on Mrs. Mary Haskell, his mother-in-law, was landed in the station here after leading the deputy sheriffs and vigilantes, who never left his trail, a chase of 200 miles through dense forests and populous towns.

He occasionally jumped on a freight train to shake off his pursuers when they were getting too close, but all without avail, as he was taken when still many miles from the Canadian line.

No dime novel ever recorded exploits more sensational than those surrounding his pursuit and capture. But for the tell-tale bloodstains he could have lost his pursuers in the forest, but the wound kept breaking out afresh.

TARTAR VILLAGES BURNED.

TIFLIS, Sept. 19.—According to a report received here from the Governor-General of the Caucasus, four Tartar villages in the district of Sangesur have been reduced to ashes by Armenians. The Tartar residents of the devastated region who escaped massacre, have fled the district. The bodies of the slain lie unburied among the ruins.

Nervous?

There are many causes of nervousness, but poor blood heads the list. The doctors call it anemia. The blood lacks red corpuscles. At your first opportunity, consult your doctor about taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Ask him if he has anything better for weakness, debility, nervousness. If he has, take it. If not, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Get well, that's what you are after.

County Independents Now Have Full Ticket.

Rousing Speeches Against Railroad Bosses.

"Smithy" Adds Himself to the Waiting List.

A tremendous declaration of independence of S. P. control in county politics came from the Committee of One Hundred which formally launched its non-partizan candidates and its platform last night.

The public was not admitted to the meeting which was held in Blanchard Hall. A sentinel was placed at the door with a roster of the Committee of One Hundred and every one had to be checked off before being admitted.

The approved list of candidates as given out after this meeting differs from that published in the papers yesterday morning by the authority of the nominating sub-committee.

It is stated, however, that the changes in the list of approved candidates do not signify that any of those first mentioned were turned down by the Committee of One Hundred. The report of the sub-committee was adopted in its entirety. The changes are due to a correction of "typographical errors" in the report as it was at first given out.

The name of Attorney Winder does not appear in the corrected list as a candidate for Superior Judge. The names of C. F. McNutt and Lewis A. Groff have been added to the list of Superior Judge candidates.

In the first list, there were several vacancies, these are all filled in the list as given out last night.

J. B. Millard has been named as a candidate for County Superintendent of Schools. The independent candidate for Assembly in the Seventy-fourth District is Marshall W. Stimson, the young attorney who charged Leo Youngworth with pernicious activity in local politics while occupying the office of United States Marshal; Stimson's letter has gone before the President.

The chairman of the meeting last night was J. C. Graham. It is said that not a note of inharmony was heard. Both platform and candidates were accepted with great enthusiasm.

Both the platform and the list of finally-approved candidates are printed below.

At the conclusion of the formal business of the meeting, the public was admitted and there were a number of rousing speeches.

One of the speakers who was enthusiastically received was Robert G. Loucks of Pomona who will be a strong anti-railroad candidate for chairman of the Democratic County Convention which meets in Elks' Hall today. The members of the Committee of One Hundred feel certain that Walter Parker, Tom McCaffery and other members of the S. P. organization will make a fight at the Democratic convention to smash this independent ticket and deprive it of Democratic support.

The better element of Democracy will insist upon the indorsement of this independent ticket as is evidenced by the fact that Milton K. Young, who has been recognized as the head and front of local Democracy, is a candidate for Superior Judge in the Independent list.

THE INDEPENDENT PLATFORM.

Following is the platform and list of candidates approved by the Committee of One Hundred last night:

The Non-Partisan Organization of Los Angeles County sends greetings to its fellow citizens:

We protest against the further toleration of naming of legislative, judicial and administrative officers in this county by a railroad foreman, and demand that the hired men in public places be replaced by officials representing the people.

The complete domination of public affairs in this county by the Southern Pacific and its allied concerns, the prostitution of public offices, the filling of important places with pliable tools, the spoliation of public property and rights of individuals affecting transportation, the increased cost of living and inequality in taxation, have impelled us to present to the electors of this county a choice of candidates for the public offices to be filled at the ensuing election.

We are not prepared to accept the programme of the Southern Pacific that the laws of this State and county, the administration of the courts and of the Board of Supervisors, and the acts of county officers, are to be administered solely in the interests of the Southern Pacific and by men designated solely by it.

The government of this county and State is not in fact representative in character, but in its various branches it is dominated by the Southern Pacific, for its own aggrandizement and to crush individual rights, with the ultimate purpose of absorbing the earnings and properties of the whole people.

Among the reforms which we advocate, are the following:

1. That the original direct Australian ballot be restored to the people so that the voice of the people may be directly heard, and may be expressed in direct primaries and direct elections by the Australian group ballot without the intervention of caucusses or conventions, and we denounce the present devices of the Southern Pacific and its confederated corporations to pervert the public voice through the present infamous system of election laws and the tricky voting machines.

2. We demand that the guarantee in the Constitution of equal taxation be applied to the taxation of the property and franchises of public utility corporations, and that they be taxed at their true and just value as evidenced by the market value of their securities and by their earnings.

We denounce the illegal devices by which such corporate property pays less than its just share of taxation.

3. We condemn the scheme of laws established in the interest of the Southern Pacific by which the county of Los Angeles is not allowed to construct county roads and we demand that the present laws of the State be amended to permit the construction of county roads and that such roads be constructed from interior places to the water front to publicly owned wharves, and that such roads be macadamized so as to facilitate the transportation of wagons, automobiles and traction engines, and thus regulate the rates of transportation.

4. We oppose the scheme of laws devised in the interest of the Southern Pacific and allied Harriman interests by which the harbors of this coast and especially the great national harbor of San Pedro, is controlled by a handful of men to the exclusion of the rights of the people of the State of California and of the entire United States.

We demand that the regulation and control of harbors should be by a public board, representing the whole people and that no harbor frontage should be given or appropriated to any individual or private use, but should be held solely for public uses, and that all the water front now illegally held by persons and corporations be recovered for the people and restored to public use.

5. We favor the abolition of the laws which prevent the recovery of damages against large corporations for personal injuries and the like, and demand that the courts be so administered as to give the same measure of justice and right to the poorest individual that it gives to the greatest corporation.

6. We denounce the system of laws devised in the interests of the Southern Pacific and placed on our statutes, by which competing lines of railroad are prevented from building to our coast and especially denounce the so-called railroad crossing act, which practically prevents new roads from crossing existing lines of railroads.

7. We demand that the barriers to commerce by water erected by the Southern Pacific be removed and that free commerce be restored. This necessitates the restoration of the public water front to the people, and the opening of commerce between the coast and interior points over country highways and competing railroads. The railroad combine, through its administration of the laws and control of public bodies, has prevented the vast volume of freight which might move by water, from so moving, or from taking the water rate by rail, and which is maintained by a pool thereby enormously increasing the burdens of the people of Southern California.

8. We condemn race track gambling in all its forms and pledge our nominees for Supervisors, State Senate and Assembly, to labor unceasingly to the end that it may be abolished.

Los Angeles, Sept. 19th, 1906.

[Signed] S. C. GRAHAM, Chairman.
EDWARD NORTH, Secretary.

SMITHY'S BOOM.

If one Charles Smith is not elected Supervisor of the Third District, it will not be for lack of exuberance.

Last night, while the Committee of One Hundred was in session for the non-partisan movement, Brother Smith planted himself in the middle of the Broadway sidewalk and passed out handbills all about himself.

The circular was adorned with his own picture, and on the bottom of the page had Webster's dictionary definition of the word "Independent," which Smithy seemed to think absolutely clinched his right to be elected Supervisor—or something.

There's nothing to it; the only way that Smithy can be defeated is for some bold and fearless candidate to hunt up the definition of "Republican" and print another hand-bill.

Smithy says, proudly, in his hand-bill that he didn't vote at any primary or caucus. The thing to do now is to find a man who can't vote to beat Smithy.

CITY DEMOCRATS.

The Democratic City Central Committee met last night at the Democratic Club rooms on South Broadway and fixed Friday, November 2, as the date for holding the city convention Catesby Thom resigned as secretary of the committee and Anthony Schwamm was chosen to fill the vacancy. The Democratic county convention will be held in Elks Hall at 10 o'clock this morning.

ROW RESULT OF BERTH MANDATE.

ESPEE ORDER CAUSES FLURRY IN RAILWAY OFFICES.

Representatives of Foreign Lines Declare Move Is Aimed as Direct Blow at Them to Prevent Their Gaining Favor of Prospective Transcontinental Ticket Purchasers in Their Local Trips.

Something of a flurry bordering on the laughable has been caused in the local offices of foreign railway lines by a recent order of the Southern Pacific prohibiting the Pullman ticket agents in the company's offices to sell berth tickets intended to be used by purchasers on the Southern Pacific only, to any but persons intending to make use of them.

Representatives of foreign lines declare that the order is aimed as a direct blow at them to prevent their gaining favor with prospective transcontinental ticket purchasers by being unable to accommodate them in their local trips over the Southern Pacific.

Heretofore the requests of representatives of foreign lines have been honored for Pullman tickets not only where the purchaser travels over their lines beyond those of the Southern Pacific, but to the same representatives for local travel over the lines of the Southern Pacific, where such tickets have been purchased by the foreign line men as favors to persons whose patronage they hoped at some later date to secure for transcontinental travel.

The Southern Pacific representatives take the stand that if there are any favors to be granted or accommodations to be rendered for local travel over their lines their agents in their own ticket office are the ones to do it, in order that the road may profit by the acquaintance and good will of the traveler and have the better show of securing his patronage in the future.

But representatives of foreign lines declare that they will not abide by the decision, and say that if they have friends who wish to make trips to San Francisco they will secure their Pullman tickets for them over the Southern Pacific in the future exactly as they have done in the past.

They say that if it comes to a showdown they can secure the necessary Pullman tickets by presenting their annual passes at the Pullman window and demanding the berth tickets in their own names.

But as the Southern Pacific is equally determined that all its business shall come to the office which it is spending thousands of dollars to fit up and make one of the handsomest and most attractive in the United States, the outcome of this novel contest will be watched with a great deal of interest not only by the parties immediately concerned, but by outsiders as well.

RAILROAD LOCALS.

J. M. Culp, third vice-president of the Southern Railway, who has been visiting Los Angeles with his wife and family for the past week, has returned to his headquarters at Washington, D. C.

R. T. Green, general passenger agent of the Las Vegas and Tonopah Railway, is entertaining his brother, L. A. Green, and wife, of Leroy, Ill.

T. B. Connelley, general agent of the Gould lines, has returned from a trip to Chicago and St. Louis, where the heat, he says, was something frightful. In comparison with what he has suffered during the past month, Mr. Connelley has been thoroughly enjoying the period of cool weather here since last Sunday.

J. H. Springer has been appointed commercial agent of the Salt Lake, with headquarters at Santa Barbara.

Another steamer load of delayed ties for the extension of the Las Vegas and Tonopah Railroad is due to arrive at San Pedro today, and construction work will be resumed and pushed forward at a rapid pace toward Rhyolite.

land and the Bixby, for the use exclusively of guests of either house. He has also arranged with the Pacific Electric Railway for a private car to leave each hotel daily and make the round trip to the other, running by way of the orange groves and the Oak Knoll residence section of Pasadena.

Besides his efforts to bring Long Beach, Pasadena and Los Angeles close together through the special trolley and automobile service, Linnard is planning to make on the long level sand stretches of the beach town one of the finest and most popular automobile racing courses in the world. He hopes in time to make the Long Beach automobile track as widely popular and famous as that of Ormond Beach, Fla. In addition to this, he is and has been a strong advocate of the Los Angeles-Long Beach boulevard, and will enter actively into the movement at Long Beach for the projection of boulevards and automobile speedways as he has done at Pasadena during the five years of his residence in that city.

FINE HALF-WAY HOUSE.

Mr. Linnard intends to make the Bixby supply to visitors to Los Angeles and Pasadena the need of a strictly first-class beach hotel. It will be the only institution of its kind between the Potter at Santa Barbara, and the Coronado at San Diego. It will be run on the American and European plans, and arrangements will be made so that guests at the Bixby, after having their fill of the sea, may live in the higher altitude and among the flowers and oranges of Pasadena at the Maryland without extra charge, and vice versa for the guests of the Pasadena hostelry.

It is along these new and original lines that Mr. Linnard is confident of winning out. The excellence of the table and service of the Bixby is considered assured by that of the Maryland, and the popularity of the management under Mr. Linnard is fully as certain.

QUICK SUCCESS.

Although he has made such a success as a hotel man, Linnard until five years ago did not know the first thing about the business, as his activities prior to that time had been principally confined to mining ventures in the Rocky Mountains. His first step along his present career was taken when he purchased La Casa Grande at Pasadena. Inside of a year he has made an assured success and had bought a controlling interest in the Maryland, then just completed.

His second venture was even more successful than the first, and under his management the Maryland has become a power in Pasadena, not alone as a hotel, but as a congregating point for men of wealth who, in company with Mr. Linnard, have invested thousands of dollars in Southern California realty, and have taken out big profits, which usually have been reinvested.

In his realty deals Mr. Linnard is said to have been signally successful, and although he has thus far confined his investments principally to Pasadena, it is likely that he will soon take as active an interest in the development of Long Beach.

MAYOR BALKS AT POSTERS.

WORCESTER (Mass.) Sept. 19.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor John T. Dugan is very much shocked at the bold and risque posters used by some business firms and theaters for advertising purposes here, and talks of appointing a woman as billboard censor. He will take measures immediately to suppress some types now seen on downtown signs, and says they are a shame to the modesty of the community and are unfit to be exposed.

The best invention ever offered the public. We say this without fear of contradiction. Don't wait until it is too late. This is a chance of a lifetime. It is advancing every day. We have some inside information that we know that will make it advance still more rapidly. We have an option on some stock that was purchased when it was very low. We can sell you this stock while it lasts very reasonable. In fact, we consider that it is cheaper today in proportion than it was one year ago. There is not much more of this stock left. When the company made up its books the 1st of January, 1906, they had only 23,000 shares left on its books. We do not think that it will take long to dispose of this. Our method of disposing of this stock gives the party with small means an equal chance. Remember that as soon as you make your first payment, from that day you have the benefits of all advances. PRESCOTT PLANS LIGHTING PLANT.

CITY HAS TROUBLE WITH THE PRIVATELY-OWNED SYSTEM.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 15.—The city of Prescott, already owner of its own water-supply system, is about to undertake, as well, its own electric lighting. There has been some trouble over the local electric lighting system, which is owned by a company, headed by F. L. Wright, who also controls the local telephone system and local street railway. It is claimed that a new plant could be built to reduce the prices for lighting fully 40 per cent. and even then make 100 per cent. profit on the cost of operation of the system.

Engineers employed by the city have reported favorably upon the scheme, and it is probable that a municipal lighting plant will soon be established, for the same management as the water-supply plant.

Mr. Wright claims he is a victim of personal persecution, and swears he will wage a retaliatory war by starting a newspaper of his own, and by beginning a fight for the suppression of gambling and for a higher licensing of the drinking saloons of the city.

CLUB STUDIES ECONOMY.

The Yavapai Club, Prescott's most important social organization, has been taking up the study of local political economy, and, as a result, has declared in favor of making all offices salaried. Special notice has been taken of the sheriff's office, where, it is asserted, the net income is in excess of $1000 per month.

SAVE SHEEP BY BOATS.

Within a month ago, 1800 head of sheep belonging to J. D. Newman, finding themselves over the edge of a precipice in the Grand Cañon, while crazed with thirst, and were assumed a total loss. Later word received from Mr. Newman is to the effect that he had found in the pile of sheep at the bottom of the cliff, 450 sheep almost uninjured. These were saved by means of boats.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 16.—An intoxicated Mexican attempted to hold up the night train crew on the Southern Pacific, near Dragoon Summit, a few days ago, seating himself in the cab, and declining the payment of fare to the conductor, backing his game by leveling a large revolver. He made the mistake of becoming careless, whereupon the conductor, Geo. Tansey, had his innings. As a result of the disturbance that followed, the Mexican forthwith departed this life. A Coroner's jury at Willcox rendered a verdict of justifiable killing.

SEEK TO AID PERRY.

H. A. Perry, an American engineer on the Sonora railway, is imprisoned in Magdalena jail at Santa Ana for running over and killing one José Gonzales. Perry is ill and a strong effort is being made by his friends in Nogales to secure his release. The Mexican was drunk at the time, and had driven to sleep beneath a box car.

FREAK AUTO EPISODE.

An automobile party was suddenly halted on the desert, a short distance south of Tucson, by contact with a burro in the road. A lady seated in the chauffeur, turned to speak to three companions in the tonneau, only to find them missing. By a turn of the machine at the time of taking curves, all three had been thrown into the road. The driver returned a considerable distance to pick up his passengers. They were in dilapidated condition, but not seriously hurt. Another automobile story is of a mine superintendent, who started to show some visitors his skill in the use of a large revolver. He announced his intention of shooting the head off a jack rabbit, which his party, in the automobile, was rapidly approaching. Instead of this, however, the cunning man managed to shoot both the gasoline and water tanks of the automobile, bringing the expedition to an absolute stop, many miles from anywhere.

TUCSON BRIEFS.

Tucson is to have a $50,000 High School, located in the northern part of the city, near the Indian School. Here-tofore the High School work of the city has been done in the preparatory department of the university.

As the result of an accident in the Cerro Colorado mine, near Arivaca, Teofilo Valenzuela was killed and Savas Vasquez severely injured. The men were covered by a fall of hundreds of tons of rock from the 220-foot level of the mine.

Frank Price, a Los Angeles negro, caused the arrest of Clarence Campbell and Rachel Clemens, both colored, charging that the pair had assaulted and robbed him. Price had failed to see the wicked side of the city, and succeeded beyond his own expectations.

Tucson, on Saturday, by a vote of 1000 people giving a majority of 73, voted gambling ordinances very similar to those of Tucson, in that they provide prohibitive license.

The new depot building, to cost $50,000, is under construction at Tucson for the Southern Pacific Company. It will be completed about January 1.

The celebration of September 16, Mexico's Independence Day, was generally observed all over Arizona by the Mexicans. Pretentious observances occurred in Tucson, Globe, Bisbee, Phoenix, Clifton and the Morenci towns.

Tucson is now the liveliest town in Arizona and fast coming to be recognized as one of the largest. The building boom is increasing, and many fine residences are under way. It is said that the Gila Valley, Globe and Northern railroad brings about fifty carloads of merchandise into Globe daily. Globe, Globe is yet an unincorporated country village, legally speaking. An incorporation movement is on foot, however, with no opposition, and a petition looking thereto will be filed at once. Globe is probably the largest place in the world, perhaps anywhere in the United States, that is still unincorporated.

The fifteenth annual tournament of the Arizona Gun Club Association was held in Tucson Friday, Saturday and Sunday next. There will be shooting teams from all the larger towns in the Territory, and numerous crack individual shooters.

NEW C. OF C. MEMBERS.

HAS TROUBLE WITH THE PRIVATELY-OWNED SYSTEM.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Sept. 15.—The city of Prescott, already owner of its own waterworks system, is about to undertake, as well, its own electric lighting system. There has been some trouble over the local electric lighting system, which is owned by a company, headed by F. L. Wright, who also controls the local telephone system and local street railway. It is claimed that a new plant could be built to reduce the rates for lighting fully 40 per cent. and then make 100 per cent. profit on the cost of operation of the system.

The employes employed by the city have voted favorably upon the scheme, and it is probable that a municipal lighting plant will soon be established, under the same management as the waterworks plant.

Wright claims he is a victim of persecution, and swears he will wage a military war by starting a lighting plant of his own, and by beginning a fight for the suppression of gambling and for a higher licensing of the saloons of the city.

PRESCOTT STUDIES ECONOMY.

The Tavern Club, Prescott's most select social organization, has been turned to the study of local political economy, and, as a result, has declared in favor of making all offices salaried. Action has been taken of the kind elsewhere, it is asserted, where the saving is in excess of $1000 per year.

LOSE SHEEP BY BOATS.

About a month ago, 1800 head of sheep belonging to J. D. Newman, drove themselves over the edge of a cliff into the Grand Cañon, while crazed with thirst, and were assumed to be lost. Later word received from Newman is to the effect that he found the pile of sheep at the bottom, 450 sheep almost uninjured were saved by means of boats.

IN THE EARTH.

RARE MINERALS, MINES AND METALLURGY.

POPULAR QUERIES AND EXPERT ANSWERS.

(Answers to legitimate questions in mineralogy, metallurgy, chemistry or mining will be given here, but only when of interest to the mining or commercial world. Personal questions from curio dealers and mineral collectors, on ores, minerals, earths or metals of non-commercial value, and assays for metal will not be answered, but should be written direct to analysts and assayers. Address The Times.)

Magnetite, Chromite and Pyrite.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Sept. 1—[To the Editor of The Times.] Will you be kind enough to tell me and the public the name of this mineral? I washed it out of porphyry and slate. Has it a commercial value? Yours truly,

B. C.

Answer: Your concentrates consist of magnetite, chromite, iron-disulphide (pyrite,) and chalcopyrite. The commercial value in precious metals can easily be determined as follows: Carefully sample and pulverize twenty pounds of the ore, pan it down, send the pannings (concentrates) to an assayer. Inform the assayer that the concentrates represent twenty pounds of ore. The resultant button of precious metal by fire assay will represent 1 per cent. of the ton values—2000 pounds.

Fluorite.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Sept. 2.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Will you please name the crystals I send you, giving commercial uses, if any, and describing them. Yours truly, D. G. M.

Answer: The specimens are known as fluorite, or fluorspar, and among the English miners are referred to as "Blue John." The mineral is used in the manufacture of hydrofluoric acid and for such ornamental articles as charms, tazzas, vases and obelisks, and also as a flux for metallic ores. In chemistry, your samples are often referred to as calcium fluoride, and by analysis give calcium 51.3 with fluorine 48.7, percentages as stated. Fluorite occurs natively, in cubes, octahedrons, rhombic do-decahedrons, earthy, compact and nodular. Colors gray, white, many tints of blue, green, purple, yellow, smoky, and red. Transparent to subtranslucent. Luster vitreous, and in some specimens, splendent. Massive varieties possess a glimmering luster. Brittle. Foliated in fracture. Streak white. In hardness 4. When pulverized and placed upon ignited coals a phosphorescent light is given off. Pieces of the mineral rubbed against each other in the dark become luminous. The mineral, powdered, placed in a saucer, and on which powder sulphuric acid is added and then covered with a pane of glass, the glass becomes etched. Panes of glass, etched, and sold by the trade are often obtained in wreaths and other figured designs, the etchings having been formed by hydrofluoric acid, which acid is also used in certain plate work by many of our great daily papers. Before the blow pipe, fluorite decrepitates, and melts to an opaque enamel-like bead.

"Mineral Resources of the United States, 1903," shows that, the production of fluorspar in 1903 was confined to Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee and Arizona, whence the production of 1902 was obtained. The total production in 1903 was 42,523 short tons, valued at $213,617. The total amount of lump fluorspar produced in 1903 was 37,288 tons, valued at $161,271. The average price per ton received for the lump feldspar was $4.23 per ton. The highest price received for the lump feldspar was $11.50, which was for the Arizona production; the lowest price recorded was $3 per ton, which was received for a portion of both the Kentucky and the Illinois products. The average price per ton received for ground feldspar was $9.99. Arizona had but one producer in 1903. If your deposit is favorably situated, and in commercial quantity, it may, probably, enter the field as one more producer.

Radium and Photography.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Please give me a reply in The Times to the following questions: (1) Describe the new metal, radium. (2) From what ores is it obtained? (3) Are there any deposits of such ores in the United States still open for investors? (4) Give other facts, if you have them, on the subject and oblige T. J. M.

Answer: (1) The substance radium has never been isolated, hence further answer to the question is superfluous. (2, 3 and 4) There are a great number of places in the United States where ores of the element can be obtained by investors and others. The ore referred to is carnotite, a double vanadate of uranium and potassium. Carnotite is found more abundantly than any of the other uranium minerals in the sandstone measures of Utah and in the Unaweep country, near Grand Junction, Colo. It is also found near the Uintah Indian reservation. There are nearly two hundred minerals carrying uranium, but few of them are of commercial value, and among the few are uraninite (pitchblende,) which is found carrying the oxides to a value of over 80 per cent., near Central City, Colo., all of which ore finds a ready sale. Carnotite and uraninite are the chief uranium minerals from which the salts of radium are formed. Autunite of Utah may be classed as a third important mineral, which mineral may be obtained in quantity, with low percentage of uranium phosphate in Southern Arizona. Carnotite occurs as a crystalline powder, intimately mixed with sand (quartzose.) It is of a canary-yellow color. Slightly soils and adheres to the fingers, and yields a most beautiful play of colors by the addition of nitric acid to the powdered mineral. By separating the silica, the concentrates, approximately, analyze: Vanadium oxide 20.12, uranium oxide 62.54, potassium 10.37, and water 5.95, percentages respectively. A radio-active photograph can be easily obtained from carnotite and without concentration, by taking two or three ounces of the mineral and placing it in a tin box evenly full. Now put tissue paper over the carnotite and paste it around the edges of the box. Your next step is to place a photographic plate in the lid of a pasteboard box, sensitized side up. Over this plate fit a piece of tissue paper and on the tissue paper covering the plate lay objects of metal, such as rings, keys, discs, etc. Next put the box containing the mineral over the metallic objects with tissue paper top over the metallic pieces. Cover all with another box and let the outfit so remain for 36 hours, then develop as you would an ordinary exposed plate. The sensitized plates for the uses as described are the ones known as "instantaneous." The carnotite can be repeatedly used, for the reason that the loss of radio-activity is, apparently, inappreciable.

Let Us Have Fewer Divorces.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] "The Star-Spangled Banner" is a beautiful song, it stirs the feelings of patriotism in every loyal soul, but "Home, Sweet Home," awakens a deeper and more beautiful sentiment in the heart of every good man and woman. There is no place like home. If the flag, or the home must go down let the flag go; but all the same, if the homes are kept sacred the flag and the country are safe. A country of homes is a good country. A man will fight and die if need be for his home but there are but few men who would die, or fight even for their boarding, or lodging-houses. We are not in favor of capital punishment, for murder, but if a woman has a home, and a husband who is a good provider, and has children growing up around her and yet yields her embraces to other men, than her husband, let her and her betrayer bid each other adieu on the scaffold. And then the man should be put to death who ruins a young girl. I would mete out more moderate punishment to young men or boys, in such cases; but men in middle life, or past middle life, should be shown no mercy in matters of this kind. At all hazards the homes of the land should be preserved and held in sacred honor. Wifehood and motherhood are the most honorable, the most beautiful, the most divine relations that any woman can occupy on earth. Divorces should be almost unknown, the homes should be undefiled, they should be as sacred as the cross on which the world's Redeemer gave up His life for us all. No more beautiful sentiments were ever known on earth than wife love, and mother love, and the love of God clusters close about the home of the loyal wife and mother as no place else on earth. A wrecked and ruined wife and mother and home is the most deplorable wreck and ruin that has ever overtaken any part of the world.

Wife love, mother love and home love, pure and undefiled, shine like a crown of glory and the angels are not far away when father and mother and children, in such a home, gather around the family alter and lift up their thoughts and hearts in prayer to the God of our homes. No love like mother love ever was known, and wife love, and home love go hand in hand with mother love. To wreck and ruin such a home is the basest crime of earth. Home, home, sweet, sweet home, be it ever so humble, there is no place like home!

COMMEMORATIVE STATUARY.

Monuments of Heroes of California History to Be Placed in Cemetery Overlooking Sea.

A project is under way to give Los Angeles a resting place for the dead that shall rival some of the most famous cemeteries of the Old World and surpass all but a few in America. An ideal site has been chosen in the old Dominguez Rancho, about nine miles out of the city and six miles from Long Beach on the Long Beach line. One hundred acres has been purchased on the highest point of a mesa, from which the surrounding country for many miles may be surveyed. A long stretch of the sea is seen on the south, and a number of small hamlets of the valley are as plainly to be seen. The site contains many small cañons and knolls, which will be utilized by an expert landscape gardener in beautifying the place.

It will be known as Ocean View Cemetery and it will contain monuments commemorative of the heroes of California history. St. Gaudens will be called upon to design the principal group for the entrance, and competition will be opened for plans for another large group. The place can be easily reached by funeral car, and is close to several small towns, as well as to Long Beach, which is at present practically without a cemetery. It is argued by the promoters that a cemetery well out of town is needed, since the rapid growth of the city is hedging in the other burial places.

The president of the new company is Roscoe Neil of Springfield, Mo., who lately came to Los Angeles. The secretary is Donaldson Brown, and the treasurer, Charles Compton. The company has offices in the Citizens' National Bank building.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

WOMAN IN TOILS AS GEM ROBBER.

ACCUSED OF GRAND LARCENY BY PASADENA WIDOWER.

Claims Prisoner Ran Away to Stockton With Jewels Worth Three Thousand Dollars and Which Had Belonged to His Wife—Board of Education Adopts New Course.

Office of The Times, No. 25 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Sept. 19.—Emma Howard, or Stokes, the woman who was arrested by Detective Freemah at Stockton yesterday on a charge of grand larceny, was arraigned before Justice Klamroth today and her hearing set for Friday. The woman is charged with having made away with jewelry to the value of $3000 which was left in her keeping by Henry Briggs of No. 190 Center street.

According to the story told by Briggs, he was boarding with Mrs. Howard at Santa Monica at the time his wife died. His wife was the owner of a valuable necklace and other jewels and after her death Mrs. Howard offered to take charge of them. Briggs agreed to this and handed them over. After securing possession of the jewels Mrs. Howard is alleged to have packed up and disappeared.

Mrs. Howard claims that the jewelry was given her as security for a small loan which she made Briggs and that she had no intention of stealing them. She denies that she ran away when she left Southern California and generally denies all of the allegations made by the prosecution.

The case is somewhat mixed up and some interesting developments are expected before the tangled skein is finally made straight.

CHINESE GOES FREE.

Tuen Gee Wong, a son of the Flowery Kingdom, came up before Justice Congdon today to explain how he happened to walk off with $5 belonging to another man, from the First National Bank on Monday. He was charged with larceny and had $50 on deposit as bail money, which he was anxious to get back. When asked to give his version of the affair he stated that he had really thought that the money belonged to him and that it was not until he had counted over his change that he found that he was ahead. He brought witnesses to show that he had always borne a good character and as he appeared anxious to atone for the wrong he had done, he was allowed to go free.

PLAN COMMERCIAL COURSE.

The Board of Education definitely announced this evening that a commercial course would be a part of the regular High School curriculum. Just what subjects will be embraced by the course have not been definitely announced, but Assistant Superintendent Hamilton is now at work drawing up a course which will probably be made public in the immediate future. The board has been discussing the advisability of adding the course for some time, but has been deterred heretofore owing to the lack of space. It is thought that temporary arrangements can be made, however, for the extra classes. There has been a large demand for such a course and it is anticipated that for the first year there will be more applicants for membership in the classes than can possibly be handled.

FIRES SHOT AT PROWLER.

An unknown man came "snooping" around the premises of W. R. Jackson at No. 420 North Pasadena avenue early this morning and as he appeared to have no very good reason for his presence the owner of the house took a shot at him. The man took to his heels and fled in haste. Mr. Jackson was awakened at 3 o'clock by the sound of some one tinkering at a front window. He immediately thought of burglars so, arming himself with a revolver, he started out to investigate. He found the man at work with a pen-knife on a front window. The man saw him at the same time so, rather than take any chances, Jackson began firing. The would-be burglar promptly took to his heels but dropped his pocket-knife in his anxiety to escape. The knife is in the possession of the police and they hope to be able to identify the owner of it.

MASQUE SKATING CARNIVAL.

The Union-street skating rink was crowded this evening on the occasion of the masked skating carnival. There were more than six hundred persons present and every seat in the spectators' section was occupied. Considerable originality was exhibited in the selection of the costumes and the floor presented a pretty appearance as the brilliantly-garbed skaters glided about. The prizes were carried off as follows: First prize for skating, lady, Miss Cecil Carr; first prize for skating, gentleman, Ralph Connor; first prize for fancy costume, lady, Miss Perkins; first prize for fancy costume, gentleman, Charles Drew; first prize, best two-stepper, lady, Miss Lulu May; first prize, best two-stepper, gentleman, Raymond Baker; first prize, comic costume, lady, Miss Ruth Milhorn; first prize, fancy costume, gentleman, H. L. Dickson.

TWO YOUNG MEN FINED.

Ransome and Smith, the two reckless young men who ran down an aged pedestrian at Lamanda Park last Sunday evening, were brought up for trial before Justice Congdon this morning and allowed to plead guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. They were fined $25 each and sentenced to serve thirty days in jail but the jail sentence was suspended during good behavior. The justice did not believe that they wilfully ran down the man and therefore made the sentence as light as possible. For a time it looked as though the men might have to stand trial on a more serious charge as their victim appeared to be seriously injured but he has taken a turn for the better and it is now thought that he will recover. The age of the victim and the fact that he suffered two broken ribs led to the belief that he might not survive his injuries.

CARD PARTY ENJOYED.

Mrs. John Wesley Traylor and Miss Mary Traylor were the hostesses yesterday afternoon at a card party at the Traylor home, No. 322 Elevado Drive. Hearts was the game for the afternoon. The drawing-room was decorated with clusters of pink bride's roses, and in the wide hall pink ivy geraniums were used, with a background of their own foliage. Deep red roses in the den lent a touch of vivid coloring. In the dining-room the color was pink, the centerpiece being a shower of carnations. The ices also carried out the color scheme of pink. Heart-shaped score cards were used to keep tally, and when the score was taken Miss Belle Brandenburg was found to be the winner of the first prize, a deck of cards in an embossed leather case. Miss Florence Doolittle was consoled by a heart-shaped box of bonbons. Among the guests present were Mrs. Ella S. Palmer, Mrs. John A. Traylor, Mrs. E. S. Hopkins, Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, Mrs. Neal K. Traylor, Miss Mabel Crossman, Vesta Edwards, May Rouk, Clara Ware, Gladys Gibbs, Edith Hill, Marjorie Davis, Mabel Corey, Belle Brandenburg, Florence Doolittle, Ethel Scudder, Jessie Voak, Lelia Traylor, Mary Traylor.

JOY TURNED TO MOURNING.

Unfortunate Illness of Miss Ella Piepenstock—Lot Wanted for New City Buildings.

OCEAN PARK, Sept. 19.—While viewing the beach bungalow that had been presented to her as a bridal present, Miss Ella Piepenstock suffered a hemorrhage and lies in a critical condition at the parental home on Hill street. It was only yesterday afternoon that the formal announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Piepenstock to Harry Miller was made. It was planned to celebrate the nuptials at the family home on Saturday evening of the present week and family and friends were happy and busy with the preparations for the social affair. But the home of gladness has been turned into one of mourning and the family and bridegroom that was to be are inconsolable in their grief.

The cash is in the treasury for the purchase of the ground, and the construction of such buildings as are deemed essential.

Edgar B. Young, whose death is just announced as having occurred at Palo Alto, was the son of Mrs. Mary H. Young of this beach.

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 19.—Cosy and convenient temporary tent quarters have been established in the shade of the eucalyptus trees of the Seventh-street park for the California Military Academy. This new educational institution opened today for the school year. Pupils were being enrolled and the lessons and drills in military tactics will be commenced tomorrow. There is a large recitation tent, with numerous dormitories and a dining hall and mess tent. Electric lights have been provided and water has been piped throughout the campus.

FIRES ARE DYING OUT.

Dense clouds of smoke today hid the up-coast mountains from view, but tonight faint lights and a muddy sky show that the forest fires on the Malibu are dying hard. A number of men went up the beach today to assist the fighters. It was found that Los Flores Cañon had escaped. No material damage was done in Carbon. The hottest blaze was farther up the coast, on the Malibu Rancho.

SAN DIMAS MANAGER STAYS.

SAN DIMAS, Sept. 19.—The directors of the San Dimas Lemon Association have prevailed upon Frank H. Harwood to remain as manager of the association. Harwood has been the manager of this association since its incorporation eight years ago. The business has grown till it is now the largest lemon packing-house in the world. Some time ago Harwood resigned, his resignation to take effect at the close of this fiscal year, so that he could move to Upland to take charge of his father's orchards there. There has always been the best of feeling between Harwood and the directors and the growers, his able management having gained him many friends. Harwood will now erect a $5000 bungalow and become a permanent resident of San Dimas.

On the east side of the first floor there is a reception-room, adjoining which is the sitting-room; a room for the matron, between which and the night nurses' sleeping-room is a lavatory, bath and toilet-room. A kitchen, pantry and dining-room occupy the west half of this floor. On the second floor will be seven sleeping-rooms. The cottage will be located at the southwest corner of Bonsall avenue and Sunset boulevard—just opposite the northern extremity of the hospital.

PURPLE SCALE DISAPPEARING.

Speaker at Farmers' Institute Meeting Gives Encouraging Address on Tree Fumigation.

WHITTIER, Sept. 19.—More than three hundred ranchers and their families enjoyed a basket picnic at the Whittier Citrus Company's packing-house yesterday. The picnic was given between the forenoon and afternoon sessions of the Farmers' Institute, and proved one of the most interesting features of the two days' programme. About fifty State school cadets served as waiters, and the cadet band rendered music.

The afternoon session was given over to "Cover Crops" and "Fumigation." The first was treated by James Mills of the Arlington Heights ranch at Riverside. J. W. Jeffrey of Los Angeles spoke of fumigation, detailing the history of the cyanide process and of the distillate spray. He gave the growers encouragement to believe that this year would see the last of the purple scale in many of the orchards.

Since April of this year 85,000 citrus trees have been fumigated in Los Angeles county, showing that most of the growers believed with Mr. Jeffrey that in fumigation lay the orchardist's help, at the present time there are twenty-eight fumigating outfits at work in this county.

"Lemon Growing" and "Citrus Diseases" were also subjects that received attention. At the concluding session Mrs. Basley, the poultry expert, gave a talk on "Poultry Raising."

AZUSA SAVED BY BACK-FIRE.

Foresight of the Town's Officials Prevents Great Loss of Property by Flames.

MONROVIA, Sept. 19.—Foresight of the Azusa town officials which prompted them four weeks ago to backfire the brush to the west of the town probably saved it from destruction yesterday when a fierce blaze swept from a mile beyond and threatened to reach the burned district into the fences and lumber yard on the exposed side. This is a particularly bad season for brush fires, and the one yesterday gathered force across the valley land. One hundred and fifty men were out to fight the fire should it advance to the town. When the surrounding territory was burned off it was not quite so dry as now and much stubbie was left. For a fourth of a mile the flames crept across this barren area. It was plain that if more fuel had been left Azusa would have been in serious danger.

A severe stubble fire swept fifty acres of the Baldwin ranch today and beautiful oaks south of Falling Leaf avenue and fine eucalyptus trees were badly scorched. The ground covered was that which had been cleared of barley in the spring and had grown up since in brush and dried until it burned like tinder. The big eucalyptus trees would be converted into torches as the flames ran up their dry bark, and about 6:30 in the afternoon Monrovia received a shower of light ashes that were carried up by the late breezes.

"LARK ELLEN" COMING.

The last appearance of Miss Ellen Beach Yaw on the Coast will be at Monrovia, on September 26. She will be heard here under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Church of the Immaculate Conception and appreciation is shown of the musical treat by a large sale of tickets. The concert will be given at the operahouse.

OHIO HAD THE CALL.

Ohio proved to have been a great producer of Christian young people at a poll of the States that occurred during a unique entertainment at the Club house last evening. At a gathering of the young people from the various churches the ones born in the different States gathered in the center of the room as the story of their State was read. The largest delegation was from the Buckeye State with Illinois and Iowa following closely. These, of course, were all small compared with the number of native sons and daughters present. Miss Jennie Adams wrote the interesting essay which formed the basis of the amusement and it was read by Rev. H. Russell Greaves.

VALUABLE MACHINERY BURNED.

Threshing Outfit at La Habra Takes Fire While in Operation and Is Entirely Destroyed.

LA HABRA, Sept. 19.—A fire which destroyed about $5000 worth of machinery occurred in the barley fields of the McNally ranch yesterday. The machinery was the thrashing outfit belonging to W. J. Hill of Buena Park. The thrashing crew was at work at the time the outfit caught fire. The cause of the blaze could not be ascertained.

BADLY INJURED BY A FALL.

T. L. Jackson of this place lies at Glendora, severely injured from the effects of a fall he received on Saturday. His wife and son, Ralph Jackson, went to the injured man yesterday. He is a carpenter, and while at work on a scaffolding lost his footing and fell, striking on his head. He at first made light of his injuries, but has since grown worse, his son telephoning to friends that his father's injuries were more severe than he had supposed.

WHITTIER'S SUBSTANTIAL GAIN.

Value of City Fixed at Nearly Two Millions and Tax Rate Reduced from Last Year.

WHITTIER, Sept. 19.—The members of the City Council have fixed the city tax rate as $1.61, as against $1.65 last year. The valuation of property, not including the railroad assessments or personal tax collected by the City Assessor, is $1,850,000, which is a substantial increase over last year. The levy for the waterworks bonds is reduced from 57 cents to 44 cents, and the library apportionment is increased from 8½ cents to 20 cents.

REBUILDING THE GAS WORKS.

As showing the growth of this city during the past three years, the rebuilding of the Whittier gas plant is noteworthy. When the plant was put in three years ago, the company considered that it was large enough for at least ten years. They are now completely rebuilding and enlarging it, and will put in a gas holder of five times the present capacity.

TWO AUTOISTS ARRESTED.

Venice Authorities Propose to Stop Fast Riding Through Their Streets.

VENICE, Sept. 19.—Anti-speed ordinances have had no impression on speed-mad drivers of benzine wagons, but after warning a couple of machines to slow up, and receiving the "marble heart," last night, Police Officer Cannon proved himself a sprinter of some ability. A curve in the road afforded him an opportunity to board one of the flying vehicles and he steered it into the soft sand. Men giving their names as F. J. Steele and A. W. Johnson, representing machines numbered 406 and 608 deposited cash bail for appearance at 3 o'clock before City Recorder Wheat. They failed to appear. They were charged with fast riding, assaulting an officer and resisting arrest.

FOOTPADS ROB A POLICEMAN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—Stephen De Val, a special policeman, of large stature, was held up on Alamitos avenue here, tonight, by two footpads, who relieved his of his pistol, about $35 in money and his two stars, one of which showed his authority as a game warden, and the other his special policemanship. De Val was on the way to his home in the northern part of the city when he was suddenly confronted, in the darkness by the footpads. One of the robbers commanded "hands up" and De Val complied quickly, as the highwaymen had pistols pointed at his head. The taller of the footpads kept De Val covered while the other searched his pockets. After the robbers had taken all the valuables in sight, they told De Val not to move for ten minutes on peril of his life, after which they ran away. After the ten minutes had expired De Val went to the police station and reported the robbery.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

HEARST'S PARTY GETS THE BOOT.

HEARST'S WORKERS REPUDIATED BY SAN BERNARDINO MEN.

Independent Republicans and Democrats of City Join Hands to Throttle the Octopus of Demagoguse—Even Delegate of Yellow Journal's Convention Changes His Faith.

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 19.—Independent Republicans and Democrats met in force at a meeting held last night in Dameron Hall for the purpose of putting a ticket, the avowed intention being to "down the bosses" of both parties and elect to office the best men in the community, no matter what their politics.

The first action of the meeting, after organizing with George Loring as chairman, and E. J. Gilbert as secretary, was to proceed to frown down the Hearst and to go on record in no manner, shape or form connected with Hearst, and to discountenance Hearst and his yellow journals. Several days prior to this meeting Hearst hirelings have been in town from Los Angeles, trying to work up sentiment in favor of the Independence League, but failure everywhere greeted them, even C. B. Risher, who was a delegate to the Hearst convention, having announced a change of faith since his return to town, and he it was who expressed his complete disgust at the methods employed by introducing the resolution at last night's meeting pledging the delegates against mixing in politics.

The fact that resolution carried unanimously the entire Highland and Redlands delegations would have left the meeting a body, and the Independence League would have been crushed out, the representatives from those cities being unalterably opposed to the Hearst machine.

The party did not complete its ticket at the first meeting, but left it in the hands of Judge Bledsoe for Superior Court Attorney, Dickson for County Auditor, J. H. Cox for County Clerk, Post (Rep.) for Surveyor, E. A. Rasor.

Other nominations were made as follows: F. W. Gregg of Redlands for assembly; William Fowler of Colton for Sheriff; James Kenyon of Highlands (Rep.) Tax Collector; Frank Rialto (Rep.) Recorder; A. J. Cramer of Mission (Dem.) Public Administrator.

MODJESKA RANCH SAVED BRAVELY.

MANY MEN FIGHT FIRE NEAR FAMOUS ARDEN RESIDENCE.

Trabuco Forest Reserve and Adjacent Section Threatened by the Flames and Citizens Generally Work Like Heroes to Prevent Great Loss of Property.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 19.—James Shaw, who was in town today from Trabuco stated that the mountain fire which started on the Dwight Whiting ranch Monday afternoon and destroyed 350 sacks of barley owned by William Waller, burned over a part of the Madame Modjeska ranch, and came near destroying Arden, the former home of the famous actress. The wind, which had been blowing from the northeast during the afternoon, changed, near nightfall, and came from the southwest, sweeping the flames over the hills in the direction of the Santiago Cañon, where the homestead is located. An alarm was given and all the men who live in the mountains in that vicinity responded, from the Sleeper & Adams grain farm and other ranches, some of them riding ten and fifteen miles on horseback to help put out the flames. Forest Rangers Walter Robinson and Burt Stevenson organized the men into gangs and, by plowing furrows and back-firing, managed to keep the flames from doing any great amount of damage. They finally got the fire under control about 10 o'clock at night. Had they not responded and worked as hard as they did, the fire would have swept through the Modjeska ranch and over a great part of the Trabuco forest reserve, which takes in the big, brushy mountains back of the Modjeska ranch. Robinson is of the opinion that the government will in some way compensate the men for their heroic service in saving property worth thousands of dollars.

HARVESTING LARGE CROPS.

The past thirty days have been busy ones for the farmers of the San Joaquin ranch. A small-sized army of men have been employed there during that time in harvesting and hauling unusually large crops of barley and beans to the warehouses.

Seven big bean thrashers have been at work for the past fifteen days, and the first of October will see the limas and black-eyes from the 7500 acres devoted to that product in the sacks and ready for market. The average yield is between thirteen and fourteen eighty-pound sacks to the acre, or, in other words, 4000 tons of beans from that ranch alone. There were about 2500 additional acres of beans grown on other ranches in different parts of the county this year, and the crop will total something over 5000 tons.

The market, which has been weak for the past few days, is now ruling firmer. The buyers are, at present, offering $61 a ton for black-eyes and $66 for limas.

HOMESEEKERS COMING.

George B. Brace and wife, former proprietors of the Allerton Hotel, returned to Santa Ana yesterday, after an eastern trip of several months' duration. Mr. Brace went East for the purpose of promoting the manufacture of a new farm gate he has recently patented. He traveled over Kansas, Iowa and South Dakota, and established factories in each State. During his absence Mr. Brace did considerable missionary work for Orange county and Santa Ana. He persuaded many of his old friends and neighbors to come West. Among those who have signified their intention of locating in this section is James Groat, a wealthy resident and former Mayor of Waterloo, Iowa. Mr. Groat and his wife will come to Santa Ana this winter, and have expressed their intention of locating here permanently. Judge Bowan and wife from the same place will also come here.

Ira Mahle, a cousin of A. R. Dresser, accompanied by his wife, will also come. A carload of Waterloo people came to Santa Ana last week, intending to make their homes here. John Jacobs, with a family of five members, and E. G. Barkow and family were among the number.

FIRST CARLOAD OF FRUIT.

The first carload of fruit from the J. E. Taylor cannery on East Fourth street is being loaded on the Santa Fé tracks today. The destination of the shipment is Kansas City, Mo. It will be distributed at that point on its arrival by J. E. Taylor, who looks after the eastern end of the business. Mr. Taylor has been at the cannery during the bulk of the fruit-packing season, but will leave for Kansas City the last of the week. A carload will be consigned to him at regular intervals at different points in his territory, as fast as he can make deliveries. The output from the popular local institution will be eight carloads this season.

MORE SPECIMENS WANTED.

J. A. Timmons, who owns a ten-acre tract of land southwest of town, in the vicinity of the J. T. Raitt place, has just added a couple of fine new specimens to the exhibit in the City Hall. He has a thirty-nine-pound wart Hubbard squash on the tables there which is hard to beat in the squash line. He also has a half-dozen large belledeuer apples, which are of extraordinary size. Mr. Wilson, secretary of the Chamber, will have them placed in a jar in preserving liquid and added to the permanent exhibit. The exhibit is short in the way of pumpkins and sweet potatoes. The secretary is anxious to have some of these, and any one who has a pumpkin or sweet potatoes of size suitable for exhibition purposes will oblige the Chamber of Commerce by bringing them to the exhibit room on the second floor of the City Hall.

SANTA ANA BREVITIES.

SAN DIEGO PIONEER DEAD.

Excitement Over the Finding of a Diamond at Mesa Grande—Ruling on Screen Law.

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 19.—Robert Pittock, a brother of H. L. Pittock of the Portland Oregonian, a resident of this city, for the past fifteen years, died yesterday, aged 77. For eleven years he has been a confirmed invalid. He crossed the plains in the company of his brother, H. L. Pittock, reached Portland, in 1853. He lived in Portland for thirty years, and was engaged in the wholesale and retail grocery trade. He leaves a widow, five sons and four daughters.

DIAMOND FOUND.

Mesa Grande people are excited over the finding near there of what is supposed to be a real diamond. The stone is very much harder than tourmalines or kunzite, specimens of these stones having been cut wit hthe alleged diamond. It has been predicted by scientists that diamonds would be found in that locality.

SAN DIEGO NOTES.

Yesterday was the hottest day in San Diego since November 8, 1904, the maximum temperature being 91, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

After a trial and acquittal in the City Justice Court and much ado by the police, the City Council has declared that John R. Seifert, one of the leading wholesale and retail liquor dealers in the city, is not violating the anti-screen ordinance. The City Attorney, after failing to secure a conviction in the courts, asked the Council to make an investigation and revoke the Seifert license.

The boat builders of the water front will oppose the granting of a franchise to H. E. Carse, the San Pedro boat builder, the contention being that it will drive them out of business.

Contractor Builds House on the Wrong Lot and Three Women Become Perturbed.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 19.—A real estate comedy of errors here has resulted in a contractor building a house on the wrong lot. Brown Kramer and Fred McKlee, two friends, bought two adjoining lots two years ago, promising each other to build homes on the property after their marriage. The other day Samuel Wilson, another young man, decided to get married, and bought a lot in the same block and arranged for Contractor Crabtree to erect a cottage. Mrs. McKlee visited the locality yesterday, and was surprised to see a cottage completed on the Brown Kramer lot. When informed that the residence was for Wilson, she was provoked, owing to the promise between her husband and Kramer. She informed her husband, who lost no time seeking up Mrs. Brown Kramer. Kramer is in Arizona, and his wife wired him a tart telegram. Back came came the reply that he had not sold. A hasty search of the records disclosed that Crabtree has completed the residence on the wrong lot.

In law the house belongs to Brown Kramer, and he does not have to pay a penny for it, either. Wilson is clamoring for a new home to which to take his bride-to-be, and does not like the prospect of having to postpone his marriage or take his wife to a cottage not their own.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Trading in produce circles has been hampered considerably the last few days on account of the warm weather. The demand for vegetables and fruits has been almost featureless.

Eggs and butter showed no change. The undertone of both was satisfactory.

Potatoes and onions were easy. The fruit market had an improved tone, and nearly all of the various kinds were in good demand. Fancy Bartlett pears advanced to 1.75.

Watermelons and cantaloupes were in good request at unaltered prices. Casaba melons dropped to 1.75@2.00 per crate. Muscat grapes are increasing in value; yesterday they brought 60@75. Tokays are steady at 1.25. Cornichons are scarce at 1.00.

Fewer tomatoes went to the canneries yesterday than for some time. Squash now brings 20. Other changes were narrow.

Plenty of fish came in yesterday from San Diego. The lobster market was demoralized on account of the warm weather. Quantities of lobsters were going into cold storage.

Broilers, young roosters, light and heavy hens, and turkeys were advanced one cent on Change yesterday. The Jewish New Year began last evening and heavy demands are expected on poultry while it lasts.

The receipts of produce as reported for yesterday's exchange were as follows: Eggs, 167 cases; butter, 14,682 lbs.; cheese, hard, 7[illegible] lbs.; potatoes, 540 sacks; onions, 95 sacks; beans, 39 sacks; sweet potatoes, 200 sacks.

NEW YORK MARKET.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Stocks were under pressure today which, while not severe, was persistent and at considerable expense of values. There were occasional signs of support in the market, but an apparent indisposition to extend holdings and an unwillingness to follow up the occasional rallies after the desired effect had been secured of checking the downward course of prices. The money situation came into more prominence again, although there was continued discussion of the wide bearing of the acquisition of the Baltimore & Ohio by the Union Pacific. The market failed to receive any stimulation from this discussion, and some anxiety was felt over the possible consequence to values of so far-reaching a readjustment of existing railroad policies as is implied in the new departure by the Union Pacific. Also the manner of financing the purchase of the Baltimore & Ohio stock, which is admittedly under the control, is a matter of great interest to Wall street. Demands are overhanging the money market. For this reason, plausibility was given to the suggestion that an exchange of the Pennsylvania's B. & O. holdings for Union Pacific's Atchison holdings would facilitate the financing of the project and would be in line with the new policy outlined by Mr. Harriman, a transcontinental outlet for Pennsylvania within its own control. The question of capital needs was given added force by the announcement of an issue of nearly $30,000,000 of New York Central's $100,000,000 of authorized stock and by the plan for $10,000,000 of the subsidiary Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis stock. An early issue of this stock has been clearly foreseen in view of the defined financing needs of the company in numerous improvement works. But Wall street temper is affected by renewed presentation of such topics in the light of current conditions. Special attention was directed today to the mercantile paper market. Rates ruling at above 6 per cent. and up to 7 per cent. for the finest grades of mercantile paper were pointed to as marking a condition not helpful to the progress of business affairs and as higher than seems to be warranted by the actual volume of activity in the commercial world itself. Opinions in this sense were heard amongst bankers in Wall street, and dissatisfaction with the present rates was indicated under the existing speculative employment of money with such conditions existing. It was the supposition of some observers of the market that money pressure from banking quarters was being brought to bear on speculative borrowers to refrain from buying their demands. A further rise in the Bank of England's rate tomorrow is probable, and the world-wide upward tendency of money rates and the approach of the period of the October settlements were urged today as calling to caution. In other quarters, it was urged that the extension of the money stringency to Continental centers was the result of the coincidence of the real shortage of supplies, and a call upon the treasury authorities to use further measures of relief. The arrival today of $10,000,000 in gold shipments represents funds which have been at the disposal of the banks by deposit of government funds, pending their arrival, which are now to be covered back into the treasury. Having served the purpose of money market relief until the gold arrived, the government's funds are again available for further use. It is not probable that pressure will be lacking towards urging upon the treasury Department such renewed use of the government supplies in the money market. Something was made, today, of possible additions to loanable funds Friday by the issuance of administration orders on estate in which money loans are an important element. Speculative liquidation was most marked in Reading, in accordance with other plans in the advance. But selling was quite general throughout the list, and the declines more than usual. The closing prices showed some recovery from the lowest, but covering by room shorts had much to do with the rally, and the closing was irregular. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,445,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Money—On call, strong, 3@7% per cent.; ruling rate, 6 per cent.; closing bid and offered 3 per cent. Time loans strong, 60 and 90 days, 7@8 per cent.; 6 months, 6%@7 per cent.
